Maestri of Political Science

Donatella Campus, Gianfranco Pasquino, Martin Bull, 2011-06-01

This book continues the editors' work started in the volume Masters of Political Science of highlighting and re-evaluating the contributions of the most important political scientists who have gone before. Its basis is the belief that the future development and sophistication of the discipline will benefit from a critical understanding of the works of early political giants whose contributions are presented and analysed. Gabriel A. Almond, Raymond Aron, Philip Converse, Maurice Duverger, Stanley Hoffmann, Paul Lazarsfeld, Arend Lijphart, Elinor Ostrom, William H. Riker, Stein Rokkan, and Susan Strange. The editors review and consider the contributions of these maestri to the study of contemporary democracy, political culture, electoral systems, political communication, the transformation of capitalism, and state formation in Europe. Maestri of Political Science is aimed not only at a new generation of political scientists but is a valuable opportunity for established scholars to see new light through old windows.

Development Theory David Lehmann, 2010-11-26

The studies in this book, first published in 1979, offer an all-encompassing contemporary critique of the sociology, politics, and economics of development as they are conventionally taught and disseminated. They also seek to outline the beginnings of a new approach while not sparing from criticism the simplistic or contemporary radical theories. The reissue will prove of significant interest to the teaching of development studies at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

Passion, Craft, and Method in Comparative

Politics Gerardo L. Munck, Richard Snyder, 2007-05-30. In the first collection of interviews with the most prominent scholars in comparative politics since World War II, Gerardo L. Munck and Richard Snyder trace key developments in the field during the twentieth century. Organized around a broad set of themes: intellectual formation and training, major works and ideas, the craft and tools of research, colleagues, collaborators, and students, and the past and future of comparative politics, these in-depth interviews offer unique and candid reflections that bring the research process to life and shed light on the human dimension of scholarship. Giving voice to scholars who practice their craft in different ways yet share a passion for knowledge about global politics, Passion, Craft, and Method in Comparative Politics offers a wealth of insights into contemporary debates about the state of knowledge in comparative politics and the future of the field. Margaret Keck, Johns Hopkins University.
