Sex Work Politics Samantha Majic, 2014-01-15 In San Francisco the St James Infirmary SJI and the California Prostitutes Education Project CAL PEP provide free nonjudgmental medical care counseling and other health and social services by and for sex workers a radical political commitment at odds with government policies that criminalize prostitution To maintain and expand these much needed services and to qualify for funding from state federal and local authorities such organizations must comply with federal and state regulations for nonprofits In Sex Work Politics Samantha Majic investigates the way nonprofit organizations negotiate their governmental obligations while maintaining their commitment to outreach and advocacy for sex workers rights as well as broader sociopolitical change Drawing on multimethod qualitative research Majic outlines the strategies that CAL PEP and SJI employ to balance the conflicting demands of service and advocacy which include treating sex work as labor with legitimate occupational health and safety concerns empowering their clients with civic skills to advance their political commitments outside the nonprofit organization and conducting and publishing research and analysis to inform the public and policymakers of their constituents needs Challenging the assumption that activists must sell out and abandon radical politics to manage formal organizations Majic comes to the surprising conclusion that it is indeed possible to maintain effective advocacy and key social movement values beliefs and practices even while partnering with government agencies Sex Work Politics significantly contributes to studies of transformational politics with its nuanced portrait of nonprofits as centers capable of sustaining political and social change

Sex-Work, Prostitution and Policy Rebecca MF Hower, 2021-08-04 The topic of sex work prostitution has long generated contentious debate particularly within the broad church of feminism This antagonism is reflected in UK policy debates which are further complicated by their enactment in spaces of neoliberal hegemony This book analyses the plurality of narratives which contribute to Westminster sex work prostitution policy debates and subsequently seeks to situate them within the social and political conditions of their production Hewer illustrates that contemporary sex work prostitution debates are constituted through a complex entanglement of ideologically hybrid perspectives which variously challenge and ingrain extant relations of power Moreover by drawing on a range of feminist and other critical social theories Hewer offers a way to think differently about both sex work prostitution debates and sex work prostitution itself The book will be a valuable resource for researchers and students from across the social sciences with an interest in the language used to talk about sex work and prostitution in policy debates

Negotiating Sex Work Carisa Renae Showden, Samantha Majic, 2014 Globally discussions about sex work focus on exploitation The media regularly provides us with stories about teen girls coerced to perform sexual acts for money frequently beaten and robbed by their pimps or traffickers While one would have to be hard pressed to deny that sex workers are victimized the popular media and our political leaders emphasize sex work as exclusively exploitative In Negotiating Sex Work Carisa R Showden and Samantha Majic present a series of essays that depict sex work as an issue far more complex than generally perceived Positions on sex work are primarily divided between those who consider that selling sexual acts is legitimate work and those who consider it a form of exploitation Organized into three parts Negotiating Sex Work rejects this either/or framework and offers instead diverse and compelling contributions that aim to reframe these viewpoints Part I addresses how knowledge about sex work and sex workers is generated The next section explores how nations and political actors who claim to protect individuals in sex work often further marginalize them Finally part III examines sex workers own political organizational efforts to combat laws and policies that deem them deviant sinful or total victims
