

The book cover features a central image of a train traveling through a modern, brightly lit tunnel. The tunnel's architecture is characterized by sharp, angular concrete structures. Above the tunnel, a red background is filled with numerous yellow arrows pointing in various directions, creating a sense of dynamic movement and complexity. The title 'society' is written in large, bold, yellow lowercase letters across the top, with 'in the 21st Century' in smaller yellow text below it. Rethinking Society In The 21st Century Critical Readings In Sociology:

Rethinking Society in the 21st Century Michelle Webber, Kate Bezanson, 2012 Rethinking Society in the 21st Century is a unique collection of readings that fills a critical void in introductory sociology in Canada. The third edition has been thoroughly updated with 24 new chapters that complement the chapters retained from previous editions. Rethinking Society introduces students to the foundational elements of sociology with a balance of classical theory (Marx, Weber, Durkheim, Mills) and more contemporary approaches found in the work of Michel Foucault, Dorothy Smith, and George Sefa Dei. Building on this theoretical grounding, the text outlines core concepts in sociology: socialization, social interaction, and culture, as well as major social institutions such as families, the economy, and labour, education, and health care. Later sections address crime, moral regulation, race, class, age, gender, sexuality, and issues of population and globalization, with relevant and engaging chapters chosen to provoke thought and discussion. With a diverse selection of authors and a pronounced emphasis on Canadian content, Rethinking Society in the 21st Century is the ideal reader for Canadian students. Rethinking Society in the 21st Century Michelle Webber, Kate Bezanson, 2016 This is a collection of readings designed for introductory sociology courses in Canada. The book includes sections on classical sociology with readings by seminal sociologists like Durkheim, Weber, and Mills, along with more contemporary readings on a diverse set of topics and issues. Rethinking Society in the 21st Century, Fourth Edition Kate Bezanson, Michelle Webber, 2016-09-01 Rethinking Society in the 21st Century is a critical collection of readings that provides students with a foundational knowledge base in sociology. The fourth edition has been thoroughly updated to include significant Canadian content with a greater focus on indigeneity, gender, and sexuality, and a new section dedicated to social movements, social change, and emerging fields. This anthology introduces students to the fundamental elements of sociology with a balance of classical theory (Marx, Weber, Durkheim, Mills) and more contemporary approaches found in the works of Michel Foucault and Dorothy Smith. Building on this theoretical grounding, the text outlines core concepts in sociology as well as major social institutions such as families, the economy, and labour, education, health care, and media. Covering a wide breadth of topics, including chapters on animals, the environment, crime, trans issues, class, ethnicity, and race, this new edition explores critical debates in Canadian society with an emphasis on intersectional approaches to social inequalities. This volume is rich with pedagogical features that promote critical understanding, including detailed introductions that speak to the contextual history of the source material and discussion questions for each section. Uniquely designed for introductory courses, Rethinking Society in the 21st Century is the ideal reader for Canadian students of sociology. Gendered Justice Venessa Garcia, Patrick McManimon, 2012-07-10 Gendered Justice takes a unique, multi-layered look at the various elements that factor into our understanding of domestic violence and how the criminal justice system handles situations of domestic violence. The book focuses primarily on the role of gender but also considers socio-economic status, race, age, education, and the relationship between the victim and criminal. Illustrated with case studies throughout the book introduces major themes such as the social construction of gender and victimology as well as topics such as the portrayal of intimate partner violence in the media and how it shapes our understanding of violence

Rethinking Social Epidemiology Patricia O'Campo, James R. Dunn, 2011-10-05 To date much of the empirical work in social epidemiology has demonstrated the existence of health inequalities along a number of axes of social differentiation. However, this research in isolation will not inform effective solutions to health inequalities. Rethinking Social Epidemiology provides an expanded vision of social epidemiology as a science of change, one that seeks to better address key questions related to both the causes of social inequalities in health and problem-focused research as well as the implementation of interventions to alleviate conditions of marginalization and poverty. This book is ideally suited for emerging and practicing social epidemiologists as well as graduate students and health professionals in related disciplines.

Canadian Society in the Twenty-First Century, Fourth Edition Trevor W. Harrison, John W. Friesen, 2021-03-03 Confederation may have established Canada's nationhood in 1867, but the relationships framing Canada's modern existence go back much further. Employing a unique socio-historical perspective, Canadian Society in the Twenty-First Century examines three formative relationships that have shaped the country: Canada and Quebec, Canada and the United States, and Canada and Indigenous nations. Now in its fourth edition, this engaging text offers students an overview of Canadian society through a series of connections rather than a collection of statistics. Trevor W. Harrison and John W. Friesen weave together complex aspects of the nation's economic, political, and socio-cultural development. They guide readers to use this interdisciplinary framework to consider some of the tough questions that Canada is likely to face in adjusting to demands and challenges in the next few decades. Reflecting the most current scholarship in the field, this revised edition features new discussions on issues such as the current crisis of neo-liberal globalization, Canada's petroleum industry, global warming, the Wet'suwet'en dispute in 2020, and the COVID-19 pandemic. Exploring the unique character of Canada today, this text is a vibrant resource for sociology courses on Canadian society as well as courses in Canadian studies and Canadian history.

Global Child Myriam Denov, Claudia Mitchell, Marjorie Rabiau, 2023-01-13 Armed conflicts continue to wreak havoc on children and families around the world with profound effects. In 2017, 420 million children, nearly one in five, were living in conflict-affected areas, an increase of 30 million from the previous year. The recent surge in war-induced migration, referred to as a global refugee crisis, has made migration a highly politicized issue, with refugee populations and host countries facing unique challenges. We know from research related to asylum-seeking families that it is vital to think about children and families in relation to what it means to stay together, what it means for parents to be separated from their children, and the kinds of everyday tensions that emerge in living in dangerous, insecure, and precarious circumstances. In Global Child, the authors draw on what they have learned through their collaborative undertakings and highlight the unique features of participatory, arts-based, and socio-ecological approaches to studying war-affected children and families, demonstrating the collective strength as well as the limitations and ethical implications of such research Building on work across the Global South and the Global North this book aims to deepen an understanding of their tri pillared approach and the potential of this methodology for contributing to improved practices in working with war affected children and their families Gender, Sex, and Sexuality among Contemporary Youth Patricia Neff Claster, Sampson Lee Blair, 2017-11-27 This volume examines the evolving norms concerning sex gender and sexuality in the lives of children and adolescents addressing topics such as the development of gender identity sexual behavior among youth LGBT youth transgender youth parental and peer influences upon the development of gender and gender identity and dating violence Baltimore Revisited P.
