Intercultural Education Derek Woodrow, Gajendra K. Verma, Maria Beatriz Rocha-Trindade, Giovanna Campani, Christopher Bagley, 2019-01-15 Published in 1997 this volume is a result of a number of European Union and Council of Europe initiatives The major stimulus came from an intensive course held in Lisbon in 1994 as part of two Erasmus networks exploring the nature of intercultural studies on a European wide basis Although the concepts of multiculturalism and interculturalism have frequently been discussed within a British context this book draws on the interlocking and comparative perspectives of specialists in education and teacher training in several European countries including Spain France Italy Britain and the Netherlands Educational policies and theories of identity are compared and there are special sections in multilingualism teacher training curriculum development relationships between different ethnic groups and a vision of the future of intercultural education in Europe The issues discussed in the book are significant in the development of modern societies as they seek to come to terms with the revolution in intercultural relations brought about by mass communications and global transport The world is rapidly having to come to terms with cultural and social differences which can no longer be kept separate in their protective groups

Migration and Language Education in Southern Europe Eleni Griva, Maria Moutzi, Marina Mattheoudakis, 2021-10-04 The entry of migrant populations to Europe and especially to countries of Southern Europe is expected to drastically change the make up of state school classes as learners of various ages ethnic backgrounds and mother tongues are going to co exist within the same educational setting In Greece in particular the landscape of education has already started changing as a significant number of immigrant students have joined mainstream classrooms This volume maps this new educational reality and its challenges as Greek teachers are required with very limited training and resources to address those students educational and socio emotional needs All chapters are authored by Greek researchers who are actively involved in the study of refugees and immigrants education their needs and their educational linguistic and political rights Despite the fact that education for immigrants and refugees has become the focus of much research on a global level the ongoing rapid rise of immigrant populations in Southern Europe has not been adequately researched This book consequently meets the need for further research and empirical studies in this field

Multiculturalism in Turbulent Times Christine Halse, Kerry J. Kennedy, 2021-05-29 This book interrogates politics and practices of multiculturalism and multicultural education in contexts where liberal and critical multiculturalism is under pressure It examines and interrogates perspectives on multiculturalism and the political and social to diversity in societies in Asia and Europe It is set against a background of increasing right wing radicalism and pervasive authoritarianism in different parts of the world These ideologies not only undermine multiculturalism but the potential of democracy itself The book includes chapters from leading scholars on multiculturalism interculturalism and diversity around the world It examines the challenges to multicultural diversity in the Global North and makes a distinctive contribution by addressing this issue in the Global South societies of Asia including Myanmar China and Pakistan As such this book opens up international debate about multiculturalism by providing exchanges rarely heard across borders

Migration and the Education of Young People 0-19 Mabel Ann Brown, 2015-11-24 Migration and the Education of Young People 0 19 investigates migration from a number of perspectives to consider the changing dynamics of society within different countries Examining the data associated with global migration by focusing on case studies from a wide range of countries it provides detailed and balanced coverage of this politically sensitive topic to explore the educational needs of migrant young people the impact of large scale migration to and from countries and the policy challenges that individual countries face when ensuring adequate provision for migrant young people within their education systems Chapters cover The reasons why people might move Social and emotional learning in Britain a tool to guard against cultural pollution Migration into a global city the economic and educational success of London Latvian people on the move and the impact on education People s movement Greece Return migration in Lithuania incoming challenges for children s education The United States Latin America immigration and education Tanzanian street children victims ordinary lives or extraordinary survivors This book explores the changing social dynamics through an extensive range of case studies and will be an essential resource for students taking undergraduate and postgraduate courses in education sociology and international relations Adult Education and Lifelong Learning in Southeastern Europe George A.

Koulaouzides,Katarina Popović,2017-09-12 Contemporary adult education policy development and lifelong learning practice are experiencing an autonomy loss imposed by the dominant neoliberal economic paradigm As a consequence in many countries especially those that depend economically from supranational organizations and donors the critical approach and its adjunct idea of emancipation have been sacrificed in favour of ambiguous developmental goals like employability flexibility and adaptability On the other hand in many countries adult education as a social movement is deeply rooted in the conviction that learning is an essential process related to personal transformation and social change The result of this conflict between the external pressure for policies in favour of the labour market and the internal assumption about the value of emancipation has led to interesting insights that have produced policies and practices that attempt to reconcile these two forces of development In this volume we offer a consideration of the above paradoxical situation and the critical view of adult education policy and practice in the region of Southeastern Europe Some chapters in this volume present also positive lifelong learning practices policy development analyses and conceptual understandings that highlight the efforts to develop adult education within a framework of the dominant neoliberal forces that shape European and international adult education policy Official Report of Debates Council of Europe,Council of Europe. Learner-Centred Education for Adult Migrants in Europe ,2021-04-12 Learner Centred Education for Adult Migrants in Europe A Critical Comparative Analysis contributes to the field of Adult Education by investigating the ways in which Learner Centred Education LCE is being enacted implemented or neglected in specific settings The book addresses the lack of research on how LCE is used in adult education as a tool for social change across different national contexts This comparative approach is crucial for exploring the complex global regional national and local dynamics that account for varying implementations or non implementations of LCE in different settings for appreciating the thin or wide differences in practices of implementation and for assessing the successes failures and needs for improvement of diverse LCE programmes The book s primary focus on migration as a social process and migrants as active citizens is useful in unravelling the convergences and divergences of different national and urban settings where migrant adult learners live as citizens or as non citizens and how this intersects with their experiences as learners This research is contextualised in a larger political context

What emerges from the parting reflection is a European scenario marked by ambivalent and contradictory relations with migrants and an educational intervention that is located somewhere between the assimilationist integrationist dialectic. The four cases presented (Estonia, Malta, Scotland and Cyprus) generally respond to the learners' needs on the ground while rarely problematising the ideological stance of the state in relation to the educational plight of migrants. The final chapter introduces and elaborates on a new concept, Emancipatory LCE, to help generate a deeper analysis.

Global Migration and Diversity of Educational Experiences in the Global South and North Shoba Arun, Khawla Badwan, Hadjer Taibi, Farwa Batool, 2023-03-31. This book presents a child-centred approach to migrant children's experiences in education. Using a decolonising framework, the book interrogates the diversity of migrant experiences in the global South and North. The book brings together researchers and practitioners from education, childhood studies, sociology and linguistics to debate and theorise key methodological and empirical issues in migrant children's experiences through education. It focuses on how diverse forms of global mobilities are key to transforming educational experiences of children and considers the interplay of class, race, gender, geography and learning settings. By doing so, the book uncovers particular challenges for addressing sustainable development goals relating to education and inclusive development. Diversifying the study of migration and development, the book challenges the Eurocentrism of the discipline and contributes to ongoing efforts to liberate the field from labels and discourses that further marginalise migrant children. Using an intersectional and decolonising approach to address an important gap in the diversity of migrant experiences, the book will be of great interest to researchers, scholars and students in the field of migration studies, sociology of education, intercultural education and international development.

The Shifting Global World of Youth and Education Mabel Ann Brown, 2017-08-15. The Shifting Global World of Youth and Education explores how increasing migration and population changes are having an unprecedented impact on global education. Given that the number of children of migrant background is growing internationally, there is a need for increasing awareness of the educational attainment and cultural integration of this population group. This book presents international perspectives on migration and youth and analyses what kinds of effects such demographic changes are having on educational systems around the world. The chapters in this volume provide a fascinating insight into how countries around the world are dealing with loss or growth in their young population as well as changes to their education systems. Written by specialist academics from the relevant country, the book covers Cuba, Lithuania, the United Kingdom, the United States, Finland, Greece, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Latvia, China, Australia, India, Italy and Poland. Taking into consideration the countries' social and political context, the chapters discuss educational issues surrounding curriculum, assessment and the opportunities available for the support of young people. Conclusions are drawn about what could be done in the future for the benefit of both the migrant and the existing populations. The Shifting Global World of Youth and Education will be of great interest to academics, researchers and postgraduate students in the disciplines of education, sociology, political sciences and social work. The book will also give secondary teachers teaching assistants social workers and youth workers the opportunity to reflect on their role within a national and international context
