Penal Reform In Overcrowded Times:

Penal Reform in Overcrowded Times Michael Tonry, 2001-11-15 This volume brings together a collection of articles on penal reform in the United States Europe Japan and other English speaking countries Unique and wide ranging the volume provides material on penal policy development and research and presents an international comparative focus Written by leading national and international authorities it offers some of the broadest efforts to characterize recent penal trends and to analyze their causes and consequences Penal Reform in Overcrowded Times Michael H. Tonry, 2001 Overcrowded times solving the prison problem a publication published Castine Me Published for the Edna McConnell Clark Foundation by Castine Research Corp 1990 1999 taken from OCLC record Prison Suicides and Overcrowding Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Home Affairs Committee, 2006-02-22 Prison suicides and Overcrowding Oral and written evidence Tuesday 8 November 2005 Ms Frances Crook Ms Pauline Campbell Ms Deborah Coles Ms Juliet Lyon and Mr Geoff Dobson Rt Hon Baroness Scotland of Asthal QC Ms Christine Knott Mr Phil Wheatley Alternatives to Prison Anthony Bottoms, Sue Rex, Gwen Robinson, 2013-01-11 As the UK and many other western societies face up to the consequences of a rapidly increasing prison population so the search for alternative approaches to punishment and dealing with offenders has become an increasingly urgent priority for government policy and society as a whole This book reports the results of the research programme commissioned by the Coulsfield Inquiry into Alternatives to Prison which was funded by the Esm e Fairbairn Rethinking Crime and Punishment initiative It is written by leading authorities in the field and provides a comprehensive authoritative and wide ranging review of the range of issues associated with the use of noncustodial sanctions examining experiences in Scotland and Northern Ireland as well as England and Wales European Penology? Tom Daems, Dirk van Zyl Smit, Sonja Snacken, 2013-05-17 Is there something distinctive about penology in Europe Do Europeans think about punishment and penal policy in a different way to people in other parts of the globe If so why is this the case and how does it work in practice This book addresses some major and pressing issues that have been emerging in recent years in the interdisciplinary field of European penology that is a space where legal scholarship criminology sociology and political science meet or should meet in order to make sense of punishment in Europe The chapters in European Penology have been written by leading scholars in the field and focus in particular on the interaction of European academic penology and national practice with European policies as developed by the Council of Europe and increasingly by the European Union The Penal Crisis and the Clapham Omnibus David J. Cornwell, 2009-07-10 What is restorative justice and does it work These are just two of the many questions posed by David J Cornwell in this incisive work Based on a lifetime of research and experience it deals with the concerns about crime and punishment of that most vivid of judicial creations The Man or Woman on the Clapham Omnibus As the author explains this human reference point for reason and good sense is likely to be far more receptive to sound explanation and argument than the media and tabloid press in particular might give credit And after all it is his or her taxes which are being routinely wasted on outmoded or discredited methods Crime will not disappear through the application of heavy handed sanctions Indeed they make matters worse With prisons overflowing in many western countries restorative justice offers a better and ultimately more intuitive solution Cornwell dismantles the traditional arguments for locking people away and undermines the idea that it is necessary to be tough on crime The book credits people with a higher level of intelligence It provides them with proper answers and explanations based on sound data copious research and an in depth analysis of existing trends It is a work for people who value credibility rather than politically driven excuses with their increasingly damaging effects

Realist Criminology R. Matthews, 2014-07-07 This book challenges contemporary criminological thinking providing a thorough critique of mainstream criminology including both liberal criminology and administrative criminology It sets a new agenda for theoretical and practical engagement and for creating a more effective and just criminal justice system

Critical Issues in Crime and Justice: Thought, Policy, and Practice Mary Maguire, 2011 This text provides a comprehensive overview of the criminal justice and criminology curriculum through contributed essays designed to review and expand upon key areas of study The text will explore and examine theory cases laws and policies as they have been shaped by a larger social cultural and historical context Topics span the gamut of the Criminal Justice and Criminology curriculum including crime theory law enforcement jurisprudence corrections and organizations

The New Punitiveness John Pratt, David Brown, Mark Brown, Simon Hallsworth, Wayne Morrison, 2013-06-17 Throughout much of the western world more and more people are being sent to prison one of a number of changes inspired by a new punitiveness in penal and political affairs This book seeks to understand these developments bringing together leading authorities in the field to provide a wide ranging analysis of new penal trends compare the development of differing patterns of punishment across different types of societies and to provide a range of theoretical analyses and commentaries to help understand their significance As well as increases in imprisonment this book is also concerned to address a number of other aspects of the new punitiveness firstly the return of a number of forms of punishment previously thought extinct or inappropriate such as the return of shaming punishments and chain gangs in parts of the USA and secondly the increasing public involvement in penal affairs and penal development for example in relation to length of sentences and the California Three Strikes Law and a growing accreditation of the rights of victims The book will be essential reading for students seeking to understand trends and theories of punishment on law criminology penology and other courses

Feminist Studies Hemangini Gupta, Kelly Sharron, Carly Thomsen, Abraham Weil, 2025-06-02 Feminist Studies An Introductory Reader offers a unique approach to teaching and learning feminist thought Crafted with the movement and translation of ideas in mind this book is broken into four sections Feminist Epistemologies Feminist Ontologies Feminist Orientations and Resistance Each chapter includes two well known classic texts that commonly appear in Feminist Studies classes as well as two new texts written by scholars who engage critique and extend those ideas in their work In addition the book is accompanied by a companion website which includes discussion questions assignment ideas lesson plans and other materials useful for classroom instruction Feminist Studies An Introductory Reader is designed for those new to feminism as well as more seasoned feminist thinkers It is an ideal resource for students in introductory and advanced feminist theory courses as well as those interested in social scientific and humanistic inquiry more broadly

Confronting Crime Michael Tonry, 2013-10-11 From Labour's promise to be tough on crime tough on the causes of crime through to the White Paper and new criminal justice legislation controlling crime and reforming the criminal justice system has been one of the government's key priorities This book provides a detailed review of the thinking behind these new plans and legislation looking at policies and proposals in the field of punishment particularly those embodied in the Halliday Review of the Sentencing Framework 2001 the government White Paper Justice for All 2002 and the 2002 Criminal Justice Bill The contributors to the book subject to scrutiny the evidence for the evidence based policy making that is often claimed as a distinctive new feature to these processes examining approaches to drug dependent offenders dangerous sex offenders nuisance offenders procedural and evidential protections in the courts sentencing guidelines sentencing management racism in sentencing custody plus custody minus and reducing the prison population

Doing Justice to Mercy Jonathan Rothchild, Matthew Myer Boulton, Kevin Jung, 2012-10-05 It is often assumed that the law and religion address different spheres of human life Religion and ethics articulate complex systems of moral reasoning that concern norms deliberation of ends cultivation of disposition and transformation of moral agency Law in contrast seeks to govern human conduct through procedural justice rights and public good Doing Justice to Mercy challenges this assumption by presenting the reader with an urgent conversation between the law and religion that yields a constructive approach both theoretically and practically to the complex role of mercy in our legal process Authored by legal practitioners activists and theorists in addition to theologians and ethicists the essays collected here are informed by timeless principles and yet they could not be timelier The trend in sentencing moves toward an increased severity and the number of incarcerated people in the United States is at an all time high In the half decade since 9 11 moreover homeland security has established itself as a permanent fixture in our lives In this atmosphere the current volume seeks initially to clarify how justice and mercy intertwine in relation to a number of issues such as rehabilitation the death penalty domestic violence and war crimes Exploring the legal philosophical and theological grounds for mercy in our courts the discussion then moves to the practical ways in which mercy may be implemented Contributors Marc Mauer The Sentencing Project Lois Gehr Livezey McCormick Theological Seminary Ernie Lewis Public Advocate Commonwealth of Kentucky Jonathan Rothchild Loyola Marymount University Albert W Alschuler Northwestern University School of Law David Scheffer Northwestern University School of Law David Little Harvard Divinity School Matthew Myer Boulton Andover Newton Theological School Mark Lewis Taylor Princeton Theological Seminary Sarah Coakley Cambridge University William Schweiker University of Chicago Divinity School Kevin Jung College of William and Mary Peter J Paris Princeton Theological Seminary W Clark Gilpin

University of Chicago Divinity School William C Placher Wabash College Crime and Justice, Volume 41: Prosecutors and Politics Michael Tonry, 2013-12-16 Prosecutors are powerful figures in any criminal justice system They decide what crimes to prosecute whom to pursue what charges to file whether to plea bargain how aggressively to seek a conviction and what sentence to demand In the United States citizens can challenge decisions by police judges and corrections officials but courts keep their hands off the prosecutor Curiously in the United States and elsewhere very little research is available that examines this powerful public role And there is almost no work that critically compares how prosecutors function in different legal systems from state to state or across countries Prosecutors and Politics begins to fill that void Police courts and prisons are much the same in all developed countries but prosecutors differ radically The consequences of these differences are enormous the United States suffers from low levels of public confidence in the criminal justice system and high levels of incarceration in much of Western Europe people report high confidence and support moderate crime control policies in much of Eastern Europe people's perceptions of the law are marked by cynicism and despair Prosecutors and Politics unpacks these national differences and provides insight into this key area of social control Since 1979 the Crime and Justice series has presented a review of the latest international research providing expertise to enhance the work of sociologists psychologists criminal lawyers justice scholars and political scientists The series explores a full range of issues concerning crime its causes and its cure Command and Persuade Peter Baldwin, 2021-10-05 Why when we have been largely socialized into good behavior are there more laws that govern our behavior than ever before Levels of violent crime have been in a steady decline for centuries for millennia even Over the past five hundred years homicide rates have decreased a hundred fold We live in a time that is more orderly and peaceful than ever before in human history Why then does fear of crime dominate modern politics Why when we have been largely socialized into good behavior are there more laws that govern our behavior than ever before In Command and Persuade Peter Baldwin examines the evolution of the state's role in crime and punishment over three thousand years Baldwin explains that the involvement of the state in law enforcement and crime prevention is relatively recent In ancient Greece those struck by lightning were assumed to have been punished by Zeus In the Hebrew Bible God was judge jury and prosecutor when Cain killed Abel As the state's power as lawgiver grew more laws governed behavior than ever before the sum total of prohibited behavior has grown continuously At the same time as family community and church exerted their influences we have become better behaved and more law abiding Even as the state stands as the socializer of last resort it also defines through law the terrain on which we are schooled into acceptable behavior The Ex Post Facto Clause Wayne A. Logan, 2022 The Ex Post Facto Clause one of the few civil liberty protections found in the body of the US Constitution reflects the Framers' acute concern over the tendency of legislatures to enact burdensome retroactive laws targeting unpopular individuals In The Ex Post Facto Clause Wayne A Logan provides the first book length examination of the history of the Clause and its potential for tempering the punitive impulses of modern American legislatures Drawing on

Framing Era history seminal Supreme Court decisions and the global embrace of the values underlying the Ex Post Facto Clause Logan provides a blueprint for how the Clause can play a reinvigorated and more robust role in guarding against the penal populism besetting modern American legislatures Institutionalizing Restorative Justice Ivo Aertsen, Tom Daems, Luc Robert, 2013-06-17 Exploring the key issues and debates surrounding the question of the incorporation and institutionalization of restorative justice this book builds bridges between those concerned with the practical and the more theoretical aspects of penal development Conviviality and Survival Sacha Darke, 2018-07-16 Brazilian authorities continuously fail to comply with international norms on minimal conditions of incarceration Brazil's prison population has risen ten fold since the country's return to democracy in the 1980s Its prisons typically operate at double official capacity and with 100 prisoners for each guard on duty At the same time however the average Brazilian prison is not as disorderly or its staff inmate relations so conflictual as our established theories on prison life might predict This monograph explores the means by which Brazilian prisons function in the absence of guards More specifically the means by which prison security and inmate discipline is negotiated between prison managers gangs and the wider inmate body While fragile and varied this historical tradition of co produced governance has for decades kept most prisons in better order and enabled most prisoners to better survive Sentencing and Society Cyrus Tata, Neil Hutton, 2017-03-02 Combining the latest work of leading sentencing and punishment scholars from twelve different countries this major new international volume answers key questions in the study of sentencing and society It presents not only a rigorous examination of the latest legal and empirical research from around the world but also reveals the workings of sentencing within society and as a social practice Traditionally work in the field of sentencing has been dominated by legal and philosophical approaches Distinctively this volume provides a more sociological approach to sentencing so allowing previously unanswered questions to be addressed and new questions to be opened This extensive collection is drawn from around one third of the papers presented at the First International Conference on Sentencing and Society Almost without exception the chapters have been revised cross referenced and updated The overall themes and findings of the international volume are set out by the opening Introduction and the closing Reflections chapters Research findings on particular penal policy questions are balanced with an analysis of fundamental conceptual issues making this international volume essential reading for sentencing and punishment scholars criminal justice policy makers and graduate students Deaths in Custody, Third Report of Session Great Britain. Parliament. Joint Committee on Human Rights, 2004 The Committee's report examines the causes of deaths in custody and considers what may be done to prevent these deaths and better protect the right to life and other human rights of vulnerable people held in the custody of the state Issues discussed include human rights standards applicable under the European Convention on Human Rights the scale of the problem and concerns relating to the wider penal system in which these deaths occur including the issue of overcrowding in prisons and sentencing practice risk assessment and management including reception in police custody immigration detention and the provision of physical and mental healthcare in detention the use of physical restraint and seclusion staffing and training issues investigations into deaths in custody and inquiries Recommendations include the establishment of a cross departmental expert task force on deaths in custody to monitor the topic review good practice standards publish information and to make recommendations to Government Overcrowded Times ,1997
