

Mass of Love: A Spanish Ballad

ANONYMOUS

Dawn of a bright June morning,
The birthday of Saint John,
When ladies and their lovers
To hear High Mass are gone.

Yonder goes my lady,
Among them all, the best;
In coloured silk mantilla
And many skirts she's dressed.

Embroidered is her bodice
With gems of pearl and gold.
Her lips of beauty rare
Beguiling sweetness hold.

Faint the touch of rouge
On cheeks of fairest white,
Sparkling blue her eyes
With subtle art made bright.

Proudly church she entered
Radiant as sun above,
Ladies died of envy
And courtiers, of love.

A singer in the choir
His place lost in the creed;
The priest who read the lesson
The pages did not heed,

And acolytes beside him
No order could restore;
Instead of Amen, Amen,
They sang Amor, Amor.

Casal, Caroline Egan, 2022-05-01 The Routledge Hispanic Studies Companion to Early Modern Spanish Literature and Culture introduces the intellectual and artistic breadth of early modern Spain from a range of disciplinary and critical perspectives. Spanning the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries a period traditionally known as the Golden Age the volume examines topics including political and scientific culture literary and artistic innovations and religious and social identities and institutions in transformation. The 36 chapters of the volume include both expert overviews of key topics and figures from the period as well as new approaches to understudied questions and materials. This invaluable resource will be of interest to advanced students and scholars in Hispanic studies as well as Renaissance and early modern studies more generally.

The Routledge Research Companion to Early Modern Spanish Women Writers Nieves Baranda, Anne J. Cruz, 2017-08-14 In Spain the two hundred years that elapsed between the beginning of the early modern period and the final years of the Habsburg Empire saw a profusion of works written by women. Whether secular or religious noble or middle class early modern Spanish women actively composed creative works such as poetry prose narratives and plays. The Routledge Research Companion to Early Modern Spanish Women Writers covers the broad array of different kinds of writings literary as well as extra literary that these women wrote taking into consideration their subject positions and the cultural and historical contexts that influenced and were influenced by them. Beyond merely recognizing the individual women authors who had influence in literary religious and intellectual circles this Research Companion investigates their participation in these circles through their writings as well as the ways in which their texts informed Spain's cultural production during the early modern period. In order to contextualize women's writings across the historical and cultural spectrum of early modern Spain the Research Companion is divided into six sections of general thematic interest: Women's Worlds Conventual Spaces Secular Literature Women in the Public Sphere Private Circles Women Travelers. Each section is subdivided into chapters that focus on specific issues or topics.

Spanish Poetry of the Grupo Poético de 1927 Geoffrey Connell, 2014-05-17 Spanish Poetry of the Grupo Poético de 1927 is an anthology of poems by members of Grupo Poético de 1927 an association of poets who sought to detach poetry from non poetic elements such as narrative anecdote political or social preoccupations or didacticism. Seven poets are represented: Pedro Salinas Jorge Guillén Gerardo Diego Federico García Lorca Vicente Aleixandre Rafael Alberti and Luis Cernuda. This text consists of eight chapters and begins with an introduction to changing trends in poetry in Spain between 1918 and the present. Biographical notes are included to show the effect or lack of effect of these movements on the individual poets. Movements such as ultraísmo and maestría are discussed along with the tercentenary of the death of Spanish poet Luis de Góngora the crisis suffered by the Grupo and late developments in the poets of the Grupo. The chapters that follow focus on the works of the Grupo poets. This book is written specifically for sixth formers and undergraduates as well as anyone with an interest in Spanish poetry.

Material Contexts Mark Luther Bajus, 2014 In this dissertation I argue for a return to first editions. Much of today's criticism on turn of the century Spanish poetry is based on modern editions.

which strip poems from their original pages and from their original bindings This dissertation however contends that both a poem's space on the page and its space within a book are critical for understanding the meaning of a poem By overlooking the materiality of first editions literary critics have lost some of the meaning and nuance that existed when fin de siècle poems were originally published Drawing on theories of textual materiality and on contemporary book history I provide close readings of three works Antonio Machado's poems published in the Spanish journal La Lectura 1909-1910 Juan Ramón Jiménez's Diario de un poeta recién casado 1917 and Federico García Lorca's Poema del cante jondo 1931 Each chapter examines the ways in which the poems' physical contexts from their typography to their paratextual elements to their paper quality shaped meaning Furthermore each chapter studies how modern print editions have changed the meaning of the poems by altering the typography and by removing paratextual elements To conclude this dissertation addresses the transition from print books to digital books As of the time of writing this dissertation both Machado's poems from La Lectura and Jiménez's first edition of the Diario have been scanned and included in the Google Books archive I contemplate how this change of materiality or medium affects meaning and whether this change is worthy of lamentation as scholars like Nicholas Carr are wont to do
