Population In An Interacting World:

Population in an Interacting World William Alonso, 1987 Earth's human population inhabits a complex web shaping population movements and patterns of births and deaths. Nine experts explore the nature of the interplay linking rich and poor countries. The demographic experience of each nation occurs in a larger context of social, political, economic, cultural, religious, military, and biological forces. Experiencing World History Paul Vauthier Adams, 2000-08 The authors Paul V Adams, Lily Hwa, Erick D Langer, Peter N Stearns, and Merry Wiesner Hanks present a chronological framework of world history in terms of its impact on society in Asia, Africa, Europe, the Americas, and the Pacific. Routledge Handbook of Asian Demography Zhongwei Zhao, Adrian C. Hayes, 2017-12-14 Home to close to 60 per cent of the world's population, Asia is the largest and by far the most populous continent. It is also extremely diverse physically and culturally. Asian countries and regions have their own distinctive histories, cultural traditions, religious beliefs, and political systems, and they have often pursued different routes to development. Asian populations also present a striking array of demographic characteristics and stages of demographic transition. This handbook is the first to provide a comprehensive study of population change across the whole of Asia. Comprising 28 chapters by more than 40 international experts, this handbook examines demographic transitions on the continent, their considerable variations, their causes and consequences, and their relationships with a wide range of social, economic, political, and cultural processes. Major topics covered include population studies and sources of demographic data, historical demography, family planning and fertility decline, sex preferences, mortality changes, causes of death, HIV/AIDS, population distribution and migration, urbanization, marriage and family, human capital and labour force, population ageing, demographic dividends, political demography, population and environment, and Asia's demographic future. This handbook provides an authoritative and comprehensive reference for researchers, policymakers, academics, students, and anyone who is interested in population change in Asia and the world. Megatrends in Global Interaction Bertelsmann Foundation (ed.), 2012-07-16 We inhabit an increasingly interconnected world, yet too often policymakers and advisors view each issue in a vacuum, focusing primarily on short-term impacts. All of us, policymakers, citizens, and local and global communities, must begin to consider how the major trends that shape our world are likely to develop and how they will intersect and influence one another. This volume is designed to explore and discuss correlations between these global trends or megatrends: Global Governance, Demographic Change and Migration, Energy and Natural Resources, Global Security, Biodiversity, and Economic Globalization. The book's primary focus is to provide a qualitative overview of the trends and to analyze their intersections and interdependencies in the 21st century. The authors hope it will help define some of the complex challenges and exciting opportunities to shaping a world of sustainable economies and societies. The Encyclopedia Americana, 1998 EthniCity Curtis C. Roseman, Hans-Dieter Laux, Günter Thieme, 1996 Urban ethnic groups frequently are confronted by residential segregation, discrimination, xenophobia, and conflict. However, ethnic diversity has also enriched the urban scene with a variety of languages religions businesses and cultural activities In this volume distinguished scholars present analyses of ethnic population change in twelve urban areas Chicago Los Angeles Sydney Melbourne Paris London Amsterdam the Ruhr conurbation Vienna Milan Madrid Johannesburg Durban and Singapore EthniCity reveals fundamental commonalities in ethnic community dynamics as well as significant differences from place to place It will be important for scholars and students of human geography sociology anthropology and history

Determinants Of Emigration From

Mexico, Central America, And The Caribbean Sergio Diaz-briquets, 2019-03-07 The Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 IRCA was a manifestation of widespread public concern over the volume of undocumented immigration into the United States. The principal innovation of this legislation, the provision to impose penalties on employers who knowingly hire undocumented immigrants, was a response to this concern. This effort at restriction was tempered in IRCA by other provisions permitting the legalization of two types of undocumented immigrants: those who had resided in the United States since January 1, 1982, and what were called special agricultural workers (SAWs), persons who had worked in perishable crop agriculture for at least 90 days during specified periods from 1983 to 1986. Approximately 3.1 million persons sought legalization, what is popularly referred to as amnesty, under these two provisions. The breakdown was roughly 1.8 million under the regular program and 1.3 million as SAWs. Mexicans made up 75 percent of the combined legalization requests.

The Interactive World of Severe Mental Illness Diana J. Semmelhack, Larry Ende, Arthur Freeman, Clive Hazell, Colleen L. Barron, Garry L. Trefl, 2015-07-03 In our society, medication is often seen as the treatment for severe mental illness, with psychotherapy a secondary treatment. However, quality social interaction may be as important for the recovery of those with severe mental illness as are treatments. This volume makes this point while describing the emotionally moving lives of eight individuals with severe mental illness as they exist in the U.S. mental health system. Offering social and psychological insight into their experiences, these stories demonstrate how patients can create meaningful lives in the face of great difficulties. Based on in-depth interviews with clients with severe mental illness, this volume explores which structures of interaction encourage growth for people with severe mental illness and which trigger psychological damage. It considers the clients' relationships with friends, family, peers, spouses, lovers, co-workers, mental health professionals, institutions, the community, and the society as a whole. It focuses specifically on how structures of social interaction can promote or harm psychological growth and how interaction dynamics affect the psychological well-being of individuals with severe mental illness.

Woody Plants and Forest Ecosystems in a Complex World - Ecological Interactions and Physiological Functioning Above and Below Ground Boris Rewald, Christian Ammer, Thorsten Grams, Henrik Hartmann, Guenter Hoch, Katharina Maria Keiblinger, Andrey V. Malyshev, Ina Christin Meier, 2020-04-01

Globalization and Neoliberalism Thomas Klak, 2000-01-01 How do recent trends toward globalization affect the Caribbean, a region whose suppliers, production markets, and politics have been globalized for centuries? What is the status of neoliberal development policy in the Caribbean, where the rewards for belt tightening and economic opening have been slow in coming? How have Caribbean policymakers and citizens responded to and resisted the pressures to conform to the new rules of the global economy? By examining these questions through the lens of political economy, this volume explores the interaction among development, trade, foreign policy, the environment, tourism, gender relations, and migration. With its global implications, this book will be invaluable for students and scholars from all disciplines who are concerned with the impact of development and globalization.

The 21st Century Singularity and Global Futures Andrey V. Korotayev, David J. LePoire, 2020-01-02 This book introduces a Big History perspective to understand the acceleration of social technological and economic trends towards a near term singularity marking a radical turning point in the evolution of our planet It traces the emergence of accelerating innovation rates through global history and highlights major historical transformations throughout the evolution of life humans and civilization The authors pursue an interdisciplinary approach also drawing on concepts from physics and evolutionary biology to offer potential models of the underlying mechanisms driving this acceleration along with potential clues on how it might progress The contributions gathered here are divided into five parts the first of which studies historical mega trends in relation to a variety of aspects including technology population energy and information The second part is dedicated to a variety of models that can help understand the potential mechanisms and support extrapolation In turn the third part explores various potential future scenarios along with the paths and decisions that are required The fourth part presents philosophical perspectives on the potential deeper meaning and implications of the trend towards singularity while the fifth and last part discusses the implications of the Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence SETI Given its scope the book will appeal to scholars from various disciplines interested in historical trends technological change and evolutionary processes

Italy's Foreign Policy in the Twenty-first Century Ludovica Marchi, Richard Whitman, Geoffrey Edwards, 2014-10-17 Italy's foreign policy has often been dismissed as too idiosyncratic inconsistent and lacking ambition This book offers new insights into the position Italy has attained in the international community in the 21st century It explores how the country has sought to take advantage of its passage from a bipolar to a multipolar system and assesses the ways in which it has engaged internationally its new responsibilities and the manner in which it conducts its policies in the pursuit of its interests whether political or commercial It argues that although Italy is engaged internationally there is a gap between its actions and what it actually delivers and as long as this gap continues Italy is likely to remain a partial and unreliable foreign policy actor Divided into three parts this book explores the context and processes which characterise Italy's external action its relations with crucial countries and regions such as the US the EU and the BRICs its security and defence policies This book will be of interest to students and scholars of European Politics Foreign Policy analysis and Italian studies

Facing Up to Global Warming N.F. Gray, 2015-08-18 In this volume Professor N F Gray offers a comprehensive primer on climate change sustainability and how the two concepts are related This book consists of fifteen chapters each treating a specific aspect of the current global crisis including scientific background as well as an up to date appraisal of the issue at hand It covers the reasons behind climate change and the effect it will have on the planet and on the reader directly Gray also presents readers with the means to assess their own environmental impact and details positive individual and community actions to address global warming Climate change global warming and sustainability are phrases that almost everyone has heard whether on the news or around the dinner table The increasing frequency of major events such as droughts severe storms and floods are beginning to make these concepts inescapable and being fully informed is an absolute necessity for students and indeed for us all Nick Gray PhD ScD is a founding member of the Environmental Sciences Unit 1979 at Trinity College Dublin which was the first center for postgraduate research and training in environmental science and technology in Ireland He has written a number of books and over 150 research papers and book chapters and currently serves as the Director of the Trinity Centre for the Environment Population Today ,1986
