Responsive Evaluation Vol 92 New Directions For Evaluation:

Evaluation Roots Marvin C. Alkin, 2012-04-12 Evaluation Roots A Wider Perspective of Theorists Views and Influences Second Edition provides an updated examination of current evaluation theories and traces their evolution Marvin C Alkin shows how theories build upon theories and how the theories are related to each other The way in which these evaluation roots grew to form a tree helps to provide a better understanding of evaluation theory In addition to the editor s overview the book contains essays by leading evaluation theorists In these pieces the evaluators comment on their own development and give their views of their placement upon the tree All royalties from sales of this book are donated to support the AEA Research on Evaluation Student Award

Responsive Evaluation Jennifer C. Greene, Tineke A. Abma, 2002-01-21 With his 1973 address titled Program Evaluation Particularly Responsive Evaluation Robert Stake offered a new vision and rationale for educational and social program evaluation In this vision evaluation was reframed from the application of sophisticated analytic techniques that address distant policymakers questions of program benefits and effectiveness on the average to an engagement with on site practitioners about the quality and meaning of their practice These innovative ideas helped accelerate a transformation of the evaluation enterprise into its current pluralistic character within which remain multiple and varied legacies of key responsive evaluation principles This volume offers some of those legacies representing central epistemological artistic and political dimensions of Stake s original commitment to responsiveness This is the 92nd issue of the Jossey Bass series New Directions for Evaluation

Evaluation Practice Reconsidered Thomas A. Schwandt, 2002 Taken collectively the ideas explored here suggest a way of reasoning about and engaging in evaluation that is not bound either to the characterization of evaluation as applied social science or to efforts to foster the development of evaluation as a professional practice of experts Rather the book explores evaluation as practical hermeneutics

The SAGE Handbook of Evaluation Ian Shaw, Ian Graham Ronald Shaw, Jennifer C Greene, Melvin M Mark, 2006-07-27 In this comprehensive handbook an examination of the complexities of contemporary evaluation contributes to the ongoing dialogue that arises in professional efforts to evaluate people related programs policies and practices The SAGE Handbook of Evaluation is a unique and authoritative resource consisting of 25 chapters covering a range of evaluation theories and techniques in a single accessible volume With contributions from world leading figures in their fields overseen by an eminent international editorial board this handbook is an extensive and user friendly resource

Standards-Based and Responsive Evaluation Robert E. Stake, 2003-10-30 We can be grateful that Dr Stake decided to cap his distinguished career by sharing his ideas in writing This is a book that evaluators will want to have in their personal library It tells us a lot about our field highlights contrasting ways of evaluating without pitting one against the other and manages to remind us why many of us chose this line of work in the first place

EVALUATION AND PROGRAM PLANNING Authored by a master writer and evaluator Standards Based and Responsive Evaluation explores the many conceptual choices an evaluator needs to make when doing an evaluation devoting attention to stakeholders weighing ethical risks and writing a useful report The book begins with the main strategic choices an evaluator needs to make between approaches quantitatively by explicating criteria needs standards and performances or qualitatively by studying the activity aspirations problems and accomplishments of the participants and critical observers After reading the text students will have a better appreciation of evaluation as a process that needs to be custom fit to the situation Throughout the book Stake presents evaluation as a series of choices for the reader To remain independent or to join with program staff or stakeholders To value personal experience as evidence or to shun it as biased To aid development formatively or to assess the existing program summatively To use issues goals gains efficiency or problem solving as the key conceptual structure To invest small or large in trying out and validating data gathering procedures To support the standards and ethical codes of professional associations Standards Based and Responsive Evaluation will prove an essential text for program evaluation courses in education nursing social work psychology sociology communication and anthropology Experienced researchers and professional evaluators will also find this an invaluable reference for a more experiential interpretive approach to evaluation work and policy setting Key Features Provides readers with the tools they need to make choices while practicing evaluation Employs quotations poetry and cartoons to help the reader experience the concepts of evaluation Includes boxed examples from a variety of cases giving readers the opportunity to compare an actual evaluation situation with one in which they may be engaged Allows readers to access extensive examples of evaluation reports coding excerpts and more through a complementary Web site appendix

Critical Issues in Youth Work Management Jon Ord, 2013-06-17 This valuable textbook communicates the complexities and controversies at the heart of youth work management exploring key issues in a critical fashion Written by a team of experienced youth work lecturers the chapters cover topics such as planning evaluation and supervision whilst acknowledging the changing structures of integrated services and the impact of public service reform Divided into three sections it covers Historical and theoretical context Critical practice issues including leadership policy constraints planning and accountability Managing in different settings for instance integrated services and the voluntary sector Aimed at both youth work students studying for their professional qualification as well as practicing managers Critical Issues in Youth Work Management encourages critical thinking about what management in youth work is and what it can be It includes reflective questions and further reading and case studies are integrated throughout

Evaluation Mary Odell Butler, 2016-07-01 In an era of budgetary belt tightening policymakers must prove that their programs work or face drastic cuts in spending This book informed by the author's many years of practice in program evaluation and expertise as an anthropologist discusses in plain prose the theory and methods of culturally competent evaluation across a number of disciplines such as health and education for graduate and advanced undergraduate students and professionals The book guides readers through the process of evaluation in complex contexts created by cultural change the movement of populations economic forces and constantly emerging crises introduces rich ethnographic theory and methods developed by anthropologists to evaluators in other fields teaches anthropologists and other social scientists research techniques developed in such fields as business or public policy evaluation provides a strategy for building evidence from both qualitative and quantitative sources to form conclusions that have scientific credibility

Collecting and Interpreting Qualitative Materials Norman K. Denzin, Yvonna S. Lincoln, 2012-10-24 This book is the third of three paperback volumes taken from The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Research Fourth Edition It introduces the researcher to basic methods of gathering analyzing and interpreting qualitative empirical materials Part 1 moves from narrative inquiry to critical arts based inquiry to oral history observations visual methodologies and autoethnographic methods It then takes up analysis methods including computer assisted methodologies focus groups as well as strategies for analyzing talk and text The chapters in Part II discuss evidence interpretive adequacy forms of representation post qualitative inquiry the new information technologies and research the politics of evidence writing and evaluation practices

Participatory Evaluation Up Close J. Bradley Cousins, Jill Anne Chouinard, 2012-07-01 Empiricism provides the backbone of knowledge creation within social science disciplines e.g. psychology sociology and applied domains of study e.g. education administration alike Yet relative to such domains of inquiry comparatively little empirical research on evaluation has occurred and the research knowledge base been infrequently synthesized and integrated to influence theory and practice The proposed book aims to fill this void with regard to participatory evaluation a set of collaborative approaches to evaluation that is receiving considerable attention of late including a growing body of empirical studies The authors begin in Part 1 with the delineation of a widely known and familiar conceptual framework for participatory evaluation They then use the framework in Part 2 as a guide to conducting an extensive review of the extant empirical knowledge base in participatory evaluation culminating in a thematic analysis of what we know about the approach In Part 3 the authors focus on methodological considerations of doing research on participatory evaluation through a critique of existing studies and an explication of design choices drawn from their own research program The book concludes in Part 4 with implications for moving the field forward in terms of important research questions methodological direction and evaluation practice This book will be of central interest to evaluation theorists and to those who choose to conduct research on evaluation appeal will be conceptual and methodological It will provide excellent supplementary reading for graduate students many of whom seek to develop empirical studies on evaluation as part of their graduate programs Rife with examples of participatory evaluation in practice and practical implications the book will also benefit evaluation practitioners with an interest in evaluation capacity building and participatory and collaborative approaches to practice

MENC Handbook of Research Methodologies Richard Colwell, 2006-02-23 Combining key selections from the classic MENC Handbook of Research on Music Teaching and Learning Schirmer 1992 and the widely acclaimed New Handbook of Research on Music Teaching and Learning Oxford 2002 the MENC Handbook of Research Methodologies presents comprehensive coverage of the most important issues in music education research in a handy and accessible format A distinguished team of internationally recognized experts offers cogent and concise insights that provide readers with up to date information and references The volume covers the most important topics in this field including the role of research in music education philosophical historical qualitative and quantitative research as well as assessment and its relationship to research Practical and affordable this volume will prove essential for students and scholars of music education It is both an excellent starting point for those looking to gain an orientation to the field and an up to date reference guide to the most effective strategies for experienced researchers instructors and pedagogues

Arguments for Learning Bill Cope, Walter Feinberg, 2025-03-11 Almost every educational idea worth a thought has been considered at the University of Illinois and anything worth trying has been tested In this history of ideas Bill Cope and Walter Feinberg chronicle the intellectual lives of education thinkers at the university while tracking the development of educational ideas and practices in general Cope and Feinberg draw on conversations narratives and archival research that reveal how different generations explored their role in defining and carrying out the College's multifaceted mission Their account raises critical questions about the character of learning the aims of teaching and the nature of teaching as a profession At the same time the authors address issues that range from the role of schools in fostering individual and collective identity to the introduction of computer mediated and online learning Cope and Feinberg examine changes in self understanding about fundamental ideas and chart how the College evolved from its original narrow mission of training children's schoolteachers to embracing global perspectives. A wide-ranging portrait of an institution. Arguments for Learning uses the School of Education to tell the stories of thinkers dedicated to the idea that education can change the world for the better.

Evaluation for a Caring Society
Merel Visse, Tineke A. Abma, 2018-02-01 This book highlights views on responsive participatory and democratic approaches to evaluation from an ethos of care. It critically scrutinizes and discusses the invisibility of care in our contemporary Western societies and evaluation practices that aim to measure practices by external standards. Alternatively, the book proposes several foci for evaluators who work from a care perspective or wish to encourage a caring society. This is a society that sees evaluation and care as a continuously unfolding relational practice of moral political learning contributing to life-sustaining webs. At one level is the evaluator's immediately responsive and interpersonal encounter with the personal troubles of social actors most visible as Mills originally pointed out in an individual's biography and in those social settings directly open to the individual's lived experience. At another level, the sociological and political level, the evaluator operates at what Mills called the arena of public issues where immediate personal troubles are seen not only as problems encountered by individuals but as the result of structural and political arrangements in society. Evaluation for a caring society is thought to operate at both levels. Thomas A. Schwandt, Professor Emeritus, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. The intricate relationship between evaluation and care is hardly addressed by evaluators or caregivers. This book fills a gap as it focuses on the relationship between evaluation and care and provides a multitude of examples of evaluation as a caring practice. The book can serve as an antidote to the present-day haste in social practices and contribute in form and content to developing an evaluation practice which may foster a caring society. Guy Widdershoven, Professor of Philosophy and Ethics of Medicine and head of the Department of Medical Humanities at VU University Medical Center, VU University Amsterdam.

Collaborating with Community-based Organizations Through Consultation and Technical Assistance
Patricia Stone Motes, Peg McCartt Hess, 2007 Few aspects of American military history have been as vigorously debated as Harry Truman's decision to use atomic bombs against Japan. In this carefully crafted volume, Michael Kort describes the wartime circumstances and thinking that form the context for the decision to use these weapons, surveys the major debates related to that decision, and provides a comprehensive collection of key primary source documents that illuminate the behavior of the United States and Japan during the closing days of World War II. Kort opens with a summary of the debate over Hiroshima as it has evolved since 1945. He then provides a historical overview of the events in question, beginning with the decision and program to build the atomic bomb. Detailing the sequence of events leading to Japan's surrender, he revisits the decisive battles of the Pacific War and the motivations of American and Japanese leaders. Finally, Kort examines ten key issues in the discussion of Hiroshima and guides readers to relevant primary source documents, scholarly books, and articles.
