Volume III of The Official History of Criminal Justice in England and Wales draws on archival sources and individual accounts to offer a history of penal policymaking in England and Wales between 1959 and 1997 The book studies the changes underlying penal policymaking in the period from a belief in the rehabilitative potential of imprisonment to a reaffirmation in 1993 that Prison Works as a deterrent to crime A need to curb the rising prison population initially focussed on developing alternatives to prison and a new system of parole however their relative ineffectiveness led to sentencing becoming the key to penal reform A slackening of faith in rehabilitation led to pressure for greater emphasis on humane containment and the rebalancing of security order and justice in prison regimes Thus 1991 was the climactic year for what became largely unfulfilled hopes for lasting penal reform Escapes riots and prison occupations were prime catalysts for changes often highly contentious in penal policymaking Notably there was no simple equation between political party minister and policy choice Both Labour and Conservative governments had distinctly liberal Home Secretaries and after 1992 both parties took a more punitive approach This book will be of much interest to students of criminology and British history politics and law Ideas on Institutions Kathleen Jones,A J Fowles,2023-07-21

First published in 1984 Ideas on Institution is a review of the major English language literature of the past two decades on the experience of living in institutions hospitals mental hospitals prisons The survey opens with a consideration of the writings of Erving Goffman Michael Foucault and Thomas Szasz They shattered the liberal consensus that the purpose of imprisonment was to reform Instead their work argued that the purpose of prisons and mental hospitals was social control and that prisons created criminals and mental facilities created mental illness Part II looks at four British studies Russell Barton s Institutional Neurosis which suggested the existence of a new disease entity Peter Townsend s The Last Refuge a study of old people in residential care The Morrissey Pentonville a study of a London prison which became a classic in criminology and Sans Everything a symposium which paved the way for a series of official hospital enquiries in the 1970s Part III examines David Rothman s two historical studies on how and why the U S constructed institutions and how and why reform movements failed N N Kittrie s The Right to be Different a wide ranging attack on the compulsory treatment of a variety of deviants including the mentally ill juvenile delinquents and drug abusers Cohen and Taylor s Psychological survival a disturbing analysis of the lives of long term prisoners in a maximum security wing Zimbardo s Stanford Prison Experiment on the malignant effects of prison conditions on the personalities of both prisoners and their guards and King and Elliott s study of Albany Prison showing how a promising therapeutic experiment

Matthews,1999-07-09 This book is designed to acquaint students with some of the main issues associated with the emergence and development of the modern prison It draws on a range of sociological theorising in order to analyse the organisation and the functioning of the prison It examines the conditions for the expansion of the prison and explores the possibilities for limiting prison use through the development of alternatives to custody In particular it looks in some detail at the relation between imprisonment and class age gender and race Punishment and Madness Toby Seddon,2007-03-12 The author looks at the government of prisoners with mental health problems in England and Wales over the last 20 years The wider context and backdrop to the book is the shift to late modernity which since the 1970s has seen massive structural change in most Western societies The Social Impact of Custody on Young People in the Criminal Justice System Claire Paterson-Young,Richard Hazenberg,Meanu Bajwa-Patel,2019-07-10 This book explores the journey of young people through a Secure Training Centre and more generally the criminal justice system in the UK It examines the extent to which young people have been failed by the system at every stage of their lives with incarceration used as a means of removing the problem from society To explore this process the authors utilise an integrated theoretical framework to develop a new rehabilitative approach focused on developing positive outcomes for young people The book deploys a social impact measurement methodology to evaluate the experience and outcomes of youth justice interventions at a Secure Training Centre Such an approach provides a fresh perspective on the youth justice debate which has traditionally utilised outcome data to measure immediate impact relating to recidivism and is therefore not focused on the young person holistically Using a social impact framework to evaluate youth justice underpinned by an integrated theoretical framework allows for assessment to be made which place the young person at the centre of evaluation

New Perspectives on Prison Masculinities Matthew Maycock, Kate Hunt, 2018-02-21 This edited collection utilises recent advances in theories on masculinities to explore and analyse the ways in which prisons shape performances of gender both within prison settings and following release from prison The authors assess here how the highly gendered world of the prison where the population is overwhelmingly male in most countries impacts upon the performance of masculinities Including original pieces from England Australia Scotland and the USA as well as contributions which take a broader methodological and conceptual approach to masculinity this engaging and original collection holds international appeal and relevance Cumulatively the chapters illustrate the importance of considering a nuanced understanding of masculinity within prison research and as such will be of particular interest for scholars of penology gender studies and the criminal justice system

Surviving the Prison Place Diana Medlicott, 2024-07-01 Suicide in prison is a growing problem across the developed world Originally published in 2001 this book sets out to enlarge understanding of the complexities of suicidal feelings and of the part played by some inalienable features of prison life It does this by presenting and analysing prisoners accounts of their most intimate responses to the deprivations of prison in particular the stringent control and management of their personal time and space These accounts show in more graphic form than previous literature the depth of suffering as well as the range of creative responses produced in prisoners through interaction with the prison environment Prisoners themselves have enormous need for more humane and interactive management of the problem and their accounts show clearly how prisoner expertise could be utilised in profoundly significant ways This book will be of interest to all who research live or work in prison as well as to students and practitioners in criminology penology criminal justice sociology psychology psychiatry and health
