Modernism At Mid Century The Architecture Of The United States Air Force Academy:

Modernism at Mid-Century Robert Bruegmann, 1995-02-15 One of the country's largest and most important postwar architectural projects the United States Air Force Academy opened in 1958 With its spectacular natural setting and stunning Modernist design the Academy was quickly hailed as a national landmark and attracts over a million visitors each year The contributors to this volume Jory Johnson Robert Nauman Sheri Olson James Russell and Kristen Schaffer and editor Robert Bruegmann chronicle the complex history of the planning design and construction of the Air Force Academy As the most conspicuous commission of the American military at the height of the Cold War the design of the Academy generated intense popular interest and was a lightning rod for conflicting values in postwar society The design by architects Skidmore Owings Merrill has been hailed as the final triumph of the International Style and as a monument to military bureaucracy

The United States Air Force Academy, 1996

On the Wings of Modernism Robert Allen Nauman, 2004 Nauman argues that contrary to the technological and teleological interpretations presented by the polemicists of international style modernism the academy's actual production was squarely grounded in bureaucratic and political processes He demonstrates that selection of both the site and the design firm was the result of political maneuverings involving the U S military leadership

Hut Pavilion Shrine: Architectural Archetypes in Mid-Century Modernism Miles David Samson, 2016-03-09 The phase of American architectural history we call mid century modernism 1940 1980 saw the spread of Modern Movement tenets of functionalism social service and anonymity into mainstream practice It also saw the spread of their seeming opposites Temples arcades domes and other traditional types occur in both modernist and traditionalist forms from the 1950s to the 1970s Hut Pavilion Shrine examines this crossroads of modernism and the archetypal and critiques its buildings and theory The book centers on one particularly important and omnipresent type the pavilion a type which was the basis of major work by Louis I Kahn Paul Rudolph Philip Johnson Minoru Yamasaki and other eminent architects While focusing primarily on the architecture culture of the United States it also includes the work of British European Team X and Scandinavian designers and writers Making connections between formal analysis historical context and theory the book continues lines of inquiry which have been pursued by Neil Levine and Anthony Vidler on representation and by Sarah Goldhagen and Alice Friedman on modernism's forbidden elements of the honorific and the visually pleasurable It highlights the significance of pavilionizing mid century designers such as Victor Lundy John Johansen Eero Saarinen and Edward Durell Stone and shows how frequently essentialist and traditionalist types appeared in the roadside vernacular of drive in restaurants gas stations furniture and car showrooms branch banks and motels The book ties together the threads in mid century architectural theory that addressed aspects of type essential structure and primal humanistic aspects of environment making and discusses how these concerns outlived the mid century moment and in the designs and writings of Aldo Rossi and others they paved the way for Post Modernism American Architectural History Keith Eggener,2004-07-31 Offering some 30 essays this volume concentrates on recent writings by historians of American architecture urbanism The essays are arranged chronologically from colonial to contemporary accessible in thematic groupings A Colorado History, 10th Edition Maxine Benson,Duane A. The Architectural Models of Theodore Conrad Teresa Fankhänel, 2021-06-17 Based on the recent discovery of his fully preserved private archive models photos letters business files and drawings this book tells the story of Theodore Conrad 1910 1994 the most prominent and prolific architectural model maker of the 20th century Conrad s innovative models were instrumental in the design and realization of many icons of American Modernism from the Rockefeller Center to Lever House and the Seagram Building He revolutionized the production of architectural models and became a model making entrepreneur in his own right Yet despite his success and the well known buildings he helped to create until now little has been known about Conrad s work and his impact on 20th century architectural history With exclusive access to Conrad s archive as well as that of model photographer Louis Checkman both of which have lain undiscovered in private storage for decades this book examines Conrad's work and legacy accompanied by case studies of his major commissions and full color photographs of his works Set against the backdrop of the surge in model making in the 1950s and 1960s which Jane Jacobs called The Miniature Boom it explores how Conrad's models prompt broader scholarly questions about the nature of authorship in architecture the importance of craftsmanship and about the translation of architectural ideas between different media The book ultimately presents an alternative history of American modern architecture highlighting the often overlooked influence of architectural models and their makers

Forty Ways to Think About Architecture Iain Borden, Murray Fraser, Barbara Penner, 2014-08-11 How do we think about architecture historically and theoretically Forty Ways to Think about Architecture provides an introduction to some of the wide ranging ways in which architectural history and theory are being approached today The inspiration for this project is the work of Adrian Forty Professor of Architectural History at the Bartlett School of Architecture University College London UCL who has been internationally renowned as the UK's leading academic in the discipline for 40 years Forty's many publications notably Objects of Desire 1986 Words and Buildings 2000 and Concrete and Culture 2012 have been crucial to opening up new approaches to architectural history and theory and have helped to establish entirely new areas of study His teaching at The Bartlett has enthused a new generation about the exciting possibilities of architectural history and theory as a field This collection takes in a total of 40 essays covering key subjects ranging from memory and heritage to everyday life building materials and city spaces As well as critical theory philosophy literature and experimental design it refers to more immediate and topical issues in the built environment such as globalisation localism regeneration and ecologies Concise and engaging entries reflect on architecture from a range of perspectives Contributors include eminent historians and theorists from elsewhere such as Jean Louis Cohen Briony Fer Hilde Heynen Mary McLeod Griselda Pollock Penny Sparke and Anthony Vidler as well as Forty's colleagues from the Bartlett School of Architecture including Iain Borden Murray Fraser Peter Hall Barbara Penner Jane Rendell and Andrew Saint Forty Ways to Think about Architecture also features contributions from distinguished architects such as Tony Fretton Jeremy Till and Sarah Wigglesworth and well known critics and architectural writers such as Tom Dyckhoff William Menking and Thomas Weaver Many of the contributors are former students of Adrian Forty Through these diverse essays readers are encouraged to think about how architectural history and theory relates to their own research and design practices thus using the work of Adrian Forty as a catalyst for fresh and innovative thinking about architecture as a subject

Building the Cold War Annabel Jane Wharton, 2001 In postwar Europe and the Middle East Hilton hotels were quite literally little Americas For American businessmen and tourists a Hilton Hotel with the comfortable familiarity of an English speaking staff a restaurant that served cheeseburgers and milkshakes trans Atlantic telephone lines and most important air conditioned modernity offered a respite from the disturbingly alien For impoverished local populations these same features lent the Hilton a utopian aura The Hilton was a space of luxury and desire a space that realized permanently and prominently the new and powerful presence of the United States Building the Cold War examines the architectural means by which the Hilton was written into the urban topographies of the major cities of Europe and the Middle East as an effective representation of the United States Between 1953 and 1966 Hilton International built sixteen luxury hotels abroad Often the Hilton was the first significant modern structure in the host city as well as its finest hotel The Hiltons introduced a striking visual contrast to the traditional architectural forms of such cities as Istanbul Cairo Athens and Jerusalem where the impact of its new architecture was amplified by the hotel s unprecedented siting and scale Even in cities familiar with the Modern the new Hilton often dominated the urban landscape with its height changing the look of the city The London Hilton on Park Lane for example was the first structure in London that was higher than St Paul s cathedral In his autobiography Conrad N Hilton claimed that these hotels were constructed for profit and for political impact an integral part of my dream was to show the countries most exposed to Communism the other side of the coin the fruits of the free world Exploring everything the carefully drafted contracts for the buildings to the remarkable visual and social impact on their host cities Wharton offers a theoretically sophisticated critique of one of the Cold War s first international businesses and demonstrates that the Hilton s role in the struggle against Communism was as Conrad Hilton declared significant though in ways that he could not have imagined Many of these postwar Hiltons still flourish Those who stay in them will learn a great deal about their experience from this new assessment of hotel space
