apply these techniques separately, or together, depending on the type of location-based rating available. Experimental evidence using large-scale real-world data from both the Foursquare location-based social network and the MovieLens movie recommendation system reveals that LARS* is efficient, scalable, and capable of producing recommendations twice as accurate compared to existing recommendation approaches.

EXISTING SYSTEM:

The technique used by many of these systems is collaborative filtering (CF), which analyzes past community opinions to find correlations of similar users and items to suggest k personalized items (e.g., movies) to a querying user u . Community opinions are expressed through explicit ratings represented by the triple $(user, rating, item)$ that represents a user providing a numeric rating for an item. Currently, myriad applications can produce location-based ratings that embed user and/or item locations. For example, location-based social networks (e.g., Foursquare and Facebook Places) allow users to “check-in” at spatial
