Century* Yaacov Shimoni, Evyatar Levine, 1972 Government and Society in Rural Palestine, 1920-1948 Ylana Miller, 2014-07-03 In 1947 Arabs made up two thirds of the population of Palestine and they owned most of its cultivable land Why then did they lose their homes and land to a relatively small Jewish community just emerging from the shocks of World War II Did the Palestinians lose their homeland because they were backward primitive and reactionary Or was Israel the product of persistent victimization of Palestinian Arabs by an imperialist power which supported Zionist colonization Did the Palestinians sell each other out Or were they helpless sufferers in the face of a sophisticated enemy with endless resources Too often discussions of Palestine are couched in such rhetorical language based on the assumption that either Jews or Arabs are morally to blame for historical realities This study seeks to go beyond attributions of responsibility to investigate the concrete conditions which determined and limited Palestinian Arab actions between 1920 and 1948 It was during that period while Great Britain governed the area under a League of Nations mandate that Palestine both emerged and disappeared as a modern political entity Many studies of Palestinian Arab nationalism have looked to Zionism as the primary agent of change in the region Miller assumes the impact of Jewish settlement but goes beyond these earlier studies to explore the way in which policies of the Palestine government affected the daily lives of villagers the majority of the population and their understanding of the changes occurring around them In this way what emerges is a detailed analysis of the influence for good or ill that government policy had on village community life Based largely on archival sources never before used this work allows the reader to gain a deeper appreciation of the internal life of the rural community which had previously received relatively little attention Understanding the experiences of Palestinians before 1948 helps us to comprehend immeasurably better the continuity of movements for Palestinian statehood as well as the continuing tensions and problems on the West Bank today Middle East, the Strategic Hub Army Library (U.S.), 1978 Reforging a Forgotten History: Iraq and the Assyrians in the Twentieth Century Sargon Donabed, 2015-02-01 Who are the Assyrians and what role did they play in shaping modern Iraq Were they simply bystanders victims of collateral damage who played a passive role in the history of Iraq And how have they negotiated their position throughout various periods of Iraq s state building processes This book details the narrative and history of Iraq in the 20th century and reinserts the Assyrian experience as an integral part of Iraq s broader contemporary historiography It is the first comprehensive account to contextualize this native people s experience alongside the developmental processes of the modern Iraqi state Using primary and secondary data this book offers a nuanced exploration of the dynamics that have affected and determined the trajectory of the Assyrians experience in 20th century Iraq
