Moments In Melanesia:

Moments in Melanesia Regis Stella, 1994 Moments in Melanesia is a collection of short stories written by Melanesian writers. The book aims to encourage students to enjoy reading to learn about the world around them and to gain a better understanding of the value of literature. Written from various perspectives and in different and contrasting styles, the writers deal with a wide range of social and personal issues: marriage, adolescence, isolation, revenge, and crime. It is hoped that by bringing these stories before a new, large young audience, these stories will help foster the writing of more stories from Melanesia, stories that deal with Melanesian realities and dreams and give voice to more Melanesian moments. Methods, Moments, and Ethnographic Spaces in Asia Nayantara Sheoran Appleton, Caroline Bennett, 2021-04-15 Asia is changing. Socio-political shifts in the world economy, technological advances of monumental scales, movements of people and ideas alongside ongoing post-colonization projects across the region have created an emerging Asia, one confident and assertive of its place in the contemporary geopolitical sphere. As political and economic powers reassert Asian sovereignty in opposition to perceived Northern dominance and dramatic and rapid development in the region shift the relationship between the centre and the periphery, new renderings and imaginations of hierarchies of identity and power come to the fore. This changing environment leads to emerging challenges for anthropologists working in the region, both those who have been working there for years and new scholars entering the field. This volume considers these changes and the implications of this on our practice. By focusing on Asia as a site of enquiry, the contributors to this book discuss tensions and opportunities arising in their ethnographic fieldwork in light of a changing Asia. Drawing on personal reflections on Asia's global positioning in this contemporary moment, the contributors consider how fieldwork is being negotiated within the changing dynamics of anthropology in the region. This book then is a discussion on the shifting landscape of field sites and the resultant emerging research methodologies and is aimed at those who are already deeply immersed in fieldwork as well as those who are seeking ways to undertake it. The Anthropology of Morality in Melanesia and Beyond John Barker, 2016-04-01 The Anthropology of Morality in Melanesia and Beyond examines how Melanesians experience and deal with moral dilemmas and challenges. Taking Kenelm Burridge's seminal work as their starting point, the contributors focus upon public situations and types of people that exemplify key ethical contradictions for members of moral communities. While returning to some classical concerns such as the roles of big men and sorcerers, the book opens new territory with richly textured ethnographic studies and theoretical reviews that explore the interface between the values associated with indigenous village life and the ethical orientations associated with Christianity, the state, the marketplace, and other facets of modernity. A major contribution to the emerging field of the anthropology of morality, the volume includes some of the most prominent scholars working in the discipline today, including Bruce Knauft, Joel Robbins, F. G. Bailey, Deborah Gewertz, and Frederick Errington.

Contextualizing Theology in the South Pacific Randall G. Prior, 2019-07-10 This book engages with a widespread contemporary dilemma how do we do theology in a context where the cultures of the people are oral and not literate The nations of the South Pacific from their missionary beginnings inherited an approach to theology that was dominated by Western cultural categories The global movement of contextualization began to impact upon Pacific churches in the 1960s and challenged this inherited approach Significant changes have resulted but the dilemma has remained The dominant approach is still one that is defined by and better suited to literate cultures The consequence is that theology remains an alien enterprise distant from the life of the local churches and distant from the hearts and minds of the indigenous people In facing the dilemma this book exposes the fundamental differences between primary oral cultures and primary literate cultures and identifies the key factors that lie at the heart of the theological problem By addressing each of these in turn the author then paves the way ahead He offers a methodology for theology that is rooted within the oral cultural context of the South Pacific and potentially in any context where oral cultures are the norm The consequences for theology and for theological education are profound

Imagining the Other Regis Tove Stella, 2007-04-30 Much has been written about Papua New Guinea over the last century and too often in ways that legitimated or served colonial interests through highly pejorative and racist descriptions of Papua New Guineans Paying special attention to early travel literature works of fiction and colonial reports laws and legislation Regis Tove Stella reveals the complex and persistent network of discursive strategies deployed to subjugate the land and its people

Archaeological Theory in the New Millennium Oliver J. T. Harris, Craig Cipolla, 2017-06-26 Archaeological Theory in the New Millennium provides an account of the changing world of archaeological theory and a challenge to more traditional narratives of archaeological thought It charts the emergence of the new emphasis on relations as well as engaging with other current theoretical trends and the thinkers archaeologists regularly employ Bringing together different strands of global archaeological theory and placing them in dialogue the book explores the similarities and differences between different contemporary trends in theory while also highlighting potential strengths and weaknesses of different approaches Written in a way to maximise its accessibility in direct contrast to many of the sources on which it draws Archaeological Theory in the New Millennium is an essential guide to cutting edge theory for students and for professionals wishing to reacquaint themselves with this field

From Primitive to Postcolonial in Melanesia and Anthropology Bruce Knauft, 2025-10-01 What have anthropologists taught us about Melanesia one of anthropology's most important and intensively studied world regions In this book Professor Bruce Knaft draws together and critically reanalyzes what we know about major features of Melanesian cultural history warfare and politics gender bodily practices and spirituality as discerned from more than a century of academic study From Primitive to Postcolonial in Melanesia and Anthropology is arguably the most comprehensive single reassessment of Melanesia as an ethnographic world area to have been published in several decades Written for students as well as professional scholars this work further broadens our understanding by analyzing the history of Melanesian ethnography and relating this history to the larger relationship between Melanesia as a contemporary world area and anthropology as a field of contemporary human study Bruce M Knaft is Professor of Anthropology Emory University and the author of three previous books as well as some thirty journal articles and chapters Knaft s interests span a wide range of issues in the anthropology of Melanesia and he is articulate with general issues of cultural theory and anthropological history A Moment's Notice Carol J. Greenhouse,2018-07-05 Focusing on the problem of time the paradox of time s apparent universality and cultural relativity Carol J Greenhouse develops an original ethnographic account of our present moment the much heralded postmodern condition which is at the same time a reflexive analysis of ethnography itself She argues that time is about agency and accountability and that representations of time are used by institutions of law politics and scholarship to selectively refashion popular ideas of agency into paradigms of institutional legitimacy A Moment s Notice suggests that the problem of time in theory is the corollary of problems of power in practice Greenhouse develops her theory in examinations of three moments of cultural and political crisis the resistance of the Aztecs against Cortes the consolidation of China s First Empire and the recent partisan political contests over Supreme Court nominees in the United States In each of these cases temporal innovation is integral to political improvisation as traditions of sovereignty confront new cultural challenges These cases return the discussion to current issues of inequality postmodernity cultural pluralism and ethnography International Books in Print ,1990

The Journal of Pacific History Bibliography, 1988 Places and Politics in an Age of Globalization Roxann Prazniak, Arif Dirlik, 2001 This ambitious work provides a unique statement on the question of place based activism and its relationship to powerful forces of international capital Arguing that specific places around the world are sites for the defense and enhancement of daily life in the context of rapidly expanding global technologies and investment options the contributors reach for a vision of social development that supports sustainable humane cultures Bringing together the local and the global this work provides the first sustained linkage of ethnic groups in diaspora to macrocosmic processes of world capital that inevitably reach down to mediate even the most local experiences The essays ranging in their discussion of place from Los Angeles and New York to New Zealand and Indonesia offer both reasoned argument and authoritative information on how local experience interacts with larger processes of global capital and the diasporic phenomenon The book will be an invaluable resource and launching point for scholars and students in ethnic and identity studies and will interest all readers exploring the production of place and identification Sexual Difference Between Psychoanalysis and Vitalism Arun Saldanha, Hoon Song, 2015-03-24 Throughout the twentieth century psychoanalysis and feminism were the practico intellectual fields most systematic and subversive in demonstrating that humanity is sexually fissured More recently further advances in the philosophy of difference and renewed emphases on embodiment materiality and life offer possibilities for attending to dimensions of gender and sexuality that were previously underdeveloped This collection examines these possibilities insofar as they can either deepen or displace the traditional centrality of psychoanalysis in matters sexual The authors come from a wide range of backgrounds and defend their approaches to the problem of sexual difference in a variety of idioms drawing on key thinkers such as Lacan Irigaray Deleuze Foucault and Badiou It is rare to come across these thinkers together but sex is too crucial a site for critical thought not to mobilize every conceptual power available This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Angelaki The Journal of the Theoretical Humanities
