The Politics of Multinational States Don MacIver,2016-07-27 The events of recent years have demonstrated beyond doubt not only that ethnic pluralism presents major problems for the management of political systems but that it is also a major cause of their failure and disintegration. This timely and topical book discusses the general issue of ethnic pluralism and considers a range of types of multi ethnic society within a common analytical framework. It then examines the responses of governments to the problems of ethnic diversity and assesses the effects of ethnic conflict on the development and viability of states. Transforming the Center, Eroding the Margins Dagmar C. G. Lorenz, Renate S. Posthofen, 1998. Transforming the Center Eroding the Margins is a collection of critical articles about recent and contemporary German literature designed to stimulate discussion about German speaking culture from the point of view of diversity. The combination of broad historical approaches and detailed textual analyses made it possible to present in this volume a spectrum of identities and positions within the German speaking sphere and sometimes even within the work of a single author. Examining the works of German speaking authors of different backgrounds and countries of residence from many different points of view shows that the very concept of a unified German Culture is a construct. Because of the increasing visibility of various ethnic religious cultural and economic groups including migrant workers exiles and immigrants multiculturalism and cultural diversity in Central Europe have received considerable attention in public debate since the disintegration of the Eastern bloc and the fall of the Berlin Wall. Yet neither cultural diversity nor the gender issues examined throughout the volume are recent phenomena. Upon closer scrutiny the notions of center and margin are shown to have origins in the nineteenth century and before. The articles in this volume distinct in their approaches and each one concerned with specific situations reveal an ongoing decline of mainstream discourse the erosion of the cultural center and a strengthening of what continues to be referred to as marginal. The literary and intellectual production of groups that are seen as marginal is becoming ever more compelling and visible as is documented in Transforming the Center Eroding the Margins. Engendering Difference Vesna Kondrić Horvat, Victor Kennedy, 2018-07-27. Constructing difference where there should be none is the main subject of this collection of essays about gender and its cultural manifestations and representations. From the pronouns we use through the titles and positions we hold in our workplaces to the more salient issues concerning abuse of power and exertion of violence gender runs as a seemingly inevitable divide. This volume addresses the continuing relevance of the quest to diminish that gap from the perspectives of literature language film law employment aging and agency both social and political. The German-speaking Countries of Europe Margrit Beran Krewson, 1989. The Modern German Novel Keith Bullivant, 1987-05-28. This volume provides an excellent introduction to the modern and contemporary novel in German speaking countries and the work of novelists such as Günter Grass Heinrich Böll Martin Walser and Christa Wolf.
