Penguin Of New Zealand Verse:

The Penguin Book of New Zealand Verse Harvey McQueen, Ian Wedde, 1985 Reading Pakeha? Christina Stachurski, 2009 Aotearoa New Zealand a tiny Pacific country is of great interest to those engaged in postcolonial and literary studies throughout the world In all former colonies myths of national identity are vested with various interests Shifts in collective Pakeha or New Zealand European identity have been marked by the phenomenal popularity of three novels each at a time of massive social change Late colonialism anti imperialism and the collapse of the idea of a singular nation can be traced through the reception of John Mulgan's Man Alone 1939 Keri Hulme's The Bone People 1983 and Alan Duff's Once Were Warriors 1990 Yet close analysis of these three novels also reveals marginalization and silencing in claims to singular Pakeha identity and a linear development of settler acculturation Such a dynamic resonates with that of other settler cultures the similarities and differences telling in comparison Specifically Reading Pakeha: Fiction and Identity in Aotearoa New Zealand explores how concepts of race and ethnicity intersect with those of gender sex and sexuality This book also asks whether Pakeha is still a meaningful term The Oxford Companion to Modern Poetry in English Jeremy Noel-Tod, Ian Hamilton, 2013-05-23 This impressive volume provides over 1 700 biographical entries on poets writing in English from 1910 to the present day including T S Eliot Dylan Thomas and Carol Ann Duffy Authoritative and accessible it is a must have for students of English and creative writing as well as for anyone with an interest in poetry Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson, L.W. Conolly, 2004-11-30 Documents the history and development of Post colonial literatures in English together with English and American literature and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide Ngoingoi Pēwhairangi Tania M. Ka'ai, 2019-03-31 Ngoingoi P whairangi was a highly respected leader from Te Whānau a Ruatāupare at Tokomaru Bay who was passionate about the revitalisation and flourishing of the Māori world She actively introduced initiatives in education language and the arts and was a Māori leader of note receiving a QSM for her services to Māori She is also widely remembered for her beautiful song compositions which are performed today This biography describes her considerable achievements across many areas her work for others her humility and perseverance and it brings her to life through stories from her peers former students and family Towards a Transcultural Future: Literature and Human Rights in a 'Post'-Colonial World, 2021-10-18 Studying postcolonial literatures in English can and indeed should make a human rights activist of the reader there is after all any amount of evidence to show the injustices and inhumanity thrown up by processes of decolonization and the struggle with past legacies and present corruptions Yet the human rights aspect of postcolonial literary studies has been somewhat marginalized by scholars preoccupied with more fashionable questions of theory The present collection seeks to redress this neglect whereby the definition of human rights adopted is intentionally broad The volume reflects the human rights situation in many countries from Mauritius to New Zealand from the Cameroon to Canada It includes a focus on the Malawian writer Jack Mapanje The contributors concerns embrace topics as varied as denotified tribes in India female genital mutilation in Africa native residential schools in Canada political violence in Northern Ireland the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the discourse of the Treaty of Waitangi The editors hope that the very variety of responses to the invitation to reflect on questions of Literature and Human Rights will both stimulate further discussion and prompt action Contributors are Edward O Ako Hilarious N Ambe Ken Arvidson Jogamaya Bayer Maggie Ann Bowers Chandra Chatterjee Lindsey Collen G N Devy James Gibbs J U Jacobs Karen King Aribisala Sindiwe Magona Lee Maracle Stuart Marlow Don Mattera Wumi Raji Lesego Rampolokeng Dieter Riemenschneider Ahmed Saleh Jamie S Scott Mark Shackleton Johannes A Smit Peter O Stummer Robert Sullivan Rajiva Wijesinha Chantal Zabus

The Spirit of Colin McCahon Zoe Alderton, 2015-02-27 The Spirit of Colin McCahon provides a vivid historical contextualisation of New Zealand's premier modern artist clearly explaining his esoteric religious themes and symbols Via a framework of visual rhetoric this book explores the social factors that formed McCahon's religious and environmental beliefs and justifications as to why his audience often missed the intended point of spiritual his discourse or chose to ignore it The Spirit of Colin McCahon tracks the intricate process by which the artist's body of work turned from optimism to misery and explains the many communicative techniques he employed in order to arrest suspicion towards his Christian prophecy More broadly The Spirit of Colin McCahon outlines a model of analysis for the intersection of art and religion and the place of images as rhetorical devices within Antipodean culture The emerging field of religion and visual culture is important not only to students of New Zealand art history but also to a growing field of appreciation for the communicative power of images This book provides a helpful model for examining art and literature as social and religious tools and advances the importance of visual rhetoric within studies of art and social expression

Bloomsbury South Peter Simpson, 2016-07-18 Why was it then that out of the hundreds of towns and universities in the English speaking lands scattered over the seven seas only one should at that time act as a focus of creative literature of more than local significance that it should be in Christchurch New Zealand that a group of young writers had appeared who were eager to assimilate the pioneer developments in style and technique that were being made in England and America since the beginning of the century and to give their country a new conscience and spiritual perspective John Lehmann For two decades in Christchurch New Zealand a cast of extraordinary men and women remade the arts Various between 1933 and 1953 Christchurch was the home of Angus and Bensemann and McCahon Curnow and Glover and Baxter the Group the Caxton Press and the Little Theatre Landfall and Tomorrow Ngaio Marsh and Douglas Lilburn It was a city in which painters lived with writers writers promoted musicians in which the arts and artists from different forms were deeply intertwined And it was a city where artists developed a powerful synthesis of European modernist influences and an assertive New Zealand nationalism that gave mid century New Zealand cultural life its particular shape In this book Simpson tells the remarkable story of the rise and fall of this Bloomsbury South and the arts and artists that made it Simpson brings to life the individual talents and their passions but he also takes us inside the scenes that they created together Bethell and her visiting coterie of younger poets Glover and Bensemann s exacting typography at the Caxton Press the yearly exhibitions and aesthetic clashes of the Group McCahon and Baxter s developing friendship the effects of Brasch s patronage Marsh s Shakespearian re creations at the Little Theatre Simpson recreates a Christchurch we have lost where a group of artists collaborated to create a distinctively New Zealand art which spoke to the condition of their country as it emerged into the modern era

Indigenous Literature of Oceania Nicholas J. Goetzfridt, 1995-02-28 Oceania has a rich and growing literary tradition The imaginative literature that emerged in the 1960s often reflected the forms and structures of European literature though the ideas expressed were typically anticolonial After three decades the literature of Oceania has become much more complex in terms of style as well as content and authors write in a multiplicity of styles and voices While the written literature of Oceania is continuously gaining more critical attention questions about the imposition of European literary standards and values as a further extension of colonialism in the Pacific have become a central issue This book is a detailed survey of the expanding amount of critical and interpretive material written about the imaginative literature of authors from Oceania It focuses on commentary and scholarship concerned with the poetry fiction and drama written in English by indigenous peoples of the Pacific Islands New Zealand and Australia The criticisms have appeared in academic books and journals since the mid 1960s They have developed to the point at which critical issues related to decolonization and the expression of ideas without having to first satisfy foreign expectations often determine the direction of such discussions Entries are grouped in topical chapters and each entry includes an extensive annotation An introductory essay summarizes the evolution of Pacific literature Look Back Harder Allen Curnow, 2013-10-01 The collected critical writings of one of New Zealand's major poets and critics covering half a century of his work Of the thirty eight items reviews essays lectures interviews and letters included his controversial introductions to his anthologies of New Zealand verse are the best known There are also incisive essays on Curnow's New Zealand contemporaries and on writers from further afield such as Olson and Thomas For students of English literature particularly of New Zealand

Missions of Interdependence, 2021-11-01 At the beginning of the twenty first century it is necessary to combine into a productive programme the striving for individual emancipation and the social practice of humanism in order to help the world survive both the ancient pitfalls of particularist terrorism and the levelling tendencies of cultural indifference engendered by the renewed imperialist arrogance of hegemonial global capital In this book thirty five scholars address and negotiate in a spirit of learning and understanding an exemplary variety of intercultural splits and fissures that have opened up in the English speaking world Their methodology can be seen to constitute a seminal field of intellectual signposts They point out ways and means of responsibly assessing colonial predicaments and postcolonial developments in six regions shaped in the past by the British Empire and still associated today through their allegiance to the idea of a Commonwealth of Nations They show how a new ethic of literary self assertion interpretative mediation and critical responsiveness can remove the deeply ingrained prejudices silences and taboos established by discrimination against race class and gender

Striding Both Worlds Melissa Kennedy, 2011-01-01 Striding Both Worlds illuminates European influences in the fiction of Witi Ihimaera Aotearoa New Zealand's foremost M ori writer in order to question the common interpretation of M ori writing as displaying a distinctive M ori world view and literary style Far from being discrete endogenous units all cultures and literatures arise out of constant interaction engagement and even friction Thus M ori culture since the 1970s has been shaped by a long history of interaction with colonial British Pakeha and other postcolonial and indigenous cultures M ori sovereignty and renaissance movements have harnessed the structures of European modernity nation building and more recently Western global capitalism transculturation and diaspora contexts which contest New Zealand bicultural identity encouraging M ori to express their difference and self sufficiency Ihimaera's fiction has been largely viewed as embodying the specific values of M ori renaissance and biculturalism However Ihimaera in his techniques modes and themes is indebted to a wider range of literary influences than national literary critique accounts for In taking an international literary perspective this book draws critical attention to little known or disregarded aspects such as Ihimaera's love of opera the extravagance of his baroque lyricism his exploration of fantasy and his increasing interest in taking M ori into the global arena In revealing a broad range of cultural and aesthetic influences and inter references commonly seen as irrelevant to contemporary M ori literature Striding Both Worlds argues for a hitherto frequently overlooked and undervalued depth and complexity to Ihimaera's imaginary The present study argues that an emphasis on difference tends to lose sight of fiction's capacity to appreciate originality and individuality in the polyphony of its very form and function In effect literary negotiation of M ori sovereign space takes place in its forms rather than in its content the uniqueness of M ori literature is found in the way it uses the common tools of literary fiction including language imagery the text's relationship to reality and the function of characterization By interpreting aspects of Ihimaera's oeuvre for what they share with other literatures in English Striding Both Worlds aims to present an additional complementary approach to M ori New Zealand and postcolonial literary analysis
