Olson,Andrew Scahill,2012-05-18 Children have been a part of the cinematic landscape since the silent film era yet children are rarely a part of the theoretical landscape of film analysis Lost and Othered Children in Contemporary Cinema edited by Debbie C Olson and Andrew Scahill seeks to remedy that oversight Throughout the over one hundred year history of cinema the image of the child has been inextricably bound to filmic storytelling and has been equally bound to notions of romantic innocence and purity This collection reveals however that there is a body of work that provides a counter note of darkness to the traditional portraits of sweetness and light Particularly since the mid twentieth century there are a growing number of cinematic works that depict childhood as a site of knowingness despair sexuality death and madness Lost and Othered Children in Contemporary Cinema challenges notions of the innocent child through an exploration of the dark side of childhood in contemporary cinema The contributors to this multidisciplinary study offer a global perspective that explores the multiple conditions of marginalized childhood as cinematically imagined within political geographical sociological and cultural contexts A Companion to Literature, Film, and Adaptation Deborah Cartmell,2014-08-25 This is a comprehensive

New Silent Cinema Katherine

Groo, Paul Flaig, 2015-09-16 With the success of Martin Scorsese's Hugo 2011 and Michel Hazanavicius's The Artist 2011 nothing seems more contemporary in recent film than the styles, forms and histories of early and silent cinemas. This collection considers the latest return to silent film alongside the larger historical field of visual repetitions and affective currents that wind their way through 20th and 21st century visual cultures. Contributors bring together several fields of research including early and silent cinema studies, experimental and new media historiography and archive theory and studies of media ontology and epistemology. Chapters link the methods, concerns and concepts of early and silent film studies as they have flourished over the last quarter century to the most recent developments in digital culture from YouTube to 3D, recasting this contemporary phenomenon in popular culture and new media against key debates and concepts in silent film scholarship. An interview with acclaimed Canadian filmmaker Guy Maddin closes out the collection. Cue, 1966
