Retirement Reconsidered Economic And Social Roles For Older People:

Retirement Reconsidered Robert Morris,1988 The Older Adult as Learner D. Barry Lumsden,1985 Introduction to Educational Gerontology Ronald H. Sherron,D. Barry Lumsden,2013-11-12 Educational gerontology is the study of the changes in the learning process caused by old age This new edition provides an update of developments in this field of research The volume probes topics such as implications for education for the aging reminiscence methods of teaching social exchange and equal opportunity Critical Perspectives on Aging Meredith Minkler,Carroll Estes,2020-11-25 This unique volume brings together 20 critical essays on aging within the context of the broad social political and economic factors that help shape and determine the realities of growing old Rather than viewing aging in isolation it explores the social creation of old age dependency and the profound influence of race gender and social class on what it means to grow old It looks too at such topics as the biomedicalization of aging the role of business and the media in changing societal images of the old the fact and fiction behind senior power the multibillion dollar nursing home industry and the role of advanced capitalist nations in creating economic dependency among elders in the Third World The SAGE Handbook of Aging, Work and Society John Field,Ronald J Burke,Cary L Cooper,2013-09-19 Aging has emerged as a major and urgent issue for individuals organisations and governments of our time In this well timed and comprehensive handbook key international contributors to the field of study come together to create a definitive map of the subject Framed by an authoritative introductory chapter the SAGE Handbook of Aging Work and Society offers a critical overview of the most significant themes and topics with discussions of current research theoretical controversies and emerging issues divided into sections covering Key Issues and Challenges The Aging Workforce Managing an Aging Workforce Living in an Aging Society Developing Public Policy Neoliberalising Old Age John Macnicol,2015-10-08 This book examines the effect of neoliberalism on the recent ageing and social policy agenda in the UK and the USA The Columbia Retirement Handbook Abraham Monk,2010-06-01 The Columbia Retirement Handbook Training for Older People Peter C. Plett,Brenda T. Lester,Katherine L. Yocum,1991 Retirement Reconsidered Robert Morris,1988 Technology for Adaptive Aging National Research Council,Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,Board on Behavioral, Cognitive, and Sensory Sciences,Steering Committee for the Workshop on Technology for Adaptive Aging,2004-04-25 Emerging and currently available technologies offer great promise for helping older adults even those without serious disabilities to live healthy comfortable and productive lives What technologies offer the most potential benefit What challenges must be overcome what problems must be solved for this promise to be fulfilled How can federal agencies like the National Institute on Aging best use their resources to support the translation from laboratory findings to useful marketable products and services Technology for Adaptive Aging is the product of a workshop that brought together distinguished experts in aging research and in technology to discuss applications of technology to communication education and learning employment health living environments and transportation for older adults It includes all of the workshop papers and the report of the committee that organized the workshop The committee report synthesizes and evaluates the points made in the workshop papers and recommends priorities for federal support of translational research in technology for older adults

Transitional Development and Attitudinal Changes in Society Man Singh Das,Vijay Kumar Gupta,1996 The attitude concept is the widely acclaimed means of sociologists and psychologists for the analysis of empirical research used in the analysis of related theories and generalizations Rapid changes in attitudes have been taking place in the recent decades due to the fast pace of economic development

Old Age Haim Hazan,1994-04-28 Haim Hazan is a leading specialist on old age in anthropology and has published several books on particular communities of old people The latest book is an essay on the realities of old age as it is experienced as opposed to the ideas about the old current in western societies It argues that the construction of this world by outsiders is inevitably affected by deeply ingrained social attitudes and structures such as the spatial segregation of the aged as a population and the fear of death with which they are associated By approaching the subject from the social constructionist perspective and by drawing on a variety of detailed ethnographic accounts the author describes a unique and nuanced social world This is a sophisticated and original book which should have a significant impact on a field still dominated by a social problems approach

American Families and the Future Roma S Hanks,Marvin B Sussman,Barbara H Settles,2015-12-22 As the world heads into the twenty first century individuals and their families are being confronted with a more diverse array of possible life experiences than has ever existed before Changes in longevity marriage fertility employment and many other areas have created new opportunities for individual and family choice and variability in life course experiences American Families and the Future discusses a variety of issues that face and will continue to families in coming years and describes various strategies families can use in their decisionmaking processes This enlightening book is divided into five main sections Demographic Issues Social and Economic Issues Technological Issues Family Process in Shaping the Future and Family Vision in Creating the Future Individual chapters view family problem solving from a variety of perspectives and disciplines American Families and the Future describes recent demographic trends and considers their implications for how individuals and their families plan and prepare for their later adult life reviews health care issues and concerns for the elderly and addresses strategies for self health promotion and illness prevention provides examples illustrating the uses and abuses of data to promote partisan views and agendas outlines a conceptual framework that can be used to understand problem solving and decisionmaking by individuals and family groups presents a model that explores family decisionmaking focusing on the conditions under which decisions are made presents findings from a study of early adolescents perceptions of their role in family decisionmaking The book closes with an upbeat discussion of possible solutions to current pathologies affecting human societies and cultures Professionals who work with families will find this book an enlightening and encouraging guide for helping families cope with the myriad issues and choices they face in planning for their futures Productive Aging Nancy Morrow-Howell, James Hinterlong, Michael Sherraden, 2003-05-01 Will 69 million baby boomers suddenly drop out of the workforce when they turn 65 It is difficult to imagine this generation with its talent education and experience idling away the last thirty years of life From the Foreword by Robert N Butler M D The Mount Sinai Medical Center Old age has been historically thought of as a period of frailty and dependence yet studies show that with the help of advances in health and medicine current populations will live longer and remain healthier than previous generations As average life expectancies rise traditional concepts of retirement need to be reconsidered on all levels from government policy to business practice to individual life planning In this volume leaders in the field of gerontology explore these changing conditions through the concept of productive aging which has been developed by leaders in the field to promote older adults contributions to society in social and economic capacities Productive Aging Concepts and Challenges treats the implications of productive aging for the discipline of gerontology and for society in general The first section defines the principles historical perspectives and conceptual frameworks for productive aging The second section takes a disciplinary approach treating the biomedical psychological sociological and economic implications of a more capable older generation The third section considers advances in theories of gerontology and the fourth section suggests future directions in practice theory and research Contributors W Andrew Achenbaum University of Houston Scott A Bass University of Maryland Baltimore Vern L Bengtson University of Southern California James E Birren UCLA Francis G Caro University of Massachusetts Boston Carroll L Estes University of California San Francisco Marc Freedman Civic Ventures co founder of Experience Corps James Hinterlong Washington University James S Jackson University of Michigan Jane L Mahakian Pacific Senior Services Harry R Moody Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Nancy Morrow Howell Washington University Philip Rozario Washington University James H Schulz Brandeis University Michael Sherraden Washington University Alvar Svanborg University of Illinois Chicago and Goteborg University Sweden Brent A Taylor San Diego State University Age Discrimination John Macnicol, 2006-01-12 Age discrimination is a highly topical issue in all industrialised societies against a background of concerns about shortening working lives and ageing populations in the future Based upon detailed research and adopting an interdisciplinary approach this unique study traces the history of the age discrimination debate in Britain and the USA since the 1930s It critically analyses the concepts of ageism in social relations and age discrimination in employment Case studies on generational equity and health care rationing by age are followed by an analysis of the British government s initiatives against age discrimination in employment The book then traces the history of the debate on health status and old age addressing the question of whether working capacity has improved sufficiently to justify calls to delay retirement and extend working lives It concludes with a detailed examination of the origins and subsequent working of the USA s 1967 Age Discrimination in Employment Act The Baby Boomers Grow Up Susan Krauss Whitbourne, Sherry L. Willis, 2014-06-03 The goal of this volume is to examine development in middle age from the perspective of baby boomers a unique cohort in the United States defined as those individuals born from 1946 to 1962 This is the largest cohort ever to enter middle age in Western society and they currently represent approximately one third of the total U S population The Baby Boomers Grow Up provides contemporary and comprehensive perspectives of development of the baby boomer cohort as they proceed through midlife Baby boomers continue to exert a powerful impact on the media fiction movies and even popular music just as they were an imposing force in society from the time of their entry into youth As these individuals enter the years normally considered to represent midlife they are redefining how we as a society regard adults in their middle and later years This volume features several unique aspects First the literature reviewed focuses specifically on research relevant to baby boomers and their development as adults rather than a global perspective on middle age Second the volume takes into account the diversity within the boomer cohort such as social class race and education In addition quantitative and qualitative developmental changes occurring from the forties to the fifties and the sixties are considered Differences in leading and trailing edge boomers are likewise addressed Ideal for researchers in adult development and graduate seminars on adult development The Baby Boomers Grow Up will also appeal to adult educators human resource personnel health professionals and service providers and clinical psychologists and counselors Aging and Demographic Change in Canadian Context David J. Cheal, Professor of Department of Sociology David Cheal, 2002-01-01 Contributors question whether an aging society is necessarily inferior or problematic compared with the recent past cautioning that exaggerated concerns about population aging can be harmful to rational policy making Enduring Questions in Gerontology Debra J. Sheets, Dana Burr Bradley, PhD, Jon Hendricks, PhD, 2006 Enduring Questions in Gerontology provides a comprehensive perspective on the abiding issues in gerontology Both current and future gerontologists will find this book useful in examining emerging dilemmas and creating a context for further progress in the field of aging The most creative thinkers contributing to the gerontological literature reflect on their disciplines consider how key questions have emerged review how they have changed in the decades since gerontology entered the fray and speculate what may lie ahead The resulting collection of essays offers a comprehensive perspective on the enduring questions in gerontology and how they have shaped our understanding of differences in the experience of old age Key contributors to this volume include George L Maddox Christine L Fry Steven Austad Kenneth Brummel Smith Manfred Diehl Martha Holstein W Andrew Achenbaum James E Birren As an emerging or seasoned scholar you will find insights into the ways in which each disciplinary focus grapples with societal transitions identifies emerging issues and lays out strategies and salient perspectives for what should come next
