Political Conflict And Constitutional Change In Puerto Rico:

Political Conflict and Constitutional Change in Puerto Rico, 1898-1952 Alfredo Montalvo-Barbot, 1997-11-20 The analysis of the constitutional development of Puerto Rico has been dominated by two major perspectives political gradualism and classical colonialism Gradualist analysis suggests that the constitutional development of Puerto Rico followed a pattern of gradual progression toward the goal of increasing self government A variant of this approach views the creation of particular constitutional laws for Puerto Rico as the result of United States experimentation in colonial policy making The classical colonialism approach presents the Puerto Rican constitutional laws as instruments of economic and military exploitation of Puerto Rico Both approaches oversimplify the social complexity of those involved in the creation of constitutional laws This book provides an alternative view which recognizes the role of social conflicts and social contradictions in the development of the constitutional laws of Puerto Rico

Handbook Of Research On The International Relations Of Latin America And The Caribbean G. Pope Atkins, 2018-02-12 The study of Latin American and Caribbean international relations has a long evolution both within the development of international relations as a general academic undertaking and in terms of the particular characteristics that distinguish the approaches taken by scholars in the field This handbook provides a thorough multidisciplinary reference guide to the literature on the various elements of the international relations of Latin America and the Caribbean Citing over 1600 sources that date from the nineteenth century to the present with emphasis on recent decades the volume's analytic essays trace the evolution of research in terms of concepts issues and themes The Handbook is a companion volume to Atkins Latin America and the Caribbean in the International System Fourth Edition but also serves as an invaluable stand alone reference volume for students scholars researchers journalists and practitioners both official and private

Puerto Rico's Constitutional Paradox Jorge M Farinacci-Fernós, 2023-02-23 This book explains how the People of Puerto Rico managed to adopt a constitution whose content and process were both original and colonialist participatory and undemocratic as well as progressive and anticlimactic It looks in detail at the rich contradictions of the Puerto Rican constitutional experience focusing on the history and content of the 1952 Constitution This constitution is the only constitutional document written by the Puerto Rican People themselves after more than 500 years of Spanish and US colonialism By exploring Puerto Rico's unique history and constitutional experience the book shines a spotlight on key emerging themes of comparative constitutional studies in this area state constitutionalism the persistence of colonial relationships in the Caribbean and the continued development of constitutionalism in Latin America The book delves deep into the particular experience of Puerto Rican constitutionalism which combines elements of colonialism democratic tensions and progressive policies It explains how these features converge in a constitutional project that has endured for 70 years and continues its contradictory development It considers issues such as the island's colonial history including its conflicting relationship with democratic values and the constant presence of social movements and their struggles It also explores the content of the 1952 Constitution focusing on its progressive substantive policy particularly its rights provisions its amendment procedures and the governmental structure it set up

Negotiating Decolonization in the United Nations Vrushali Patil, 2007-11-13 Combining discourse and comparative historical methods of analysis this book explores how colonialists and anti colonialists renegotiated transnational power relationships within the debates on decolonization in the United Nations from 1946-1960 Shrewdly bringing together Sociology Women's Studies History and Postcolonial Studies it is interested in the following questions how are modern constructions of gender and race forged in transnational colonial as well as postcolonial processes How did they emerge in and contribute to such processes during the colonial era Specifically how did they shape colonialist constructions of space identity and international community How has this relationship shifted with legal decolonization
