Lost On The Map Of The World:

Lost Maps of the Caliphs Yossef Rapoport, Emilie Savage-Smith, 2018-12-11 About a millennium ago in Cairo an unknown author completed a large and richly illustrated book In the course of thirty five chapters this book guided the reader on a journey from the outermost cosmos and planets to Earth and its lands islands features and inhabitants This treatise known as The Book of Curiosities was unknown to modern scholars until a remarkable manuscript copy surfaced in 2000 Lost Maps of the Caliphs provides the first general overview of The Book of Curiosities and the unique insight it offers into medieval Islamic thought Opening with an account of the remarkable discovery of the manuscript and its purchase by the Bodleian Library the authors use The Book of Curiosities to re evaluate the development of astrology geography and cartography in the first four centuries of Islam Their account assesses the transmission of Late Antique geography to the Islamic world unearths the logic behind abstract maritime diagrams and considers the palaces and walls that dominate medieval Islamic plans of towns and ports Early astronomical maps and drawings demonstrate the medieval understanding of the structure of the cosmos and illustrate the pervasive assumption that almost any visible celestial event had an effect upon life on Earth Lost Maps of the Caliphs also reconsiders the history of global communication networks at the turn of the previous millennium It shows the Fatimid Empire and its capital Cairo as a global maritime power with tentacles spanning from the eastern Mediterranean to the Indus Valley and the East African coast As Lost Maps of the Caliphs makes clear not only is The Book of Curiosities one of the greatest achievements of medieval mapmaking it is also a remarkable contribution to the story of Islamic civilization that opens an unexpected window to the medieval Islamic view of the world The Library of Lost Maps James Cheshire, 2025-11-04 Join renowned geographer James Cheshire on a tour through a forgotten collection of maps that shaped over 200 years of Western history The Island of Lost Maps Miles Harvey, 2010-10-06 The Island of Lost Maps tells the story of a curious crime spree the theft of scores of valuable centuries old maps from some of the most prominent research libraries in the United States and Canada The perpetrator was Gilbert Joseph Bland Jr an enigmatic antiques dealer from South Florida whose cross country slash and dash operation had gone virtually undetected until he was caught in 1995 and was unmasked as the most prolific American map thief in history As Miles Harvey unravels the mystery of Bland s life he maps out the world of cartography and cartographic crime weaving together a fascinating story of exploration craftsmanship villainy and the lure of the unknown Milton's Paradise lost, books i. and ii., Comus, Lycidas, Il penseroso, and L'allegro, with intr., notes and glossary by J.G. Davis John Milton, 1874 Lost in Shangri-La Mitchell Zuckoff, 2011-04-26 On May 13 1945 twenty four American servicemen and WACs boarded a transport plane for a sightseeing trip over Shangri La a beautiful and mysterious valley deep within the jungle covered mountains of Dutch New Guinea Unlike the peaceful Tibetan monks of James Hilton s bestselling novel Lost Horizon this Shangri La was home to spear carrying tribesmen warriors rumored to be cannibals But the pleasure tour became an unforgettable battle for survival when the plane crashed Miraculously three passengers pulled through Margaret Hastings barefoot and burned had no choice but to wear her dead best friend's shoes John McCollom grieving the death of his twin brother also aboard the plane masked his grief with stoicism Kenneth Decker too was severely burned and suffered a gaping head wound Emotionally devastated badly injured and vulnerable to the hidden dangers of the jungle the trio faced certain death unless they left the crash site Caught between man eating headhunters and enemy Japanese the wounded passengers endured a harrowing hike down the mountainside a journey into the unknown that would lead them straight into a primitive tribe of superstitious natives who had never before seen a white man or woman Drawn from interviews declassified U S Army documents personal photos and mementos a survivor's diary a rescuer's journal and original film footage Lost in Shangri La recounts this incredible true life adventure for the first time Mitchell Zuckoff reveals how the determined trio dehydrated sick and in pain traversed the dense jungle to find help how a brave band of paratroopers risked their own lives to save the survivors and how a cowboy colonel attempted a previously untested rescue mission to get them out By trekking into the New Guinea jungle visiting remote villages and rediscovering the crash site Zuckoff also captures the contemporary natives' remembrances of the long ago day when strange creatures fell from the sky A riveting work of narrative nonfiction that vividly brings to life an odyssey at times terrifying enlightening and comic Lost in Shangri La is a thrill ride from beginning to end Researches Into the Lost

Tell Them to Get Lost Brian Thacker, 2011-08-31 Travels with the Lonely Planet guidebook that started it all When Tony

Wheeler wrote Lonely Planet's first ever shoestring guidebook South East Asia offered cheap and interesting travel without the constantly oppressing misery of some of the less fortunate parts of Asia. Certain hotspots in the region attracted the tourist crowds but there were many untouched places too. So have Tony's recommendations stood the test of time? Just how much has South East Asia changed since the Wheelers ambled through the region in flared pants? Brian Thacker decides to retrace Tony and Maureen's footsteps through Portuguese Timor, Indonesia, Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand, Laos and Burma using the original 1975 South East Asia on a Shoestring as his only guidebook. Along the way Brian meets a cast of folk from the old guidebook who are still manning hotel desks and serving in restaurants. He also encounters mishap and adventure at every step of the Banana Pancake Trail: breaking bread with a gang of ravenous rats swimming with a hungry goat and possibly also human eating crocodile, crashing his scooter twice, being wanted by the police and propositioned by Gary who likes pens and getting lost everywhere.
