Residue Reviews Francis A. Gunther, Jane Davies Gunther, 2012-12-06 Worldwide concern in scientific industrial and governmental communities over traces of toxic chemicals in foodstuffs and in both abiotic and biotic environments has justified the present triumvirate of specialized publications in this field comprehensive reviews rapidly published progress reports and archival documentations These three publications are integrated and scheduled to provide in international communication the coherency essential for nonduplicative and current progress in a field as dynamic and complex as environmental contamination and toxicology Until now there has been no journal or other publication series reserved exclusively for the diversified literature on toxic chemicals in our foods our feeds our geographical surroundings our domestic animals our wild life and ourselves Around the world immense efforts and many talents have been mobilized to technical and other evaluations of nature's local magnitudes fates and toxicology of the persisting residues of these chemicals loosed upon the world Among the sequelae of this broad new emphasis has been an inescapable need for an articulated set of authoritative publications where one could expect to find the latest important world literature produced by this emerging area of science together with documentation of pertinent ancillary legislation

Pesticides, Organic Contaminants, and Pathogens in Air James N. Seiber, Thomas M. Cahill, 2021-10-07 The air is an important but largely unrecognized source of contaminant fate in the environment including transport of pesticides and contaminants to nontarget areas and exposures for people and wildlife This book summarizes and places in perspective the potential transport transformation and health implications of pesticides and contaminants in air including the air we breathe It delves into the hypothesis that the atmosphere is the most significant environmental compartment affecting the overall transport and fate of many classes of environmental contaminants The authors draw parallels between sampling analysis and impact of airborne toxics and particulate matter with the COVID 19 pandemic Airborne viruses and fine particulate matter which are of similar size have remarkable parallels in how they are transmitted and accumulated in the respiratory tract FEATURES Assesses exposures of people and wildlife to airborne chemicals Includes case study applications with relevant data summarized for pesticides and contaminants in air Discusses approaches to modeling pesticides and contaminants dispersion and fate in air Includes an assessment of the physicochemical properties of pesticides and contaminants that influence sampling and atmospheric mobility and fate The authors are global experts in air contaminant research and this book is well organized and helpful for people interested in regulatory health and other topics related to pesticides and contaminants in air James N Seiber is a Professor Emeritus at the University of California Davis Thomas M Cahill is an Associate Professor in the School of Mathematical and Natural Sciences at Arizona State University
