Raincoast Chronicles 12:

Raincoast Chronicles 23 Peter A. Robson, 2015-04-25 When the first edition of Raincoast Chronicles was produced by a couple of novice publishers in the unlikely location of Pender Harbour in 1972 it boldly announced that it was going to put BC character on the record Printed in sepia ink and decorated with the rococo flourishes characteristic of that extravagant era the unclassifiable journal cum serial book about life on the BC coast struck a nerve and in time became something very close to what it set out to be a touchstone of British Columbia identity Soon the term Raincoast which had been coined by the editors was appearing on boats puppet theatres interior decorating firms and at least one other publishing enterprise Raincoast Chronicles also created another publishing enterprise Harbour Publishing Many of the stories that started out as articles in the Chronicles grew into books and so the White family was more or less forced to get into book publishing to deal with them That undertaking went on to publish some six hundred books and counting about every possible aspect of BC and in 2014 celebrated its fortieth anniversary in the biz To honour that occasion this special double issue of Raincoast Chronicles takes a tour down memory lane selecting a trove of the most outstanding stories in all those Harbour books and republishing them in one volume Here are some of Canada's most exciting and iconic writers Al Purdy Anne Cameron Edith Iglauer Patrick Lane and Grant Lawrence to start a long list Here also are stories of disasters at sea scarcely believable bush plane feats eerie events at coastal ghost towns and a First Nations elder who has seen so many sasquatches he finds them sort of boring Full of great drawings and photos this jumbo anniversary edition of Raincoast Chronicles is a feast of great Pacific Northwest storytelling

Raincoast Chronicles 25 Alan Haig-Brown, 2025-05-13 This 25th edition of Raincoast Chronicles intertwines Alan Haig Brown's experiences of his formative years as a deckhand on a We Wai Kai seiner with the historical and cultural context of BC's commercial fishing industry In Raincoast Chronicles 25 Haig Brown recounts his formative years as a deckhand in the 1960s and early 70s on a fishing boat run by the We Wai Kai family he married into as a teenager The history of commercial fishing and of British Columbia itself in all its twisting relations with Indigenous peoples is mirrored in Haig Brown's vivid account of life aboard where there are no typical days despite the tightly choreographed tasks and immense local knowledge required by this ever risky business Recalling dancing fingers deftly untangling purse seine nets the delicious salmon stews and huckleberry pies Mitzi Assu whipped up from a cramped galley and the crew's navigation skills in facing dangerous tide rips Haig Brown beautifully captures the daily rhythms challenges and camaraderie of life on the fishing boat from a decade spent immersed in the traditions of the We Wai Kai people under the remarkable skipper Herb Assu It was the Assu family that gave Haig Brown the experience that has led him to understand the harmony and sustainability of the traditional Indigenous approach to the environment Now an experienced international marine journalist Haig Brown adds historical context to the narrative providing a nuanced view of the interplay between Indigenous communities and the commercial fishing industry Illustrated with black and white photographs mostly by Vicki Assu his wife

Andrea Geiger,2022-03-15 Making a vital contribution to our understanding of North American borderlands history through its examination of the northernmost stretches of the U S Canada border Andrea Geiger highlights the role that the North Pacific borderlands played in the construction of race and citizenship on both sides of the international border from 1867 when the United States acquired Russia s interests in Alaska through the end of World War II Imperial national provincial territorial reserve and municipal borders worked together to create a dynamic legal landscape that both Indigenous and non Indigenous people negotiated in myriad ways as they traversed these borderlands Adventurers prospectors laborers and settlers from Europe Canada the United States Latin America and Asia made and remade themselves as they crossed from one jurisdiction to another Within this broader framework Geiger pays particular attention to the ways in which Japanese migrants and the Indigenous people who had made this borderlands region their home for millennia Tlingit Haida and Tsimshian among others negotiated the web of intersecting boundaries that emerged over time charting the ways in which they infused these reconfigured national provincial and territorial spaces with new meanings
