

A black and white photograph of a large, textured sculpture of a creature with a large eye, sitting on a chair in a cluttered room. The sculpture is the central focus, with a large, detailed eye and a rough, scaly texture. It is positioned on a chair with a curved back. The room is filled with various objects, including papers, boxes, and other items, creating a sense of a workshop or a cluttered space. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the texture of the sculpture and the surrounding environment.

Ethics and Images of Pain Asbjørn Grønstad, Henrik Gustafsson, 2012 Few phenomena are as formative of our experience of the visual world as displays of suffering But what does it mean to have an ethical experience of disturbing or traumatizing images What kind of ethical proposition does an image of pain mobilize How may the spectator learn from and make use of the painful image as a source of ethical reflection Engaging with a wide range of visual media from painting theatre and sculpture to photography film and video this interdisciplinary collection of essays by leading and emerging scholars of visual culture offers a reappraisal of the increasingly complex relationship between images of pain and the ethics of viewing Ethics and Images of Pain reconsiders the persistent and ever pertinent nexus of aesthetics and ethics the role of painful images as generators of unpredictable forms of affect the moral transformation of spectatorship the ambivalence of the witness and the representation of affliction as a fundamental form of our shared scopical experience The instructive and illuminating essays in the collection introduce a phenomenological context in which to make sense of our current ecology of excruciating images one that accentuates notions of responsibility empathy and imagination Contributors trace the images of pain across a miscellany of case studies and amongst the topics addressed are the work of artists as disparate as Doris Salcedo Anselm Kiefer and Bendik Riis photographs from Abu Ghraib and Rwanda Hollywood war films and animated documentaries performances of self immolations and incidents of police brutality captured on mobile phones Discrete Gilles Retsin, 2019-03-14 After two decades of experimentation with the digital the prevalent paradigm of formal continuity is being revised and questioned by an emerging generation of architects and theorists While the world struggles with a global housing crisis and the impact of accelerated automation on labour digital designers narrow focus on mere style and continuous differentiation seems increasingly out of touch This issue charts an emerging body of work that is based on a computational understanding of the discrete part or building block elements that are as scalable accessible and versatile as digital data The discrete proposes that a new digital understanding of assembly based on parts contains the greatest promise for a complex open ended adaptable architecture This approach capitalises on the digital economy and automation with the potential of the digital to democratise production and increase access The digital not only has deep implications for how we design and produce architecture it is first and foremost a new system of production with economic social and political consequences that need to be taken into account This issue presents a diverse body of work focused on the notion of the discrete from design experiments and aesthetics to urban models tectonics distributed robots new material organisations and post capitalist scenarios engaging with automation Contributors Viola Ago Mario Carpo Emmanuelle Chiappone Piriou Mollie Claypool Manuel Jimenez Garc a Daniel Koehler and Rasa Navasaityte Immanuel Koh Neil Leach Ryan Manning Philippe Morel M Casey Rehm Jose Sanchez Marrikka Trotter Manja van de Worp Maria Yablonina and Lei Zheng Featured Architects Kengo Kuma Lab eds Plethora Project MadM EZCT Eragatory and Studio Kinch Like Life Luke Syson,Sheena Wagstaff,Emerson Bowyer,Brinda Kumar,2018-03-19 Since before the myth of Pygmalion bringing a statue to life through desire artists have used sculpture to explore the physical materiality of the body This groundbreaking volume examines key sculptural works from thirteenth century Europe to the global present revealing new insights into the strategies artists deploy to blur the distinction between art and life Three dimensional renderings of the human figure are presented here in numerous manifestations created by artists ranging from Donatello and Edgar Degas to Kiki Smith and Jeff Koons Featuring works created in media both traditional and unexpected such as glass leather and blood Like Life presents sculpture by turns conventional and shocking including effigies dolls mannequins automata waxworks and anatomical models Texts by curators and cultural historians as well as contemporary artists complete this provocative exploration of realistic representations of the human body

Art and Psychoanalysis Maria Walsh,2012-11-20 Often derided as unscientific and self indulgent psychoanalysis has been an invaluable resource for artists art critics and historians throughout the twentieth century Art and Psychoanalysis investigates these encounters The shared relationship to the unconscious severed from Romantic inspiration by Freud is traced from the Surrealist engagement with psychoanalytic imagery to the contemporary critic s use of psychoanalytic concepts as tools to understand how meaning operates Following the theme of the object with its varying materiality Walsh develops her argument that psychoanalysis like art is a cultural discourse about the mind in which the authority of discourse itself can be undermined provoking ambiguity and uncertainty and destabilising identity The dynamics of the dream work Freud s familiar unfamiliar fetishism visual mastery abjection repetition and the death drive are explored through detailed analysis of artists ranging from Max Ernst to Louise Bourgeois including 1980s postmodernists such as Cindy Sherman the performance art of Marina Abramovic and post minimalist sculpture Innovative and disturbing Art and Psychoanalysis investigates key psychoanalytic concepts to reveal a dynamic relationship between art and psychoanalysis which goes far beyond interpretation There is no cure for the artist but art can reconcile us to the traumatic nature of human experience converting the sadistic impulses of the ego towards
