Barbara Nunberg

Poland Decentralization And Reform Of The State:

Poland World Bank,1992 The primary objective of this report is to take stock of Poland s progress in decentralization to local governments within the context of the Government s transition program and to make recommendations on how decentralization policy may support broaden and deepen transition objectives The transition program is at a crossroads however and making decentralization of the state consistent with the short and medium term stabilization and growth objectives of this program requires clear decisions about the pace and scope of decentralization After a chapter on a normative framework for decentralization the rest of the report is organized according to the key issues facing decentralization policy a assignment of public responsibilities by level of government b central local fiscal relations c financing of local government investments and d local government planning and financial management The final chapter provides an agenda for implementation of these recommendations Poland : decentralization and reform of the state

Banco Mundial,1992 Social Service Reform in the Postcommunist State Janelle A. Kerlin,2005-06-28 The fall of Communist regimes in Eastern Europe raised the complex question of how social services were to be distributed and administered in countries with legacies of highly centralized state In Poland a series of reforms attempted to modify and decentralize social service programs Yet with Poland s second round of decentralization long held and clearly specified reform goals were undermined from the very outset In this insightful detailed and carefully argued study Janelle A Kerlin demonstrates how and why reforms intended to improve services and increase citizen participation in social service programming largely failed to meet expected goals The politics of reform development including political deals exclusionary tactics and hidden maneuvering by Polish policymakers prevented any significant upgrade of services or real change in decision making structures Conflicting ideologies and pressures on policy actors stemming from historical institutional political and international sources often resulted in compromises that led to unfavorable public service outcomes In this book Kerlin uses focused interviews with leading reform actors and a nationwide representative survey of two hundred public social service institutions to develop a model that connects the politics of the decentralization process with social service outcomes Not only students of the former Soviet bloc but also those interested in the links between politics and policy outcomes more broadly will find in this volume an informative and instructive case study that has far reaching implications

Who Matters at the World Bank? Kim Moloney, 2022 Who Matters at the World Bank explores who matters in a 32 year history 1980 2012 of policy change within the World Bank's public sector management and public sector governance agenda and is anchored within the public administration discipline and its understanding of bureaucracy bureaucratic politics and stakeholder influences In response to constructivist scholars concerns about politics and the organizational culture of international civil servants within international organizations Kim Moloney uses stakeholder theory and a bureaucratic politics approach to suggest the normality of politics policy debate and policy evolution The book also highlights how for 21 of those 32 years it was not external stakeholders but the international civil servants of the World Bank who most influenced led developed and institutionalized this sector s agenda In so doing the book explains how one sector of the Bank s work rose against the odds from being included in just under 3% of approved projects in 1980 to 73% of all projects approved between 1991 and 2012
