Consumer Choice Christopher T. Erb, 2017-12-02 The United States health care system is unique among those of other developed economies most significantly because health care is not a legal right in the United States Instead it is considered an employee benefit and a privilege unless one is over age 65 or of low income The United States is the only developed country without some form of universal health care Contributors to this volume represent an interdisciplinary group of academics practitioners and service delivery providers The volume begins with a general examination of the politics of health and social welfare in the United States It then focuses on the importance and role of consumers in the U S economy and dilemmas associated with promoting consumer choice It explores policy issues and challenges in three specific areas controlling health care costs and protecting choice with respect to health care the major challenges to informed choice in health care and barriers to effective health care service delivery Contributors explore changes and reforms that have been introduced within public and privately financed systems over the past ten years

Consumer Choice examines in a timely and efficient manner critical social and health policy issues nationally and internationally and the major challenges that face informed choice in health care and social policy Policymakers health care officials and medical personnel in the United States and other countries will find this volume highly informative

Nominations of Philip D. Winn, John J. Knapp, Emanuel S. Savas, and Arthur E. Teele, Jr., United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs, 1981 The Experimenting Society William N. Dunn, 2024-11-01 An experimenting society is one in which policy relevant knowledge is created It is then critically assessed and communicated in real life or natural settings with the aim of discovering new forms of public action to improve the problem solving capacities of society This latest volume of the distinguished Policy Studies Review Annual series probes evaluates and augments the work of Donald T Campbell on an experimental societies A basic assumption of this volume is that Campbell s perspective supplies a useful way to address increasingly complex and seemingly unmanageable problems facing the United States and other postindustrial societies This volume is also the fourteenth festschrift to be issued by Transaction The focus is on theoretical as well as practical options for creating an experimenting society The rationale for this focus is the belief increasingly shared in the social science and policy making communities alike that researchers are essentially ignorant about how to solve many of the most pressing larger problems of this epoch This frank recognition of ignorance is a prerequisite of genuine scientific and professional curiosity without which knowledge gains are next to impossible to achieve and a precondition of an experimenting society Contributors to this original volume include Steve Fuller Duncan MacRae Jr Anthony S Bryk Robert A Beauregard Rita Mae Kelly Peter Gregware Burkart Holzner B Guy Peters C West Churchman and Ian I Mitroff Their multidisciplinary competencies are at once philosophical methodological and substantive They address such questions as What new or bold policies are available in domains such as education science and urban development In what ways can theoretical knowledge and practical action be fused so as to illuminate or alleviate policy problems What should be done Included are excerpts from Campbell s foundational paper The Experimenting Society as well as a recent article entitled Methods for the Experimenting Society which circulated in unpublished form for many years An unusual feature of the book is Campbell s responses to those who have addressed his work with candor and intelligence It will be of interest to policy studies scholars sociologists and social scientists Implementation Realities and Evaluation Design Milbrey Wallin McLaughlin, 1984
