The Back Door to Medicine Anderson M. D. Robert Anderson M. D., 2009-10 An anthropologist typically does research by immersing oneself in a society learning the language if need be spending a year or two observing asking questions getting involved photographing videotaping and writing copious notes on how people live their lives in other words on how they experience and manifest their culture Anthropologists call that method participant observation and the goal is to produce a cultural description that can be shared with any and all who might be interested This book describes three cultures in a single integrated narrative For one it offers a case study of the culture of anthropology itself as it records how I experienced ethnographic research as both a method and a way of life My original goal was to describe the culture of chiropractic as a prominent and important field of alternative medicine As is common in anthropology that seemingly straight forward objective detoured in an unanticipated direction I accomplished my purpose by graduating from a chiropractic college as a Doctor of Chiropractic D C Still another unanticipated diversion in this complex ethnographic adventure led to medical school but not in an accredited institution in the United States Taking a leave of absence from my professorship at Mills College I eventually graduated from a Mexican medical school as a Doctor of Medicine M D I earned qualifications in medicine and surgery by entering the profession through a back door

Cultural Issues in Health and Health Care Adele Tjale, Louise De Villiers, 2004 Spirituality economics politics and kinship are among the cultural factors considered in this guide to transcultural nursing an area of healthcare that incorporates the values beliefs and lifestyle choices of a patient in order to provide culturally congruent competent and compassionate care

Headbutting in Academe Robert Anderson, 2009-07 Fremont High School is a public high school and Mills College is a private college both in the similar district of Oakland California Yet the contrasts are enormous a public secondary school versus a private college boys and girls versus women only an underperforming educational program versus a top ranked degree granting institution the flat lands versus the hills poverty versus prosperity crime versus safety Yet the two institutions are similar in one very important way Teachers struggle in comparable ways with governance issues or power and control That similarity makes a comparative analysis worth doing technology and the developing world sociology of health international health and health care systems The Anthropology of Religious Conversion Andrew Buckser, Stephen D. Glazier, 2003 Table of contents Social Lives of Medicines Susan Reynolds Whyte, Sjaak van der Geest, Anita Hardon, 2002 Medicines are the core of treatment in biomedicine as in many other medical traditions As material things they have social as well as pharmacological lives with people and between people They are tokens of healing and hope as well as valuable commodities Each chapter of this book shows drugs in the hands of particular actors mothers in Manila villagers in Burkina Faso women in the Netherlands consumers in London market traders in Cameroon pharmacists in Mexico injectionists in Uganda doctors in Sri Lanka industrialists in India and policymakers in Geneva Each example is used to explore a different problem in the study of medicines such as social efficacy experiences of control skepticism and cultural politics commodification of health the attraction of technology and the marketing of images and values The book shows how anthropologists deal with the sociality of medicines through their ethnography their theorizing and their uses of knowledge Working with Spirit Jo Thobeka Wreford, 2008-05-01 In the current model of health dispensation in South Africa there are two major paradigms the spirit inspired tradition of izangoma sinyanga and biomedicine These operate at best in parallel but more often than not are at odds with one another This book based on the author's personal experience as a practitioner of traditional African medicine considers the effects of the absence of spirit in biomedicine on collaborative relationships Given the unprecedented challenge of the HIV AIDS epidemic in the country the author suggests that more cooperation is vital Taking a critical look at the role of anthropology in this endeavor she proposes the development of a language of spirit by means of which the spirit inspired aetiology of izangoma sinyanga may be made comprehensible to academic scientists and applicable to medical interventions The author discusses white izangoma in the context of current debates on healing and hybridity and insists that there exists a powerful role for izangoma in the realm of societal healing Above all the book constitutes a start in what the author hopes will develop into an ongoing intellectual conversation between traditional African healing academe and biomedicine in South Africa Medical Anthropology and the World System Hans A. Lancaster,Richard Raiswell,2018-10-24 The motto of the Royal Society Nullius in verba was intended to highlight the members rejection of received knowledge and the new place they afforded direct empirical evidence in their quest for genuine useful knowledge about the world But while many studies have raised questions about the construction reception and authentication of knowledge Evidence in the Age of the New Sciences is the first to examine the problem of evidence at this pivotal moment in European intellectual history What constituted evidence and for whom Where might it be found How should it be collected and organized What is the relationship between evidence and proof These are crucial questions for what constitutes evidence determines how people interrogate the world and the kind of arguments they make about it In this important new collection Lancaster and Raiswell have assembled twelve studies that capture aspects of the debate over evidence in a variety of intellectual contexts From law and theology to geography medicine and experimental philosophy the chapters highlight the great diversity of approaches to evidence gathering that existed side by side in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries In this way the volume makes an important addition to the literature on early science and knowledge formation and will be of particular interest to scholars and advanced students in these fields Spiritual Diversity in Social Work Practice Edward R. M. C. Green, 2007 The sanctuary dedicated to Diana at Aricia flourished from the Bronze age to the second century CE From its archaic beginnings in the wooded crater beside the lake known as the mirror of Dianea it grew into a grand Hellenistic style complex that attracted crowds of pilgrims and the sick Diana was also believed to confer power on leaders This book examines the history of Diana s cult and healing sanctuary which remained a significant and wealthy religious center for more than a thousand years It sheds new light on Diana herself on the use of rational as well as ritual healing in the sanctuary on the subtle distinctions between Latin religious sensibility and the more austere Roman practice and on the interpenetration of cult and politics in Latin and Roman history Cultural Anthropology Conrad Phillip Kottak, 2006 Accompanying CD ROM contains 25 succinct video clips each corresponding to a chapter in the textbook Each clip is accompanied by a text overview and probing questions to
