Professional Learning Through Transitions and Transformations Judy Williams,Mike Hayler,2015-10-09 Through a narrative inquiry approach this book examines the personal professional journeys of teacher educators who have undertaken self studies and or researched the professional development of teacher educators The theme of the book is how change through professional transitions and transformations and notably through self study research has shaped the professional identities and practices of these teacher educators Each chapter is an exploration of how the author s became teacher educators in relation to personal and or professional transitions such as transitioning from teacher to teacher educator moving between different institutional and geographic contexts or from changes in philosophical policy and or pedagogical understandings over time Each narrative draws on the author s self study experience and develops their knowledge further by presenting the wisdom they have gained over their career as teacher educators The book concludes with a discussion of the connections between the diverse experiences of the authors and what can be learned from their accumulated wisdom about what it means to become a teacher educator in a dynamic and ever changing educational landscape

Becoming a Teacher Educator Anja Swennen,Marcel van der Klink,2008-11-06 Becoming a Teacher Educator is an impressive book for teacher educators who want to be informed about the latest views and practices of their profession It is the first book that addresses a range of topics related to the work of teacher educators the induction of teacher educators and their further professional development Becoming a Teacher Educator has a practical focus and it provides theoretical insights experiences of experts and practical recommendations The book is rooted in the Association of Teacher Education in Europe ATEE and many of the chapters are written by authors who are active members of the ATEE Researchers and practitioners from different parts of Europe and beyond joined their efforts to write a book that is truly international and combines research practice and reflection Becoming a Teacher Educator is essential reading for novice teacher educators as well as for experienced teacher educators who want to keep up with the latest insights in their profession This book provides a guide for those who supervise novice and experienced teacher educators and for various professionals who are responsible for the professional development of teacher educators There is a growing need for evidence based resources made available to future teacher educators Since a learning society requires new sets of competencies of the main actors we are most in want of knowledgeable teacher educators that support the professional development of their student teachers This book fits the actual demands Dr Joost Lowyck Professor Emeritus former director of the Teacher Education Institute Leuven University This is an original book in a very important area The editors define the concept of teacher educator widely and I think therefore that the book is relevant for schools higher education and education authorities of all kinds The authorship and theme have wide relevance across Europe Australasia and North America Prof Bob Moon Professor in Education Teaching Studies Department of Education Open University UK The book highlights that while the current global focus is very much on the need to educate sufficient and highly qualified teachers little political focus is given to those who teach the teachers What makes this book distinctive for all engaged in teacher education whether experienced or novice is that it allows the spotlight on those who teach the teachers and the opportunity for teacher educators to discuss debate and seriously examine themselves as a profession Simone White Deakin University Australia

Mentoring in Education Cedric Cullingford, 2016-04-22 Mentoring has become a hot topic in a number of professional spheres in recent years but its most important and longest established location is in education However this volume is the first wide ranging academic critique of the concept and its application Offering both a critical and a practical stance the authors examine the historical and cultural aspects of mentoring and the motivations behind it They also explore the effects on the individuals involved and on the system and examine the different approaches to the idea and implementation of mentoring Drawing contributions from Europe the USA and the Middle East this work considers a wide range of empirical studies of mentoring from those countries that have invested in it including case studies and analyses of current practice The book makes a major contribution not only on account of the international perspective it provides but also through analysis of cases in order to establish the difference between the much vaunted theoretical advantages promoted by policy makers and the everyday realities and complexities that arise in a scheme entirely dependent on personal relationships
