comprehensive overview of the work of important British poet Lee Harwood from his earliest writing as a follower of French Surrealism and New York poetry when he was a leading light of the Underground poetry of the 1960s through to his long work The Long Black Veil and his major work since. It examines his work in terms of influence, poetics, gender, sexuality, eco-politics as well as evidence of the spatial turn in contemporary culture. It also assesses his work in prose. The writers are drawn from a wide range of literary backgrounds and approaches but the editor draws these together in his introduction which is followed by his own account of the story of Harwood's development as well as the text of an unpublished interview with him. The book contains a useful bibliography of Harwood's work. More generally it demonstrates how various schools of criticism may be used to illumine a single topic and how these may be compared. The writers include some of the major critics of British alternative poetry as well as some newcomers who offer a fresh view of this much loved work. John Ashbery
