Moebius Part 3 Jean Giraud, 2018-10-16 Working closely with Moebius Production in France Dark Horse presents the final part of Moebius's Inside Moebius series In this third and most surreal volume Jean Moebius Giraud exists in an expansive magical desert locale within his subconscious He not only meets and talks with several of his own creations like Stel Blueberry Major Grubert and Arzak but he encounters versions of himself from multiple decades and argues with them about art and creativity This final volume also features the last interview segment about this strange series between the artist and Isabelle Giraud Translation by World of Edena translator Diana Schutz Moebius Nicolas Labarre, 2025-01-15 Jean Giraud 1938-2012 started drawing comics in the late 1950s for a variety of French comics magazines Under his real name he found success in 1963 with the western series Blueberry written by Jean Michel Charlier and published in Pilote magazine In the 1970s he started producing science fiction works under the name of Moebius which brought him international success and which included works such as Arzach He died in 2012 as a global celebrity in the comics world and a major influence across visual media This first book length English language study of Moebius finally brings international attention to an artist whose influence on the medium was profound and immediate making him a role model for aspiring comics creators throughout his career He was widely imitated while at Matal Hurlant in the 1970s was prominent among the spiritual fathers of the comic book rebels in the 1990s and again an example for the independent artists identified as the new bande dessinée in France in the early 2000s Featuring close readings of key texts including Blueberry The Airtight Garage of Jerry Cornelius and The Long Tomorrow this volume examines Moebius's style and aesthetic achievement Notably the volume explores the tension between Giraud and Moebius one name for westerns the other for science fiction one name for the domestic market another as a global brand one name for the brush another for the pen one for the mainstream and the other for the underground Nicolas Labarre challenges those dichotomies especially in the later phases of Moebius's career unveiling the complex evolution of this understudied but influential artist The Francophone Bande Dessinée Charles Forsdick, Laurence

Text/Image Mosaics in French Culture Laurance Grove, 2017-03-02 This study compares text image interaction as manifested in emblem books and related forms and the modern bande dessinée or French language comic strip It moves beyond the issue of defining the emblematic genre to examine the ways in which emblems and their modern counterparts interact with the surrounding culture and what they disclose about that culture Drawing largely on primary material from the Bibliothèque nationale de France and from Glasgow University Library's Stirling Maxwell Collection of emblem literature Laurence Grove builds on the ideas of Marshall McLuhan Elizabeth Eisenstein and more recently Neil Rhodes and Jonathan Sawday Divided into four sections Theoretics Production Thematics and Reception Text Image Mosaics in French Culture broaches topics such as theoretical approaches past and present to text image forms the question of narrative within the scope of text image creations and the reuse of visual iconography for diametrically opposed political or religious purposes The author argues that despite the gap in time between the advent of emblems and that of comic strips the two forms are analogous in that both are the products of a parallel mentality The mindsets of the periods that popularised these forms have certain common features related to repeated social conditions rather than to the pure evolution over time Grove's analysis and historical contextualisation of that mentality provide insight into our own popular culture forms not only the comic strip but also other hybrid media such as advertising and the Internet His juxtaposition of emblems and the bande dessinée increases our understanding of all such combinations of picture and text

Textual & Visual Selves Natalie Edwards, Amy L. Hubbell, Ann Miller, 2011-12-01 Autobiography in France has taken a decidedly visual turn in recent years photographs shown or withheld become evidence of what was might have been or cannot be said photographers filmmakers and cartoonists undertake projects that explore issues of identity Textual and Visual Selves investigates from a variety of theoretical perspectives the ways in which the textual and the visual combine in certain French works to reconfigure ideas and images of self representation Surprisingly what these accounts reveal is that photography or film does not necessarily serve to shore up the referentiality of the autobiographical account on the contrary the inclusion of visual material can even increase indeterminacy and ambiguity Far from offering documentary evidence of an extratextual self coincident with the I of the text these images testify only to absence loss evasiveness and the desire to avoid objectification However where Roland Barthes famously saw the photograph as a prefiguration of death in this volume we see how the textual strategies deployed by these writers and artists result in work that is ultimately life affirming
