Shaping the New World Eric Nellis, 2013-07-15 Between 1500 and the middle of the nineteenth century some 12.5 million slaves were sent as bonded labour from Africa to the European settlements in the Americas. Shaping the New World introduces students to the origins, growth and consolidation of African slavery in the Americas and race-based slavery's impact on the economic, social and cultural development of the New World. While the book explores the idea of the African slave as a tool in the formation of new American societies, it also acknowledges the culture, humanity and importance of the slave as a person and highlights the role of women in slave societies. Serving as the third book in the UTP/CHA International Themes and Issues Series, Shaping the New World introduces readers to the topic of African slavery in the New World from a comparative perspective, specifically focusing on the English, French, Spanish, Portuguese and Dutch slave systems.

Shaping the Story, 2019-04-09 Current career counselling needs a shift away from the practice of modern counselling approaches and narrative therapy is likely to be particularly appropriate since it is part of the culture and way of life of the majority of our clients. For the very first time, current approaches have been brought together in one publication. Eminent scholars including Larry Cochran, Mark Savickas and Norm Amundson, Paul Hartung and John Winslade contributed to the publication. Personal narratives of some exceptionally eminent people, including Robert Sternberg, are also included. The publication is concluded by Reuven Bar-On and Maurice Elias, who delineate the connection between storied counselling and social and emotional learning. This book provides a priceless resource for scholars, academics, researchers, psychologists, teachers and clients. It critically analyses germane questions such as: How vital and feasible is it to build on life stories in career counselling? It examines the theoretical underpinnings and practical applications of hermeneutic, narrative, postmodern and constructivist approaches to career counselling, provides practical guidelines on the practice of narrative counselling in different contexts, presents ideas on how to engage clients actively, suggests ways of using life story counselling, including the Career Story Interview, to produce new identities for career practice. Environmental Health Perspectives, 1993

Gauss's Disquisitiones Arithmeticae Catherine Goldstein,Norbert Schappacher,Joachim Schwermer,2007-02-03 Since its publication C F Gauss s Disquisitiones Arithmeticae 1801 has acquired an almost mythical reputation standing as an ideal of exposition in notation problems and methods as a model of organisation and theory building and as a source of mathematical inspiration Eighteen authors mathematicians historians philosophers have collaborated in this volume to assess the impact of the Disquisitiones in the two centuries since its publication Christians Shaping Identity from the Roman Empire to Byzantium Geoffrey Dunn, Wendy Mayer, 2015-07-14 The essays collected in Christians Shaping Identity celebrate Pauline Allen's significant contribution to early Christian late antique and Byzantine studies especially concerning bishops heresy orthodoxy and christology Covering the period from earliest Christianity to middle Byzantium the first eighteen essays explore the varied ways in which Christians constructed their own identity and that of the society around them A final four essays explore the same theme within Roman Catholicism and oriental Christianity in the late 19th to 21st centuries with particular attention to the subtle relationships between the shaping of the early Christian past and the moulding of Christian identity today Among the many leading scholars represented are Averil Cameron and Elizabeth A Clark Shaping the Journey Daniel Ethan Harris, 2025-08-21 How do the theological impulses of evangelical pietism and contemplative monasticism converge in the modern spiritual formation movement Shaping the Journey brings John Wesley and Thomas Merton into critical dialogue examining their distinct yet complementary contributions to Christian spirituality With Wesleyan evangelicalism as a thesis and Mertonian monasticism as antithesis this study argues that the spiritual formation movement represents a meaningful synthesis of these traditions Central to this synthesis is the work of M Robert Mulholland Jr whose integrative vision of spiritual formation clearly reflects the influences of Wesley and Merton and the evangelical and monastic traditions they represent Engaging history theology and spirituality this work offers a vital resource for understanding the roots and trajectory of Christian spiritual formation

Bioethics in Perspective Scott Mann, 2010-09-06 In Bioethics in Perspective Scott Mann demonstrates the importance of issues of corporate power global inequality and sustainability in shaping health outcomes around the world The text develops a comprehensive ethical and practical critique of the neoliberal economic ideas which have guided policy in the English speaking world It explores the consequences of such policies for health and healthcare around the world in terms of increasing health inequalities serious food and water shortages inadequate health care provision and the marketing of dangerous and unnecessary drugs With clear proposals for political and economic reform to effectively address these problems Bioethics in Perspective provides an important counterbalance to much conventional commentary on bioethics It takes readers with little or no prior knowledge of ethics economics or medicine quickly and easily into advanced debates and discussions about the causes and consequences of health and illness around the world Paul Cardinal Cullen and the Shaping of Modern Irish Catholicism Desmond Bowen, 2006-01-01 Paul Cullen 1803-78 was the outstanding figure in Irish history between the death of Daniel O Connell and the rise of Charles Stewart Parnell Yet this powerful prelate remains an enigmatic figure This new study of his career sets out to reveal the real nature of his achievements in putting his stamp so indelibly on the Irish Catholic Church After several years spent in Rome at a time when the papal states were under constant attack Cullen was sent back to Ireland as Archbishop of Armagh and subsequently of Dublin He had been charged with reorganizing the Catholic Church in his native country a task which brought him into conflict with the authorities many of his fellow bishops and frequently nationalist opinion The first Irishman to be made a cardinal he played a leading part in securing the declaration of papal infallibility from the First Vatican Council 1870 Cardinal Cullen has not generally been well treated by historians A brilliant scholar whose intelligence was never underestimated by contemporaries he has been dismissed as an industrious mediocrity A tough minded indefatigable political tactician he has nevertheless been described as a world denying spiritual leader Cullen was the most devoted of papal servants yet he was accused of preferring the principles of Irish nationalism to the opinions of his friend Pius IX Generations of Irish nationalist historians however have taken a different view seeing the leading Irish churchman of the nineteenth century as a tool of the British government In Paul Cardinal Cullen and the Shaping of Modern Irish Catholicism Desmond Bowen shows the true purpose of Cullen's mission An Ultramontanist of the most uncompromising type a Roman of the Romans neither the aspirations of the Irish nationalists nor the concerns of British governments were of primary importance to him The mind and accomplishments of this most reserved and complex of men can be understood only in his total dedication to the mission of the papacy as he interpreted it during a time of crisis for the Catholic Church throughout Europe Shaping North America James E.
