Horodowich,2018-09-06 Few Renaissance Venetians saw the New World with their own eyes As the print capital of early modern Europe however Venice developed a unique relationship to the Americas Venetian editors mapmakers translators writers and cosmographers represented the New World at times as a place that the city s mariners had discovered before the Spanish a world linked to Marco Polo s China or another version of Venice especially in the case of Tenochtitlan Elizabeth Horodowich explores these various and distinctive modes of imagining the New World including Venetian rhetorics of firstness similitude othering comparison and simultaneity generated through forms of textual and visual pastiche that linked the wider world to the Venetian lagoon These wide ranging stances allowed Venetians to argue for their different but equivalent participation in the Age of Encounters Whereas historians have traditionally focused on the Spanish conquest and colonization of the New World and the Dutch and English mapping of it they have ignored the wide circulation of Venetian Americana Horodowich demonstrates how with their printed texts and maps Venetian newsmongers embraced a fertile

Medieval Marvels and Fictions in the Latin West and Islamic World Michelle Karnes,2022-07-12 A cross cultural study of magical phenomena in the Middle Ages Marvels like enchanted rings and sorcerers stones were topics of fascination in the Middle Ages not only in romance and travel literature but also in the period's philosophical writing Rather than constructions of belief accepted only by simple minded people Michelle Karnes shows that these spectacular wonders were near impossibilities that demanded scrutiny and investigation This is the first book to analyze a diverse set of writings on such wonders comparing texts from the Latin West including those written in English French Italian and Castilian Spanish with those written in Arabic as it works toward a unifying theory of marvels across different disciplines and cultures Karnes tells a story about the parallels between Arabic and Latin thought reminding us that experiences of the strange and the unfamiliar travel across a range of genres spanning geographical and conceptual space and offering an ideal vantage point from which to understand intercultural exchange Karnes traverses this diverse archive showing how imagination imbues marvels with their character and power making them at once enigmatic creative and resonant Skirting the distinction between the real and unreal these marvels challenge readers to discover the highest capabilities of both nature and the human intellect Karnes offers a rare comparative perspective and a new methodology to study a topic long recognized as central to medieval culture
