The Spirit How blue the sky is and how sweet the air Sister is this a meadow where we stray See where the blossoms break and over there Surely a bird is singing Yesterday I had not thought that Heaven was like this The Angel Now was it yesterday The Spirit I only know I have gone gently on from bliss to bliss I am too glad for laughter nay I grow Silent from very peace of comforting Yet sometimes like a memory of pain A shadow of a grief there seems to sting A vague insistent sorrow like a strain Of some lost melody that haunts and stays About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
