The Pennine Way - the Path, the People, the Journey

Andrew McCloy, 2016-07-31 This book presents a portrait of the Pennine Way Britain's oldest and best known long distance footpath tracing its remarkable history through the experiences of walkers past and present As Andrew McCloy walks the 268 mile route from the Derbyshire Peak District to the Scottish borders he discovers how the Pennine Way set a benchmark for personal challenge and adventure and how reconnecting with wild places and the unhurried rhythm of the long walk continue to provide a much needed antidote to our busy modern age The resilience of the long distance walker is mirrored in the path's fascinating history the initial struggle for access battles to tame the bogs later challenges of path erosion and the fluctuating circumstances of the rural hostel Above all else however this is a book about Pennine Way people from crusading rambblers to resourceful B B landladies hard working rangers to fanatical trail walkers Their conversations and memories are woven into the narrative to give an account of the changing fortunes of the path and its special significance Personal thoughtful and often humorous The Pennine Way the Path the People the Journey is an exploration of our desire for challenge and adventure the stimulation of wild places and how a long journey on foot through our own country still resonates today It will appeal to people who have walked or are preparing to walk the Pennine Way as well as to those with an interest in the history and legacy of this iconic path

Home Ground Andrew Stachulski, 2012-08-08 The essence of Home Ground is a collection of twenty walks ranging from about five to fifteen miles in length situated in the North West of England The criterion for selection is that each walk must be situated in whole or in part on Ordnance Survey 1:50,000 Landranger map no 103 Blackburn and Burnley This was the map used by the author when he first began to explore the area almost fifty years ago and these long personal associations heightened by a long absence from the area make this truly his home ground Within this relatively small area there is a rich variety of beautiful scenery largely unsung all lying within some twenty miles of industrial East Lancashire From the suburbs of Blackburn to the fringe of the Yorkshire Dales from the sweeping fells of the Forest of Bowland to the wooded valleys and heights of Calderdale these walks have something to offer to walkers of practically all tastes Both the Forest of Bowland and the Pennine Way feature strongly on the map and in the book and extra sections discuss these features Especially the Forest of Bowland recognized as an area of outstanding national beauty but not a national park is introduced in some detail as its charm and many opportunities for the walker and day visitor are still little known The Pennine Way which features in three of the walks is mentioned more autobiographically as the author recalls his own experience of the Way and its wider relationship to Northern England About the Author Andrew Stachulski was born in Blackburn in 1950 the son of a Polish father and English mother and grew up in nearby Great Harwood He was educated at Accrington Grammar School from 1961 to 1968 when he gained entrance to read Natural Sciences at Fitzwilliam College

Cambridge He graduated with firstclass honours in 1971 and after winning a senior scholarship he remained at the college to study for a Ph D under the supervision of Professor Alan now Sir Alan Battersby Following the completion of his doctorate in 1974 he held postdoctoral fellowships with the Medical Research Council and at Jesus College Oxford until 1978 There followed a long period of employment in the chemical industry first with Beecham Pharmaceuticals later SmithKline Beecham and then Ultrafine Chemicals Manchester In 2001 he fulfilled a longheld ambition by returning to academic life at the University of Liverpool becoming a senior lecturer in 2003 Recently Jan 2010 he moved to take up a senior research fellowship at the University of Oxford Walking has always been a great love of his life beginning in the Ribble Valley and Pendle country of his native Lancashire In the mid 1970s he completed a number of Britain s longdistance footpaths the Pennine Way Offa s Dyke Path and Coast to Coast walk accompanied by college friends Subsequently he climbed all the principal fells of the Lake District where he often returns and from 1981 again with a college friend he began to climb in the Scottish Highlands In 2003 he completed the circuit of all the Munros the separate Scottish mountains of 3 000 ft or greater height His first walks were planned with the aid of the old one inch to one mile Ordnance Survey map of Blackburn and Burnley and that is truly his home ground It was particularly following his return to the North in 1991 then living in Greater Manchester that this book came to be planned Old walks familiar from childhood in the Ribble and Hodder valleys Pendle country South Pennines and the Forest of Bowland were revisited and built on and many new ones were added From these the twenty walks featured in this book have been selected walks which appeal personally to the author through their beauty or special associations or which in his view speak most clearly of the characteristics of the area Walking the Bones of Britain Christopher Somerville,2023-08-24 Somerville s infectious enthusiasm and wry humour infuse his journey from the Isle of Lewis to southern England revealing our rich geological history with vibrant local and natural history Observer A meticulous exploration of the ground beneath our feet Glorious Katharine Norbury A remarkable achievement Tom Chesshyre His writing is utterly enticing Country Walking The influence Britain s geology has had on our daily lives is profound While we may be unaware of it every aspect of our history has been affected by events that happened ten thousand a million or a thousand million years ago In Walking the Bones of Britain Christopher Somerville takes a journey of a thousand miles beginning in the far north at the three billion year old rocks of the Isle of Lewis formed when the world was still molten and travelling south eastwards to the furthest corner of Essex where new land is being formed Crossing bogs scaling peaks and skirting quarry pits he unearths the stories bound up in the layers of rock beneath our feet and examines how they have influenced everything from how we farm to how we build our houses from the Industrial Revolution to the current climate crisis Told with characteristic humour and insight this gripping exploration of the British landscape and its remarkable history cannot fail to change the way you see the world beyond your door Somerville is a walker s writer Nicholas Crane Walking Home Simon Armitage,2013-03-25 Describes the author s travels as he walked the Pennine Way through
