Penguin Of Contemporary New Zealand Short Stories:

The Penguin New Zealand Anthology, 2023-10-03 To celebrate 50 years of publishing in Aotearoa New Zealand this anthology brings together 50 enthralling stories from some of the country's finest writers From established authors to new emerging names these stories track the changing styles voices and preoccupations explored through the short story over the past five decades Read and celebrate Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson, L.W. Conolly, 2004-11-30 Documents the history and development of Post colonial literatures in English together with English and American literature and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide Beyond Borders Paloma Fresno-Calleja, Janet M. Wilson, 2022-09-29 This book examines the global local intersections and tensions at play in the literary production from Aotearoa New Zealand through its engagement in the global marketplace Combining postcolonial and world literature methodologies contributors chart the global relocation of national culture from the nineteenth century to the present exploring what New Zealand literature means in different creative teaching and publishing contexts They identify ongoing global entanglements with local identities and tensions between national and post national literary discourses considering Aotearoa New Zealand's history as a white settler colony and its status as a bicultural nation and a key player in the Asia Pacific region active on the global stage Topics and authors include Stefanie Herades on colonial New Zealand literature and the global marketplace Claudia Marquis on David Hare's Aotearoa series as exotic reading for adolescents Paloma Fresno Calleja on the exoticizing landscape novels of Sarah Lark James Wenley on Indian Ink Theatre company as hybrid export Janet M Wilson on the globalization of the New Zealand short story Chris Prentice on pedagogic articulations of New Zealand literature Leonie John on the challenges of teaching M ori literature in Germany Dieter Riemenschneider on New Zealand literature at the Frankfurt Book Fair Paula Morris on Commonwealth writers and the Booker Prize Selina Tusitala Marsh on contemporary Pasifika poetry and Chris Miller on the afterlife of Allen Curnow The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Postcolonial Writing Telling Stories, 2021-11-15 The present volume is a highly comprehensive assessment of the postcolonial short story since the thirty six contributions cover most geographical areas concerned Another important feature is that it deals not only with exclusive practitioners of the genre Mansfield Munro but also with well known novelists Achebe Armah Atwood Carey Rushdie so that stimulating comparisons are suggested between shorter and longer works by the same authors In addition the volume is of interest for the study of aspects of orality dialect dance rhythms circularity and trickster figure for instance and of the more or less conflictual relationships between the individual character or implied author and the community Furthermore the marginalized status of women emerges as another major theme both as regards the past for white women settlers or the present for urbanized characters primarily in

Africa and India The reader will also have the rare pleasure of discovering Janice Kulik Keefer's Fox her version of what she calls in her commentary displaced autobiography or creative non fiction Lastly an extensive bibliography on the postcolonial short story opens up further possibilities for research The Picador Book of Contemporary New Zealand Fiction Fergus Barrowman, 1996 This anthology represents New Zealand fiction published from 1979 to the end of 1994 P vii

Indigenous Literature of Oceania Nicholas J. Goetzfridt, 1995-02-28 Oceania has a rich and growing literary tradition The imaginative literature that emerged in the 1960s often reflected the forms and structures of European literature though the ideas expressed were typically anticolonial After three decades the literature of Oceania has become much more complex in terms of style as well as content and authors write in a multiplicity of styles and voices While the written literature of Oceania is continuously gaining more critical attention questions about the imposition of European literary standards and values as a further extension of colonialism in the Pacific have become a central issue This book is a detailed survey of the expanding amount of critical and interpretive material written about the imaginative literature of authors from Oceania It focuses on commentary and scholarship concerned with the poetry fiction and drama written in English by indigenous peoples of the Pacific Islands New Zealand and Australia The criticisms have appeared in academic books and journals since the mid 1960s They have developed to the point at which critical issues related to decolonization and the expression of ideas without having to first satisfy foreign expectations often determine the direction of such discussions Entries are grouped in topical chapters and each entry includes an extensive annotation An introductory essay summarizes the evolution of Pacific literature Leaving the Highway Mark Williams, 2013-10-01 The major New Zealand novelists of the 1980s have begun to receive international acclaim This first critical study of Janet Frame Keri Hulme Witi Ihimaera Maurice Gee Ian Wedde and C K Stead concentrates on their important works to explore how deeply rooted anxieties about New Zealand's cultural situation and national identity are articulated in New Zealand fiction Encyclopedia of Urban Legends Jan Harold Brunvand, 2012-07-16 This revised edition of the original reference standard for urban legends provides an updated anthology of common myths and stories and presents expanded coverage of international legends and tales shared and popularized online From roasted babies to vanishing hitchhikers to housewives in football helmets this exhaustive and highly readable encyclopedia provides descriptions of hundreds of individual legends and their variations examines legend themes and explains scholarly approaches to the genre Revised and expanded to include updated versions of the entries from the award winning first edition this work provides additional entries on a wide range of new topics that include terrorism recent political events and Hurricane Katrina Entries in Encyclopedia of Urban Legends Updated and Expanded Edition discuss the presence of urban legends in comic books literature film music and many other areas of popular culture as well as the existence of too good to be true stories in Argentina China Italy Japan Mexico and several other countries Serving as both an anthology of stories as well as a reference work this encyclopedia will serve as a valuable resource for students and a source
