Heritage and Debt David Joselit, 2020-03-10 How global contemporary art reanimates the past as a resource for the present combating modern art's legacy of Eurocentrism If European modernism was premised on the new on surpassing the past often by assigning it to the traditional societies of the Global South global contemporary art reanimates the past as a resource for the present In this account of what globalization means for contemporary art David Joselit argues that the creative use of tradition by artists from around the world serves as a means of combatting modern art's legacy of Eurocentrism Modernism claimed to live in the future and relegated the rest of the world to the past Global contemporary art shatters this myth by reactivating various forms of heritage from literati ink painting in China to Aboriginal painting in Australia in order to propose new and different futures Joselit analyzes not only how heritage becomes contemporary through the practice of individual artists but also how a cultural infrastructure of museums biennials and art fairs worldwide has emerged as a means of generating economic value attracting capital and tourist dollars Joselit traces three distinct forms of modernism that developed outside the West in opposition to Euro American modernism postcolonial socialist realism and the underground He argues that these modern genealogies are synchronized with one another and with Western modernism to produce global contemporary art Joselit discusses curation and what he terms the curatorial episteme which through its acts of framing or curating can become a means of recalibrating hierarchies of knowledge and can contribute to the dual projects of decolonization and deimperialization

Unscripting the Present Timothy Gitzen, 2025-04-01 Sex panics saturate contemporary discourse and politics in the United States. While such panics have a long history, they are now infused with rhetoric, logics and methods of security that turn queer sexuality into an existential crisis. Queer youth bear the brunt of this crisis with their presumed innocence always in danger of being lost. Unscripting the Present interweaves analysis of laws and lawsuits, news, media, sociological studies and popular culture both to understand contemporary sex panics and to highlight how queer youth find ways to survive in the here and now. Developing a novel technique of unscripting, Timothy Gitzen focuses our attention on those impromptu moments when things go awry in representations of queer youth moments that disrupt securitization's social scripts. Foregoing well-worn promises of things getting better, texts such as Netflix's Sex Education, the film Love Simon and the multimodal show Skam upend the anxious hyperfocus on what's to come in favor of a hopeful present.

Tattoo Histories Sinah Theres Kloß, 2019-11-25 Tattoo Histories is an edited volume which analyses and discusses the relevance of tattooing in the socio-cultural construction of bodies, boundaries and identities among both individuals and groups. Its interdisciplinary approach facilitates historical as well as contemporary perspectives. Rather than presenting a universal, essentialized history of tattooing, the volume's objective is to focus on the entangled and transcultural histories, narratives and practices related to tattoos. Contributions stem from various fields including Archaeology, Art History, Classics, History, Linguistics, Media and Literary Studies, Social and Cultural Anthropology and Sociology. They advance the current endeavour on the part of tattoo scholars to challenge Eurocentric and North American biases prevalent in much of tattoo research by including various analyses based in locations such as Malaysia, Israel, East Africa and India. The thematic focus is on the transformative capacity of tattoos and tattooing with regard to the social construction of bodies and subjectivity, the re-creation of social relationships through the definition of non-tattooed others, the formation and consolidation of group identities, traditions and authenticity and the conceptualization of art and its relevance to tattoo artist-tattooee relations.
