Rethinking Third Cinema Frieda Ekotto, Adeline Koh, 2009 In 1968 Argentinean Filmmakers Fernando Solanas and Octavio Getino first articulated the theory of a Third Cinema a revolutionary genre of cinema that would counter oppression on a global scale Intended to be a guerilla cinema geared at contesting the overwhelming dominance of Western cinema Solana and Getino distinguished Third Cinema from other forms of cinema classifying these other types as First Cinema commercial cinema epitomized by Hollywood and Second Cinema Third Cinema was supposed to be a liberatory tool particularly for the bulk of the world that was subject to European imperialism such as Latin America Africa and Asia Spanning a wide geographical spread of cinemas ranging from Latin America North and Sub Saharan Africa the Caribbean and Asia this book addresses the following questions how can we rethink the concept of Third Cinema for today How do new national cinemas and their accompanying media industries reflect the concerns of societies that are struggling with the implications of accelerated modernization and how are these concerns configured in new genres of aesthetics Is there still a Third Cinema component in contemporary cinemas and if so how can it be understood Remapping World Cinema Stephanie Dennison, Song Hwee Lim, 2006 Covering a broad scope this collection examines the cinemas of Europe East Asia India Africa and Latin America and will be of interest to scholars and students of film studies cultural studies and postcolonial studies as well as to film enthusiasts keen to explore a wider range of world cinema Jacket Third Cinema, World Cinema and Marxism Ewa Mazierska, Lars Kristensen, 2020-09-17 Third Cinema World Cinema and Marxism offers an analysis of Third Cinema and World Cinema from the perspective of Marxism Its starting point is an observation that of all cinematic phenomena none is as intimately related to Marxism as Third Cinema which decries neoliberalism the capitalist system and the Hollywood model of cinema as mere entertainment to make money This is largely to do with the fact that both Marxism and Third Cinema are preoccupied with inequalities resulting from capital accumulation of which colonialism is the most extreme manifestation Third Cinema also defines cinematic modes in terms of representing interest of different classes with First Cinema expressing imperialist capitalist bourgeois ideas Second Cinema the aspirations of the middle stratum the petit bourgeoisie and Third Cinema is a democratic popular cinema Ghostlife of Third Cinema Glen M. Mimura, 2009 Asian American filmmakers and video artists have created a substantial diverse and challenging body of work that reimagines the cultural and political representation of Asian Americans Yet much of this work remains unknown Ghostlife of Third Cinema examines such potent issues as diasporic identity historical memory and queer sexuality through sophisticated readings of a wide range of film and video projects including Trinh T Minh ha s experimental documentary Surname Viet

Given Name Nam avant garde works by Japanese American filmmakers Rea Tajiri Lise Yasui and Janice Tanaka and queer videos exploring the intersection of race nation and sexuality by Pablo Bautista Ming Yuen Ma and Nguyen Tan Hoang

The Revolution of Indian Parallel Cinema in the Global South (1968-1995) Omar Ahmed, 2025-01-23 Drawing from over a decade of research and writings this book takes you on an epic journey through the history of Indian Parallel Cinema 1968 1995 India the late 1960s Something was in the air A film manifesto penned by passionate cinephiles called for a new cinema An exciting generation of iconoclastic filmmakers were on the march the first to graduate from the newly incarnated Film and Television Institute of India seizing the moment to forge one of the first major post colonial film movements What emerged was an unprecedented level of creativity merging international influences with experimental indigenous styles and creating an aesthetic and thematic rupture and that ultimately led to new ways of making films But it is a story that has rarely been told inextricably absent from the parochial Euro centric and linear histories of film This is the story of Indian Parallel Cinema From auteurs like Mani Kaul and John Abraham to Smita Patil and Om Puri The Revolution of Indian Parallel Cinema in the Global South explores the origins evolution demise and legacy of a film movement that produced a pantheon of innovative filmmakers in excess of two hundred films and a distinctly regional identity in which film societies state funding and political insurgency were catalysts for a defiant radical dialogue much of it anti establishment that broke all the rules Most importantly this publication considers the ways in which Parallel Cinema narrated a new history from below using a range of case studies that includes Uski Roti Mirch Masala and Amma Ariyan Theatre After Empire Megan E.

Geigner, Harvey Young, 2021-05-30 Emphasizing the resilience of theatre arts in the midst of significant political change Theatre After Empire spotlights the emergence of new performance styles in the wake of collapsed political systems Centering on theatrical works from the late nineteenth century to the present twelve original essays written by prominent theatre scholars showcase the development of new work after social revolutions independence campaigns the overthrow of monarchies and world wars Global in scope this book features performances occurring across Africa the Americas Asia Europe and the Middle East The essays attend to a range of live events theatre dance and performance art that stage subaltern experiences and reveal societies in the midst of cultural political and geographic transition This collection is an engaging resource for students and scholars of theatre and performance world history and those interested in postcolonialism multiculturalism and transnationalism The Introduction Framing Latine Theatre and Performance of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Militant Visions Elizabeth Reich, 2016-08-01 Militant Visions examines how from the 1940s to the 1970s the cinematic figure of the black soldier helped change the ways American moviegoers saw black men for the first time presenting African Americans as vital and integrated members of the nation In the process Elizabeth Reich reveals how the image of the proud and powerful African American serviceman was crafted by an unexpected alliance of government propagandists civil rights activists and black filmmakers Contextualizing the figure in a genealogy of black radicalism and internationalism Reich shows the evolving images of black soldiers to be inherently transnational ones shaped by the displacements of diaspora Third World revolutionary philosophy and a legacy of black artistry and performance Offering a nuanced reading of a figure that was simultaneously conservative and radical Reich considers how the cinematic black soldier lent a human face to ongoing debates about racial integration black internationalism and American militarism Militant Visions thus not only presents a new history of how American cinema represented race but also demonstrates how film images helped to make history shaping the progress of the civil rights movement itself

The Israeli Defence Forces' Representation in Israeli Cinema Fiammetta Martegani, 2017-06-23 Of all the Biblical heroes the character of King David is perhaps the most paradoxical and also the most difficult to grasp He is the Biblical Man for all seasons a warrior a lover a poet a killer and a restorer This elaborate and fascinating archetypal hero influenced and inspired the representation of the Israeli soldier in Israeli media art and cinema from the establishment of the State of Israel until the present day This book investigates whether Israeli art and film now place a focus on soldiers not as fighters but as victims and the relationship between David as an adult and the State of Israel half a century after its establishment As in gender studies it is only in the last twenty years that research on masculinities has become a prominent part of film studies Although studies of men and masculinity have gained momentum little has been published that focuses on the media and their relationship to men as men In carrying out a study on the representation of the Israeli Defense Force in Israeli cinema the matter of gender becomes fundamental especially in relation to the Motherland of Israel Eretz Israel which is feminine by definition Israeli films are also deeply concerned with territory and territoriality As such the book also carries out an ethnography of Israeli cinema with a focus on the significant relationship between gender and nation and body and space

It provides an important and timely reappraisal of postcolonialism as an aesthetic, political and historical movement and of postcolonial studies as a multidisciplinary, transcultural field. Essays map the terrain of the postcolonial as a global phenomenon at the intersection of several disciplinary inquiries. Framed by an introductory chapter and a concluding essay, the eight sections examine: Affective Postcolonial Histories; Postcolonial Desires; Religious Imaginings; Postcolonial Geographies and Spatial Practices; Human Rights and Postcolonial Conflicts; Postcolonial Cultures and Digital Humanities; Ecocritical Inquiries in Postcolonial Studies; Postcolonialism versus Neoliberalism. The Postcolonial World looks afresh at re-emerging conditions of postcoloniality in the twenty-first century and draws on a wide range of representational strategies, cultural practices, material forms and affective affiliations. Women's Cinema in Contemporary Portugal Mariana Liz, Hilary Owen, 2020-03-05 Women's Cinema in Contemporary Portugal brings together scholars from Portugal, UK and the USA to discuss 14 women film directors in Portugal, focussing on their production in both feature film and documentary genres over the last half century. It charts the specific cinematic visions that these women have brought to the re-emergence of Portuguese national cinema in the wake of the 1974 Revolution and African decolonisation and to the growing internationalisation of Portugal's arguably minor or small nation cinema with significant young women directors such as Leonor Teles achieving prominence abroad. The history of Portuguese women's cinema only begins systematically after the 1974 revolution and democratisation. This collection shows how female auteurs made their mark on Portugal's post-revolutionary conceptualisation of a differently national cinema through the ethnographic output of the late 1970s. It goes on to explore women's decisively gendered interventions in the cinematic memory practices that opened up around the masculine domain of the Colonial Wars in Africa. Feminist political issues such as Portugal's 30-year abortion campaign and LGBT status have become more visible since the 1990s alongside preoccupations with global concerns relating to immigration, transit and minority status communities. The book also demonstrates how women have contributed to the
