M. H. Atwater, 2004 First hand accounts of near death experiences Publisher s description The Dead Man at the End of Forever J. Arturo Revelo, 2011-10 He is a private detective in San Francisco but he can t stay away from Bakersfield You can call Richard Tessa any day just don t call him Dick The Maltese detective from Bakersfield gets cases solved He treats every client the same way with contempt Sarcastic blunt opinionated he always says what s on his mind no matter who s paying him or holding the gun to his face be a religious zealot or the Canadian Secret Service The Dead Man at The End of Forever are three stories of murder and intrigue The tales described as the best detective stories in years involve the murders of Tony Sebastian a rich man going punk rocker Mary Carlston a public defender killed defending a terrorist and Oscar Wedemayer Jones also known to his terrorist friends and his wife as Hans Shepherd Twists and turns from the foggy streets of San Francisco to the top of the Southern Sierra Nevada from sleepy San Jose to bursting at the seams L A Guns bullets corpses and money the stuff Richard Tessa can t stay away from whenever he is on the trail of who done it The Human Relationship to Nature Matthew R. Foster, 2016-11-02 Growing alarm over the harm done by humans to the natural world and even to the viability of our own industrial civilization compels us to ask the deeper moral question What should be the human relationship to nature Matthew R Foster starts by assessing three contrasting patterns of moral reasoning the Progress Ethic that created the world we live in the biblically inspired Stewardship Ethic and the Connection Ethic based on scientific understanding of the interdependence of all natural entities Critical analysis reveals that none of these ethics is able to sustain the values it advocates due to two unsupportable presumptions that the norms of human morality are commensurate with the natural world and that the value of an entity is an intrinsic property Foster argues that in order for a future environmental ethic to be both logically coherent and environmentally constructive it must start from unconventional notions First because nature will never be commensurate with human moral reasoning non rational resources must be employed despite the risks involved Second value resides in the relationship of one entity to another and does not belong intrinsically to either in short value is foremost a verb rather than a noun Foster proposes a new paradigm attentive to the realm of value relations among all natural entities one which offers mediating opportunities between nature and morality In this new ethic there are no shoulds Rather moral responsibilities to the natural entities around us are elective placing us in an unfamiliar yet potentially liberating network of relationships This book will be of interest to scholars both instructors and students of environmental ethics philosophy religion and intellectual history and all who are concerned about the environmental challenges of our time
