Radical Psalmist:

The Conflict Between Faith and Experience, and the Shape of Psalms 73-83 Stephen J. Smith, 2022-06-16 Stephen J. Smith enters the lively field of editorial criticism of the Hebrew Psalter or Psalterexegese with this detailed investigation into the final form of Psalms 73-83. In the book he engages scholarly disagreements over this collection's structure, the degree and nature of its literary unity, and the primary theological message it communicates. Smith argues that the sequence of Psalms 73-82 and possibly 83 has a deliberate design that reflects a sustained focus on addressing and resolving a multidimensional collision between faith, i.e., core Israelite beliefs about God, and experience, i.e., the individual community's lived experience of God that was precipitated by God's prolonged absence in the Temple's destruction c. 586-587 BCE. Parting ways with previous scholarship, Smith contends that a recursive organizing principle rooted in biblical parallelism structures the collection. Over the book's nine chapters, he makes the case that the editor's grouped its psalms into two major blocks, 74-78/79-82, of two sub-groupings each, 74-76/77-78/79-82/80-81, in order to develop a single topic in multiple dimensions: the severe threat that God's prolonged absence in the temple's destruction posed to the ongoing viability of various core Israelite beliefs about God; most fundamentally, God's goodness. Smith makes the case that the collection is shaped to resolve this crisis by bolstering the reader's confidence in and commitment to these beliefs in the face of their apparent failure. Prophetic Song Michael P.

Kuczynski, 2016-11-11. A study of the Psalter's influence on the language of prescription and proscription, injunction, command, censure, reproof, and other ethical instruction in late medieval England, as well as exegesis and meditation that clearly had a homiletic or polemic bias. Among the themes is the distinction between the private and public use the Psalms were put to, and the deliberate blurring of that distinction to illustrate the unity between individual salvation and the reform of society.
