Mists Of Regret Culture And Sensibility In Classic French Film:

Mists of Regret Dudley Andrew, 2021-11-09 Just before World War II French cinema reached a high point that has been dubbed the style of poetic realism Working with unforgettable actors like Jean Gabin and Arletty directors such as Renoir Carn Gremillon Duvivier and Chenal routinely captured the prizes for best film at every festival and in every country and their accomplishments led to general agreement that the French were the first to give maturity to the sound cinema Here the distinguished film scholar Dudley Andrew examines the motivations and consequences of these remarkable films by looking at the cultural web in which they were made Beyond giving a rich view of the life and worth of cinema in France Andrew contributes substantially to our knowledge of how films are dealt with in history Where earlier studies have treated the masterpieces of this era either in themselves or as part of the vision of their creators and where certain recent scholars have reacted to this by dissolving the masterpieces back into the system of entertainment that made them possible Andrew stresses the dialogue of culture and cinema In his view the films open questions that take us into the culture while our understanding of the culture gives energy direction and consequence to our reading of the films The book demonstrates the value of this hermeneutic approach for one set of texts and one period but it should very much interest film theorists and film historians of all sorts

Film Moments James Walters, Tom Brown, 2019-07-25 Film is made of moments In its earliest form the cinema was a moment mere seconds recorded and projected into the darkness Even as film has developed into today's complex and intricate medium it is the brief temporary and transitory that combines to create the whole Our memories of films are composed of the moments we deem to be crucial touchstones for our understanding and appreciation Moments matter The 38 specially commissioned essays in Film Moments examine a wide selection of key scenes across a broad spectrum of national cinemas historical periods and genres featuring films by renowned auteurs including Alfred Hitchcock Jean Renoir and Vincente Minnelli and important contemporary

French B Movies David A. Pettersen, 2023-03-07 In the impoverished outskirts of French cities known as the banlieues minority communities are turning to American culture history and theory to make their own voices cultures and histories visible Filmmakers have followed suit turning to Hollywood genre conventions to challenge notions of identity belonging and marginalization in mainstream French film French B Movies proposes that French banlieue films far from being a fringe genre offer a privileged site from which to understand the current state of the French film industry in an age of globalization This gritty style appears in popular arthouse films such as Mathieu Kassovitz's La Haine and Bande de filles Girlhood along with the major Netflix hit series Lupin David Pettersen traces how in these works and others directors fuse features of banlieue cinema with genre formulas associated with both Hollywood and Black cultural models as well as how transnational genre hybridizations such as B movies have become part of the ecosystem of the French film industry By combining film analysis cultural history critical theory and industry studies French B Movies reveals how featuring banlieues is as much about trying to imagine new identities and production models for French cinema as it is about representation
