Modern Indian Literature as Cosmopolis Didier Coste,2024-10-09 This book redefines modern Indian literature from a cosmopolitan comparative perspective inclusive of literature in English from India and the diaspora in native languages and works by non Indians It shows how since the mid 19th century Indian literary modernity pursued the conjunction of the sensuous and ethical spiritual that characterized its three traditions Sanskritik Persian and folk culture while the encounter both receptive and oppositional with the West vastly expanded the Indian literary sphere Aesthetics and ethics are not antithetical in the Indian cultural space but the quest for an exclusive Indian identity versus universalist approaches offsets concerns for social justice as well as enjoyable embodied communication The literary constellation in many languages now formed in and around India can be better apprehended as a virtual Cosmopolis a commonwealth of elaborate emotions The versatile figure of Hanuman metaphorically flies across this Ocean of Stories to make us discover new worlds of experience

The Columbia Guide to Contemporary African American Fiction Darryl Dickson-Carr, 2005-12-06 In both the literal and metaphorical senses it seemed as if 1970s America was running out of gas The decade not only witnessed long lines at gas stations but a citizenry that had grown weary and disillusioned High unemployment runaway inflation and the energy crisis caused in part by U S dependence on Arab oil characterized an increasingly bleak economic situation As Edward D Berkowitz demonstrates the end of the postwar economic boom Watergate and defeat in Vietnam led to an unraveling of the national consensus During the decade ideas about the United States how it should be governed and how its economy should be managed changed dramatically Berkowitz argues that the postwar faith in sweeping social programs and a global U S mission was replaced by a more skeptical attitude about government s ability to positively affect society From Woody Allen to Watergate from the decline of the steel industry to the rise of Bill Gates and from Saturday Night Fever to the Sunday morning fervor of evangelical preachers Berkowitz captures the history tone and spirit of the seventies He explores the decade's major political events and movements including the rise and fall of détente congressional reform changes in healthcare policies and the hostage crisis in Iran The seventies also gave birth to several social movements and the rights revolution in which women gays and lesbians and people with disabilities all successfully fought for greater legal and social recognition At the same time reaction to these social movements as well as the issue of abortion introduced a new facet into American political life the rise of powerful politically conservative religious organizations and activists Berkowitz also considers important shifts in American popular culture recounting the creative renaissance in American film as well as the birth of the Hollywood blockbuster He discusses how television programs such as All in the Family and Charlie's Angels offered Americans both a reflection of and an escape from the problems gripping the country

Between Languages and Cultures Anuradha Dingwaney, Carol Maier, 2010-11-23 Translated texts are often either uncritically consumed by readers teacher and scholars or seen to represent an ineluctable loss a diminishing of original texts Translation however is a cultural practice influenced also by social and political imperatives which can open more doors than it closes The essays in this book show how the act of translation when vigilantly and critically attended to becomes a means for active interrogation

Parapositions: Prefacing American Literature in Bulgarian Translation 1948-1998 Milena Katsarska, 2021-07-07 This study analyzes the social significance of prefaces with reference to Bulgarian editions of American literature published between 1948 and 1998 Such prefaces present a diverse body of texts in different voices involving numerous actors in the cultural sphere These raise a range of interesting questions How do prefaces in Bulgaria structure American literary and cultural studies What ideological dimensions are found in them through the communist period and immediately afterwards How are questions about race mediated What do they indicate about Bulgaria's relations to the USA the former USSR and other European countries How aware are American Studies scholars of the underlying presumptions of their professional field These and other important questions are carefully considered in this book while exploring a large body of fascinating source material which has received little systematic attention so far

On Literary Attachment in South Africa Michael Chapman, 2021-09-01 This book reflects on the literary in literature Less ideologically construed more affirmative of literary attachment the study adopts a style of intimacy its tough love in a correlation between the creative work and the critical act Instead of configuring literary works to state of the nation issues the usual approach to literature from South Africa the chapters keep alive a space for conversation whether accented inwards to locality or outwards to the Anglophone world the world to which literature in South Africa continues to belong albeit as a problem child A postcolony that is not quite a postcolony South Africa is richly but frustratingly textured between Africa and the West or the South and the North Its literature hovering on the cusp of its locality and its global reach raises peculiar questions of reader reception epistemological and aesthetic frame and archival use Are the Nobel laureates Nadine Gordimer and J M Coetzee local writers or global writers Is the novel or the short story the more appropriate form at the edges of metropolitan cultures Given language race and culture contestation how do we recover Bushman expression for contemporary use How to consider the aesthetic appeal of two contemporaneous works one in English the other in isiXhosa the one indebted to Bloomsbury modernism the other to African custom How does Douglas Livingstone attach the Third World to the First World in both science and poetry What has a born free novelist Kopano Matlwa got to do with the Bard of Avon In a time of theorisation is it permissible for Lewis Nkosi to embody literary criticism in an autobiographical journey How to read the rupturing event the statue of Rhodes must fall through a literary sensibility Alert to the influence of critique the study is equally alert to the limits of critique Reflecting on several writers works and events that do not feature in current publications On Literary Attachment in South Africa releases literature to speak to us today within the contours of its originating energy

The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France, 2000 Translation has been a crucial process in world culture over the past two millennia and more In the English speaking cultures many of the most important texts are translations from Homer to Beckett the Bible to Freud Although recent years have seen a boom in translation studies there has been no comprehensive yet convenient guide to this essential element of literature in English Written by eminent scholars from many countries the Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation meets this need and will be essential reading for all students of English and comparative literature It highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the issues raised making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Korean from Swahili to Russian For some works e g Virgil's Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available The Guide is divided into two parts Part I contains substantial essays on theoretical questions a pioneering outline of the history of translation into English and discussions of the problems raised by specific types of text e g poetry oral literature The second much longer part consists of entries grouped by language of origin some are devoted to individual texts e g the Thousand and One Nights or writers e g Ibsen Proust but the majority offer a critical overview of a genre e g Chinese poetry Spanish Golden Age drama or of a national literature e g Hungarian Scottish Gaelic There is a selective bibliography for each entry and an index of authors and translators
