With nearly two hundred open-ended interviews with readers who read for pleasure, this book looks at how and why they choose or reject certain books. Readers, Reading, and Librarians examines reasons for the current decline in pleasure reading, the need for librarians to sponsor book groups, the current focus on electronic wonders, balancing the missions of acting as an advisory service for readers and maintaining your library's technological services, and much more. Good Choice! Tony Stead, 2009 In Good Choice, noted author and literacy specialist Tony Stead outlines the components that foster successful independent reading in grades K-6. He offers systems for organizing the class library and checking books in and out, lessons on book selection and responding to text, advice on supporting children and parents in home reading, guidance on conferring with students, and an array of helpful appendix materials including graphic organizers, questionnaires, and assessment and monitoring rubrics. BOOK JACKET

Reader Response in Elementary Classrooms Nicholas J. Karolides, 2020-03-09 Reading is a quest. Likened to an adventure, both metaphoric and real, the quest is a journey of discovery. The reader's search encompasses the sensations of the experience itself, accompanying emotions, sense, and meaning engendered by the experience and understandings of the self, others, and the world around. Out of curiosity, readers also search for an extensive array of information. The journey can be envisioned and contemplated again and again after the reading act itself is completed. In a meaningful way, the reader's quest and its discoveries are life-enduring and life-fulfilling. The purpose of this volume is two-fold: to establish and explore the essential features of reader response theory and its rendering of the reading process, and to acknowledge a philosophy of teaching and to illustrate teaching strategies to evoke and enhance readers' responses. Understanding the ways in which the reader affects the reading and how the reading happens will illuminate classroom pedagogy. This text establishes and explores the essential features of reader response theory and its rendering of the reading process. The essays acknowledge a philosophy of teaching and illustrate a spectrum of teaching strategies to evoke and enhance readers' responses, including whole and small group discussion, story drama, readers' theatre, journal writing, scripts, letters, stories, and other writings, and body punctuation. A case study format is used to illustrate these strategies in action in real classrooms.
