Modernity And Housing

Peter G. Rowe

Modernity And Housing:

Modernity and Housing Peter G. Rowe, 1993 Starting from the question of how can the design of modern housing can be successful Peter Rowe explores the social cultural and expressive history of housing at two crucial moments the first large scale developments along modernist lines in the 1920s and the widespread reconsideration of modernist principles in the 1970s Although the inquiry is conducted along historical and theoretical lines it proposes to uncover practical principles that may guide the design of modern housing each principle responding to a contemporary architectural paradox posed by modern conditions Six detailed case studies form the illustrative centerpiece of the book Modernity and Housing embraces three more or less parallel themes concerning modernity the rise of technocracy and the attendant tendency of modern space to become universal while the experience of time is confined to the present the problem of representation for a culture in which subject centered reason has replaced metaphysical foundations and social practices that give rise to urban concentrations and the production of mass housing on an unprecedented scale Within these themes the modern experience of space and time philosophically grounds discussion of local and traditional versus universal and novel building practices The perspective of subject centered reason grounds the exploration of the use of abstract forms and the concomitant problem of providing for an expressive architectural language while the unprecedented quantities of housing production raise the thorny issue of widely defining a normative building program that allows for local particularity The case studies cover Sunnyside Gardens New York Romerstadt Frankfurt am Main Kiefhoek Rotterdam Byker Redevelopment United Kingdom Villa Victoria United States Malagueira Quarter Portugal An appendix contains an annotated and statistical summary of all major housing projects described in the text about 40 with notes that include the date size place architect client housing type relative densities and other items of interest Peter G Rowe is Raymond Garbe Professor of Architecture and Urban Design and Dean of the Graduate School of Design at Harvard University His previous books include Design Thinking and Making a Middle Landscape

Modernity and Housing (in Acq) Peter G. Rowe, 1993 Explores the social cultural and expressive history of housing during two periods the large scale developments in the 1920s and the widespread modernist principles in the 1970s A theoretical and historical inquiry the text also aims to inspire the design of modern housing

Manufacturing a Socialist Modernity Kimberly Elman Zarecor, 2011-04-10 Eastern European prefabricated housing blocks are often vilified as the visible manifestations of everything that was wrong with state socialism For many inside and outside the region the uniformity of these buildings became symbols of the dullness and drudgery of everyday life Manufacturing a Socialist Modernity complicates this common perception Analyzing the cultural intellectual and professional debates surrounding the construction of mass housing in early postwar Czechoslovakia Zarecor shows that these housing blocks served an essential function in the planned economy and reflected an interwar aesthetic derived from constructivism and functionalism that carried forward into the 1950s With a focus on prefabricated and standardized housing built from 1945 to 1960 Zarecor offers broad and innovative insights into the country's transition from capitalism to state socialism. She demonstrates that during this shift architects and engineers consistently strove to meet the needs of Czechs and Slovaks despite challenging economic conditions, a lack of material resources, and manufacturing and technological limitations. In the process, architects were asked to put aside their individual creative aspirations and transform themselves into technicians and industrial producers. Manufacturing a Socialist Modernity is the first comprehensive history of architectural practice and the emergence of prefabricated housing in the Eastern Bloc. Through discussions of individual architects and projects as well as building typologies, professional associations, and institutional organization, it opens a rare window into the cultural and economic life of Eastern Europe during the early postwar period. Housing and Dwelling Barbara Miller Lane, 2006-11 A collection of thought-provoking essays on the changing face of domestic architecture over two centuries, highlighting the wide range of source materials and theoretical perspectives available to scholars of architectural history. Key Urban Housing of the Twentieth Century Hilary French, 2008-10-28 A collection of housing designs built over the last hundred years illustrating innovative approaches. Fourth in the Key series with newly drawn plans suitable for study in architecture schools, this volume will appeal to students of urban design and planning as well as architecture. Key developments covered include early apartment blocks, the projects of European modernism, high-rise and large-scale schemes, and postmodernism. Exterior and interior photographs show materials, massing, and context. 150 color photographs, 500 line drawings. The Routledge Companion to Modernity, Space and Gender Alexandra Staub, 2018-03-09 The Routledge Companion to Modernity, Space and Gender reframes the discussion of modernity, space, and gender by examining how modernity has been defined in various cultural contexts of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries, how this definition has been expressed spatially and architecturally, and what effect this has had on women in their everyday lives. In doing so, this volume presents theories and methods for understanding space and gender as they relate to the development of cities, urban space, and individual building types such as housing, work spaces, or commercial spaces in both the creation of and resistance to social transformations and modern global capitalism. The book contains a diverse range of case studies from the US, Europe, the UK, and Asian countries such as China and India, which bring together a multiplicity of approaches to a continuing and common issue and reinforces the need for alternatives to the existing theoretical canon. Modern Housing for America Gail Radford, 2008-10-03 In an era when many decry the failures of federal housing programs, this book introduces us to appealing but largely forgotten alternatives that existed when federal policies were first defined in the New Deal. Led by Catherine Bauer, supporters of the modern housing initiative argued that government should emphasize non-commercial development of imaginatively designed, compact neighborhoods with extensive parks and social services. The book explores the question of how Americans might have responded to this option through case studies of experimental developments in Philadelphia and New York. While defeated during the 1930s, modern housing ideas suggest a variety of design and financial strategies that could contribute to solving the housing problems of our own time New Urban Housing Hilary French, 2006-01-01 A timely investigation of the most innovative recent urban housing constructions The design of high density housing is inextricably linked to the growth of towns and cities as urban centers have increased in both geographical size and density housing has had to be provided to accommodate the numbers and needs of the population Whether highly visible or merged with the existing cityscape a vast proportion of the fabric of any city is made up of residential space New Urban Housing looks at a selection of some of the most inventive contemporary projects built in countries around the world Author Hilary French provides a comprehensive introduction to this building type from its industrial beginnings in London and Paris to New York City's Lower East Side and the 20th century designs of Le Corbusier Antonio Sant'Elia and Mies van der Rohe Lavishly illustrated the book examines different formal typologies of urban housing terrace and row houses quadrangles and courtyards city blocks and infill or renovated and reused sites and towers and slab blocks Thirty six case studies from fourteen countries are presented by architects including Steven Holl Richard Meier Kohn Pedersen Fox Architecture Eduardo Souto de Moura and Renzo Piano Each is illustrated in full color and is accompanied by detailed plans and sections that discuss the needs of the site and place the project in its surrounding context New Urban Housing features these buildings and more Contemporaine Chicago Donnybrook Quarter London Harold Way Apartments Hollywood Mondrian Apartments Sydney Simmons Hall MIT Cambridge MA Yerba Buena Lofts San Francisco The Challenge of Modernity Adelheid von Saldern, 2002 A collection of work in translation by the celebrated influential German historian Adelheid von Saldern Modernity for the Masses Ana María León, 2021-03-16 2022 PROSE Award Finalist in Architecture and Urban Planning 2022 Association for Latin American Art Arvey Foundation Book Award Honorable Mention Throughout the early twentieth century waves of migration brought working class people to the outskirts of Buenos Aires This prompted a dilemma Where should these restive populations be situated relative to the city's spatial politics Might housing serve as a tool to discipline their behavior Enter Antonio Bonet a Catalan architect inspired by the transatlantic modernist and surrealist movements Ana María León follows Bonet's decades long state backed quest to house Buenos Aires's diverse and fractious population Working with totalitarian and populist regimes Bonet developed three large scale housing plans each scuttled as a new government took over Yet these incomplete plans Bonet's dreams teach us much about the relationship between modernism and state power Modernity for the Masses finds in Bonet's projects the disconnect between modern architecture's discourse of emancipation and the reality of its rationalizing control Although he and his patrons constantly glorified the people and depicted them in housing plans Bonet never consulted them Instead he succumbed to official and elite fears of the people's latent political power In careful readings of Bonet's work León discovers the progressive erasure of surrealism's psychological sensitivity replaced with an impulse realized in modernist design to contain the increasingly empowered population Planning and Housing in the Rapidly Urbanising World Paul Jenkins, Harry Smith, Ya Ping Wang, 2006-11-21 Written specifically as a teaching text and authored by a team of leading academics in the field this is the first book to bring together the key issues of rapid urbanisation with approaches to planning and housing Outlining and explaining core concepts from informal settlements to sustainability it focuses on the rapid urbanization of developing countries with case studies from Latin America Asia and Sub Saharan Africa The impact of rapid urbanization and associated globalization on land use and housing is described and analyzed with reference to the particular issues of poverty health and the environment of these areas Providing an accessible introduction to the key issues as well as enhancing current theoretical debates and exploring practical applications this book is an essential resource for students and researchers in this area Urban Intensities Peter G. Rowe,Har Ye

Kan,2014-08-20 Diversity and density in housing today Accomodation of diversity and the creation of urban density are a focus of world wide building and planning activities today This book combines the architectural and urban scales to demonstrate that it is a specific quality urban intensity which determines the success of housing The authors provide a typology of housing according to the ways in which diversity and density are created Comparisons with historical models and critical appraisals based on the authors unique standing give ample information on the pros and cons of major types of housing their pitfalls and successful examples Newly created sets of drawings from floor plans to spectacular 3D aerial views of the buildings in their urban contexts accompany each of the more than twenty case studies that are described and analyzed in detail The approach taken here relates to many pressing issues in contemporary housing including the avoidance of urban sprawl the revival of city centers and the ongoing search for innovative housing types A qualitative approach to diversity and density in housing A concept that unites architectural and urban design A wide range of original drawings of benchmark case studies Flexible Housing Jeremy Till,Tatjana Schneider,2016-09-19 Flexible housing is housing that can adjust to the changing needs of the user and accommodate new technologies as they emerge Flexible Housing by Jeremy Till and Tatjana Schneider examines the past present and future of this important subject through over 160 international examples Specially commissioned plans printed to scale together with over 200 illustrations and diagrams provide fascinating detail and allow direct visual comparisons to be made Combining history theory and design the book explains the social and economic benefits that can be achieved and shows the various ways it has been and can be delivered The book ends with an accessible guide to how flexible housing might be designed and constructed today to achieve adaptable and ultimately sustainable buildings Housing designers housing managers and students of architecture construction and housing will find this book of immense value both as a comprehensive reference and design manual Suspending Modernity: The Architecture of Franco Albini Professor Kay Bea Jones,2014-11-28 Franco Albini s works of architecture and design produced between 1930 and 1977 have enjoyed a recent revival but to date have received only sporadic scholarly attention from historians and critics of the Modern Movement A chorus of Italian voices has sung his praises none more eloquently than his prot g Renzo Piano Kay Bea Jones illuminating study of selected works by Studio Albini will reintroduce his contributions to one of the most productive periods in Italian design Albini emerged from the ideology of Rationalism to produce some of Italy's most coherent and poetic examples of modern design He collaborated for over 25 years with Franca Helg and at a time when professional male female partnerships were virtually unknown His museums and installation motifs changed the way Italians displayed historic artifacts He composed novel suspension structures for dwellings shops galleries and his signature INA pavilions where levity and gravity became symbolic devices for connoting his subjects Albini clarified the vital role of tradition in modern architecture as he experimented with domestic space His cohort defied CIAM ideologies to re-socialize postwar housing and speculate on ways of reviving Italian cities He explored new fabrication technologies from the scale of furniture to wide span steel structures yet he never abandoned the rigors of craft and detail in favor of mass production

Suspending Modernity follows the evolution of Albini's most important buildings and projects even as they reveal his apprehensive attitudes about the modern condition Jones argues here that Albini's masterful use of materials and architectural expression mark an epic paradigm shift in the modern period

Courtyard Housing Brian Edwards, 2006 This book demonstrates through discussions on sustainability and regional identity and via a series of case studies that the courtyard housing form has a future as well as a past

Housing and Social Transition in Japan Yosuke Hirayama, Richard Ronald, 2006-11-24 Bringing together a number of perspectives on the Japanese housing system Housing and Social Transition in Japan provides a comprehensive challenging and theoretically developed account of the dynamic role of the housing system during a period of unprecedented social and economic change in one of the most enigmatic social political and economic systems of the modern world While Japan demonstrates many of the characteristics of some western housing and social systems including mass homeownership and consumption based lifestyles extensive economic growth and rapid urban modernization has been achieved in balance with traditional social values and the maintenance of the family system

Helpfully divided into three sections Housing and Social Transition in Japan explores the dynamics of the development of the housing system in post war Japan deals with social issues related to housing in terms of social aging family relations gender and inequality addresses the Japanese housing system and social change in relation to comparative and theoretical frameworks As well as providing challenges and insights for the academic community at large this book also provides a good introduction to the study of Japan and its housing economic social and welfare system generally

Post-War Public Housing and Well-Being Izumi Kuroishi, 2025-07-31 This collection illustrates the evolving role of housing as a symbol of modernity a tool for economic recovery and a response to societal transitions It argues that understanding earlier efforts to integrate well being in the twentieth century can provide valuable insights for contemporary actors in the built environment who are working to address these issues today As such it explores and shines light on this lesser known history drawing on case studies it focuses on the intersection of public housing well being and social change in the aftermath of the Second World War With case studies from the UK US Singapore Japan Germany China and Spain this volume provides insights into how these countries have shaped the values designs and institutions of their dwellings By incorporating diverse cultural contexts it contributes to a nuanced understanding of housing dynamics and well being Through a multidisciplinary lens this volume encourages a re evaluation of living conditions and fundamental values emphasising the dynamic interplay between humans their social environment and diverse living environments This book is essential for scholars researchers professionals students policymakers and practitioners in cultural history architecture planning urban studies sociology education and public policy

Modern Middle-Class Housing in Tehran Rana Habibi, 2020-11-16 In Modern Middle Class Housing in Tehran Reproduction of an Archetype Rana Habibi offers an engaging analysis of the modern urban history of Tehran during the Cold War period 1945 1979 The book while arguing about the institutionalism of modernity in the form of modern middle class housing in Tehran shows how vernacular archetypes found their way into the construction of new neighborhoods The trajectory of ideal modernism towards popular modernism the introduction of modern taste to traditional society through architects while tracing the path of transnational models in local projects are all subjects extensively expounded by Rana Habibi through engaging graphical analyses and appealing theoretical interpretations involving five modern Tehran neighborhoods

Mass Housing Miles Glendinning, 2021-03-25 Shortlisted for the Alice Davis Hitchcock Medallion 2021 The Society of Architectural Historians of Great Britain It will become the standard work on the subject Literary Review This major work provides the first comprehensive history of one of modernism s most defining and controversial architectural legacies the 20th century drive to provide homes for the people Vast programmes of mass housing high rise low rise state funded and built in the modernist style became a truly global phenomenon leaving a legacy which has suffered waves of disillusionment in the West but which is now seeing a dramatic 21st century renaissance in the booming crowded cities of East Asia Providing a global approach to the history of Modernist mass housing production this authoritative study combines architectural history with the broader social political cultural aspects of mass housing particularly the mass politics of power and state building throughout the 20th century Exploring the relationship between built form ideology and political intervention it shows how mass housing not only reflected the transnational ideals of the Modernist project but also became a central legitimizing pillar of nation states worldwide In a compelling narrative which likens the spread of mass housing to a Hundred Years War of successive campaigns and retreats it traces the history around the globe from Europe via the USA Soviet Union and a network of international outposts to its ultimate optimistic resurgence in China and the East where it asks Are we facing a new dawn for mass housing or another great housing failure in the making

At Home in Postwar France Nicole C. Rudolph, 2015-03-01 After World War II France embarked on a project of modernization which included the development of the modern mass home At Home in Postwar France examines key groups of actors state officials architects sociologists and tastemakers arguing that modernizers looked to the home as a site for social engineering and nation building designers and advocates of the modern home contributed to the democratization of French society and the French home of the Trente Glorieuses as it was built and inhabited was a hybrid product of architects planners and residents understandings of modernity This volume identifies the right to comfort as an invention of the postwar period and suggests that the modern mass home played a vital role in shaping new expectations for well being and happiness
