Restorative Justice International Perspectives:

Restorative Justice Burt Galaway, Joe Hudson, 1996 This edited collection considers the theory research and practice of restorative justice in Australia New Zealand the US Canada England and Wales Japan and Germany There is also one section dedicated to restorative justice practice among Indigenous peoples

Restorative Justice, 2019 An International Perspective on Contemporary Developments in Victimology Janice Joseph, Stacie Jergenson, 2020-06-29 This festschrift in honor of the work and legacy of Dr Marc Groenhuijsen provides an international and holistic overview of recent developments in victimology taking a global scope but grounded in everyday experiences of victims Its multidisciplinary perspective reflects a range of approaches and practices in victimology including contributions from the fields of social work criminology sociology psychology and law Firstly the volume introduces new perspectives in victimology and then analyzes different forms of victimization in countries worldwide It gives special attention to victims rights and participation in the criminal justice system detailing victim centered approaches to justice through practices such as restorative justice and restitution Highlighting the growth and development of victimology from a specialization in criminology to an academic discipline in its own right this book reflects the range of approaches and depth of scholarship in the field This will be an essential resource to students of victimology researchers policy makers and victim s advocates

Handbook of Restorative Justice Dennis Sullivan, Larry Tifft, 2007-05-07 Handbook of Restorative Justice is a collection of original cutting edge essays that offer an insightful and critical assessment of the theory principles and practices of restorative justice around the globe This much awaited volume is a response to the cry of students scholars and practitioners of restorative justice for a comprehensive resource about a practice that is radically transforming the way the human community responds to loss trauma and harm Its diverse essays not only explore the various methods of responding nonviolently to harms done by persons groups global corporations and nation states but also examine the dimensions of restorative justice in relation to criminology victimology traumatology and feminist studies In addition They contain prescriptions for how communities might re structure their family school and workplace life according to restorative values

This Handbook is an essential tool for every serious student of criminal social and restorative justice Restorative Justice Gerry Johnstone, 2013-03-01 Restorative justice is one of the most talked about developments in the field of crime and justice Its advocates and practitioners argue that state punishment society s customary response to crime neither meets the needs of crime victims nor prevents reoffending In its place they suggest should be restorative justice in which families and communities of offenders encourage them to take responsibility for the consequences of their actions express repentance and repair the harm they have done First published in 2002 Restorative Justice Ideas Values Debates is renowned worldwide as an accessible balanced and invaluable analysis of the argument that restorative justice can provide an attractive alternative to traditional responses to crime The second edition includes a new chapter identifying and analyzing fundamental shifts and developments in restorative justice thinking over the last decade It suggests that the campaign for restorative justice has not only grown rapidly in the last decade but has also changed in its focus and character What started as a campaign to revolutionize criminal justice has evolved into a social movement that aspires to implant restorative values into the fabric of everyday life This new edition explores the implications of this development for restorative justice s claim to provide a feasible and desirable alternative to mainstream thinking on matters of crime and justice This book provides an essential introduction to the most fundamental and distinctive ideas of restorative justice and will appeal to students of criminology law or related disciplines or researchers and professionals with an interest in crime and justice issues In addition it extends the debate about the meaning of restorative justice pros cons and wider significance hence it will also be of interest to those already familiar with the topic

Restorative Justice Margarita Zernova,2016-12-05 The legitimacy and performance of the traditional criminal justice system is the subject of intense scrutiny as the world economic crisis continues to put pressure on governments to cut the costs of the criminal justice system This volume brings together the leading work on restorative justice to achieve two objectives to construct a comprehensive and up to date conceptual framework for restorative justice suitable even for newcomers and to challenge the barriers of restorative justice in the hope of taking its theory and practice a step further The selected articles start by answering some fundamental questions about restorative justice regarding its historical and philosophical origins and challenge the concept by bringing into the debate the human rights and equality discourses Also included is material based on empirical testing of restorative justice claims especially those impacting on reoffending rates victim satisfaction and reintegration The volume concludes with a critique of restorative justice as well as with analytical thinking that aims to push its barriers It is hoped that the investigations offered by this volume not only offer hope for a better system for abolitionists and reformists but also new and convincing evidence to persuade the sceptics in the debate over restorative justice

Restorative Justice & Responsive Regulation John Braithwaite,2002 Braithwaite s argument against punitive justice systems and for restorative justice systems establishes that there are good theoretical and empirical grounds for anticipating that well designed restorative justice processes will restore victims offenders and communities better than existing criminal justice practices Counterintuitively he also shows that a restorative justice system may deter incapacitate and rehabilitate more effectively than a punitive system This is particularly true when the restorative justice system is embedded in a responsive regulatory framework that opts for deterrence only after restoration repeatedly fails and incapacitation only after escalated deterrence fails Braithwaite s empirical research demonstrates that active deterrence under the dynamic regulatory pyramid that is a hallmark of the restorative justice system he supports is far more effective than the passive deterrence that is notable in the stricter sentencing grid of current criminal justice systems

Developing Restorative Justice Jurisprudence Tony Foley,2016-04-22 What are the requirements for a just response to criminal wrongdoing Drawing on comparative and empirical analysis of existing models of global practice this book offers an approach aimed at restricting the current limitations of criminal justice process and addressing the current deficiencies Putting restoration squarely alongside other aims of justice responses the author argues that only when restorative questions are taken into account can institutional responses be truly said to be just Using the three primary jurisdictions of Australia New Zealand and Canada the book presents the leading examples of restorative justice practices incorporated in mainstream criminal justice systems from around the world In conclusion the work provides a fresh insight into how today s criminal law might develop in order to bring restoration directly into the mix for tomorrow This book will be of interest to undergraduates postgraduate researchers and lecturers as well as lawyers who work in the field of criminal law criminologists social scientists and philosophers interested in ideas of wrongdoing and criminal justice responses to criminal offending

New Directions in Restorative Justice Elizabeth Elliott,Robert Gordon,2013-06-17 This book addresses a number of key themes and developments in restorative justice and is based on papers originally presented at the 6th International Conference on Restorative Justice in Vancouver It is concerned with several new areas of practice within restorative justice with sections on restorative justice and youth aboriginal justice and restorative justice victimization and restorative justice and evaluating restorative justice Contributors to the book are drawn from leading experts in the field from the UK US Europe Canada Australia and New Zealand

Restorative Policing Kerry Clamp,Craig Paterson,2016-10-04 In the UK and elsewhere restorative justice and policing are core components of a range of university programmes however currently no such text exists on the intersection of these two areas of study This book draws together these diverse theoretical perspectives to provide an innovative knowledge rich text that is essential reading for all those engaged with the evolution and practice of restorative policing Restorative Policing surveys the twenty five year history of restorative policing practice during which its use and influence over criminal justice has slowly grown It then situates this experience within a criminological discussion about neo liberal responses to crime control There has been insufficient debate about how the concepts of restorative justice and policing sit alongside each other and how they may be connected or disconnected in theoretical and conceptual terms The book seeks to fill this gap through an exploration of concepts theory policy and practice In doing so the authors make a case for a more transformative vision of restorative policing that can impact positively upon the shape and practice of policing and outline a framework for the implementation of such a strategy This pathbreaking book will be of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students taking courses on restorative justice policing and crime control as well as professionals interested in the implementation of restorative practices in the police force

Reintegrative Justice in Practice Helen Miles, Peter Raynor, 2016-04-08 Recent years have seen the development of a growing international literature on restorative justice community justice and reintegrative alternatives to formal criminal justice processes This literature is stronger on theory and advocacy than on detailed evaluative studies It often relies for its practical examples on the presumed historical practices of the indigenous peoples of colonised territories or on attempts to revive or promote modified versions of these in a modern context which has led to debates about how far modern communities can provide a viable setting for such initiatives This book provides a unique study of the practice of traditional reintegrative community justice in a European society the Parish Hall Enquiry PHE in the Channel Island of Jersey This is an ancient institution based on an informal hearing and discussion of a reported offence with the alleged offender and other interested parties carried out by centeniers honorary police officers elected to one of Jersey s twelve parishes It is still in regular use as an integral part of a modern criminal justice system and it usually aims to resolve offences without recourse to formal prosecution in court Helen Miles and Peter Raynor s research arising from direct observation contributes to the literature on what works in resolving conflicts and influencing offenders and their detailed case studies of how problems are addressed gives a hands on flavour of the process The authors also document the aspects of community life in Jersey that facilitate or hinder the continuation of the PHEs drawing out the implications of these findings for wider debates about the necessary and sufficient social conditions for reintegrative justice to succeed

Hate Crime and Restorative Justice Mark Austin Walters, 2014 Changing Contours of Criminal Justice Mary Bosworth, Carolyn Hoyle, Lucia Zedner, 2016-11-17 Celebrating the 50th Anniversary of the Oxford Centre for Criminology this edited collection of essays seeks to explore the changing contours of criminal justice over the past half century and to consider possible shifts over the next few decades The question of how social science disciplines develop and change does not invite any easy answer with the task made all the more difficult given the highly politicised nature of some subjects and the volatile evolving status of its institutions and practices A case in point is criminal justice at once fairly parochial much criminal justice scholarship is now global in its reach and subject areas that are now accepted as central to its study victims restorative justice security privatization terrorism citizenship and migration to name just a few were topics unknown to the discipline half a century ago Indeed most criminologists would have once stoutly denied that they had anything to do with it Likewise some central topics of past criminological attention like probation have largely receded from academic attention and some central criminal justice institutions like Borstal and corporal punishment have at least in Europe been abolished Although the rapidity and radical nature of this change make it quite impossible to predict what criminal justice will look like in fifty years time reflection on such developments may assist in understanding how it arrived at its current form and hint at what the future holds The contributors to this volume have been invited to reflect on the impact Oxford criminology has had on the discipline providing a unique and critical discussion about the current state of criminal justice around the world and the origins and future implications of contemporary practice All are leading internationally renowned criminologists whose work has defined and often re defined our understanding of criminal justice policy and literature

Handbook on Sentencing Policies and Practices in the 21st Century Cassia Spohn, Pauline Brennan, 2019-06-14 Sentencing Policies and Practices in the 21st Century focuses on the evolution and consequences of sentencing policies and practices with sentencing broadly defined to include plea bargaining judicial and juror decision making and alternatives to incarceration including participation in problem solving courts This collection of essays and reports of original research explores how sentencing policies and practices both in the United States and internationally have evolved explores important issues raised by guideline and non guideline sentencing and provides an overview of recent research on plea bargaining in the United States Australia and the United Kingdom Other topics include the role of criminal history in sentencing the past and future of capital punishment strategies for reducing mass incarceration problem solving courts and restorative justice practices Each chapter summarizes what is known identifies the gaps in the research and discusses the theoretical empirical and policy implications of the research findings The volume is grounded in current knowledge about the specific topics but also presents new material that reflects the thinking of the leading minds in the field and that outlines a research agenda for the future This is Volume 4 of the American Society of Criminology's Division on Corrections and Sentencing handbook series Previous volumes focused on risk assessment disparities in punishment and the consequences of punishment decisions The handbooks provide a comprehensive overview of these topics for scholars students practitioners and policymakers

Racial Issues in Criminal Justice Marvin D. Free, 2003-09-30 Almost a third of all African American men in their twenties in the United States are in jail or prison or on probation or parole African Americans who comprise approximately 13% of the general population make up about half of the prison population Between 1980 and 2000 38 states added more African American men to their prison systems than were added to their respective systems of higher education However these statistics fail to tell the entire story To understand how the dynamics of disproportionate minority confinement came to exist one must examine the historical and cultural antecedents that affected and continue to affect this group Examining proposed solutions and providing alternative perspectives this volume addresses the overrepresentation of African Americans in the criminal justice system by critically examining the significance of race in American society and criminal justice responses to crime and African Americans Offering a critical examination of the issues this collection begins with a discussion of the marginalization of African Americans in the academic discipline of criminal justice and in the larger society an assessment of the impact of the legacy of slavery on private prisons and mass imprisonment and an empirical examination of the depiction of African Americans in prime time television crime programs Part II looks at racial profiling the underrepresentation of African Americans in hate crime victimization research the impact of race on presentencing the trend toward trying juveniles in adult court and the discriminatory treatment of African Americans in capital eligible cases Finally Part III discusses the impact of African American police officers on the profession analyzes black juror nullification proposes an increase in the presence of African American jurors and assesses the potential ameliorative impact of restorative justice on the current racial imbalance in the criminal justice system

Reconciliation, Justice, and Coexistence Mohammed Abu-Nimer, 2001-05-23 Since the end of the Cold War several political agreements have been signed in attempts to resolve longstanding conflicts in such volatile regions as Northern Ireland Israel Palestine South Africa and Rwanda This is the first comprehensive volume that examines reconciliation justice and coexistence in the post settlement context from the levels of both theory and practice Mohammed Abu Nimer has brought together scholars and practitioners who discuss questions such as Do truth commissions work What are the necessary conditions for reconciliation Can political agreements bring reconciliation How can indigenous approaches be utilized in the process of reconciliation In addition to enhancing the developing field of peacebuilding by engaging new research questions this book will give lessons and insights to policy makers and anyone interested in post settlement issues

Whose Criminal Justice? Katherine Doolin, 2011 The overarching theme of this book is the balance between the role of a central government in creating and shaping the regulatory framework of criminal justice and the potential for communities at a local level to become more involved in responding to crime and anti social behavior in their midst These twin dynamics are explored in the two main sections of the book Through a series of UK case studies in Part I The Regulatory State the book examines how the central state has sought to address the risks and problems associated with crime and anti social behavior in modern times The case studies consider the new context for law and order which arose during the period and ask how and why new sanctions were put in place to regulate particular kinds of behavior They also highlight some of the unintended consequences notably the criminalization of more people In Part II Empowered Communities as Stakeholders in Criminal Justice the book explores the potential for local communitie
