People Of The Alas Valley A Study Of An Ethnic Group Of Northern Sumatra:

The People of the Alas Valley Akifumi Iwabuchi, 1994 Until now there has been virtually no research done on the Alas people of northern Sumatra Indonesia This first intensive ethnographic study of the Alas incorporates systematic field research to provide an accurate and detailed analysis of this population who first came into contact with the Western world in 1904 when the Dutch army occupied Alasland Akifumi Iwabuchi charts Alas social organization focusing on behavior rules and categories and gives a full account of Alas history village structure family composition descent systems relationship terminology and marriage rules Iwabuchi's study gives context and depth to Alas social forms by demonstrating past connections with surrounding peoples in particular the Karo Batak His book thus makes an important contribution to our knowledge of the migrations and assimilations which have led to the present distribution of cultures and social systems in northern Sumatra

Global Migrants, Local Lives : Travel and Transformation in Rural Bangladesh Katy Gardner, 1995-02-23 Long term migration is one of the most important factors in the formation of cultural identities in the modern world Immigrant communities are usually studied in the context of the country people have migrated to Katy Gardner however looks at the neglected sending side of the equation In the sending communities out migration has become a central economic and social resource the route to social as well as physical mobility transforming those who gain access to it Dr Gardner examines the cultural context and effects of the long term migration from Bangladesh to Britain and the Middle East drawing on her fieldwork in the Sylhet district an area of exceptional migration Major aspects of Bangladeshi life such as land family structure marriage and religion all of which have been affected by the heavy out migration are covered in detail and the transformation of the social structure is mapped In focusing on local ideology this book shows how local cultural meanings are constantly negotiated and contested by different groups in the context of rapid economic change At the heart of this important contribution to the anthropology of migration is a presentation of the dynamic nature of migration and the concomitant possibility of self transformation it holds for migrant cultures

Sea Hunters of Indonesia Robert Harrison Barnes, 1996 Sea Hunters of Indonesia is a comprehensive study of the coastal community of Lamalera whose traditional ways of life make it unique One is an unusual kind of sea fishing the hunting of whales porpoises and giant manta rays The other is the production by the women of the community of remarkable fine dyed textiles Recently these traditions have come under intense pressure from external economic influences and the people of Lamalera are starting to move into modern occupations The community famous for the beauty of its setting as well as for its crafts is now a major tourist attraction and it may now survive only as part of the tourist industry At this crucial point in the history of the region R H Barnes offers a richly detailed and beautifully illustrated picture of the culture and economy of Lamalera the fruit of many years study He records all aspects of life in Lamalera and places it in the broader context of the past present and future of Indonesia as a whole

comprehensive introduction to the social and cultural anthropology of South East Asia It provides an overview of the major theoretical issues and themes which have emerged from the engagement of anthropologists with South East Asian communities a succinct historical survey and analysis of the peoples and cultures of the region Most importantly the volume reveals the vitally important role which the study of the area has occupied in the development of the concepts and methods of anthropology from the perspectives of Edmund Leach to Clifford Geertz Maurice Freedman to Claude Levi Strauss Lauriston Sharp to Melford Spiro IBSS: Anthropology: 1995, 1996 This bibliography lists the most important works published in anthropology in 1995 Renowned for its international coverage and rigorous selection procedures IBSS provides researchers and librarians with the most comprehensive and scholarly bibliographic service available in the social sciences IBSS is compiled by the British Library of Political and Economic Science at the London School of Economics one of the world's leading social science institutions Published annually IBSS is available in four subject areas anthropology economics political science and sociology Musical Journeys in Sumatra Margaret Kartomi, 2012-06-15 Featuring unique photographs and original drawings from Kartomi's field observations of instruments and performances Musical Journeys in Sumatra provides a comprehensive musical introduction to this neglected very large island with its hundreds of ethno linguistic musical groups Kartomi is a professor of music at Monash University in Australia Indonesian Houses R. Schefold, Peter J.M. Nas, 2008-01-01 This collection aims to attract attention to the admirable achievements of indigenous builders in Indonesia and to contribute to a broader sense of commitment to the endangered architectural heritage in the region It presents the second part of the results of a research project on vernacular architecture in western Indonesia sponsored by the Royal Netherlands Academy of Sciences The volume is intended to provide an introduction to all relevant vernacular architectural traditions and developments in western Indonesia The 21 contributions all written by researchers with long first hand experience in the area they are dealing with are arranged according to the location of the ethnic groups from west to east from Aceh to Western Java Each contributor was asked to enrich the architectural description with a self chosen particular topic illustrating social ideological and environmental peculiarities of the field situation The book takes account of the rich diversity of the various contexts and artistic elaborations that developed in the region The first collection of essays Indonesian houses Volume 1 Tradition and transformation in vernacular architecture was published as nr 207 of the Verhandelingen van het Koninklijk Instituut voor Taal Land en Volkenkunde Leiden 2003 It focussed on case studies demonstrating how a common architectural heritage has been affected by historical changes giving shape to a multiplicity of local developments and adaptations both in their material aspects and in their functions as objects of social value and meaning Religion and Architecture in Premodern Indonesia G. Domenig, 2014-04-03 In his richly illustrated Religion and Architecture in Premodern Indonesia Gaudenz Domenig investigates the nature of Indonesian ethnic religions by focusing on land opening rituals sacred groves and architectural responses to the custom of presenting offerings Since deities and spirits were supposed to taste offerings on the spot it was a task of architecture to attract them and to guide them into houses where offerings were presented Domenig quotes numerous sources to show that certain material elements of the house were viewed as spirit attractors spirit ladders or spirit pathways Various exotic features of Indonesian vernacular architecture thus become understandable as relics from times when architecture was still responding to indigenous religions practised in the archipelago The Politics of Indonesia-Malaysia Relations Joseph Chinyong Liow,2005 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the relationship between Indonesia and Malaysia focusing especially on how the relationship has developed in the last fifty years It argues that the political relationship between the two countries has been largely defined by rivalry despite the fact that the processes of national self determination began by emphasising Indo Malay fraternity It shows how the two countries have different contested interpretations of Indo Malay history and how the continuing suspicion of Javanese hegemony which defined much of the history of the Indo Malay world is also a key factor in the relationship The

Pastoral Continuum Paul Spencer,1998-01-29 Paul Spencer presents the definitive study of the ways of life of the cattle herding peoples of East Africa drawing on many years of research This region has offered a prime example of a traditional culture resisting the inevitability of change it provides the best known and most extensive instance both of cattle pastoralist society and of social organization based primarily on age Pastoral peoples were once dominant in the East African interior but development of the market economy has progressively polarized the region and forced them into the most marginal drought ridden areas in this ecological trap they have become a peripheral underclass The Pastoral Continuum examines the richness and resilience of their cultures and illuminates the role of indigenous practices and institutions in adaptation and survival The pastoralists systems of age organization in particular are notable for their resilience it is demonstrated that these are bound up with problems of growth and succession in family enterprises and that marriage is a critical link in the web of alliance that governs the problematic relations between old and young Spencer s exploration of the development of the pastoralist phenomenon yields a unique view of its place in the modern world and its prospects for the future This landmark work by a leading authority will be of lasting value to any reader interested in traditional social systems of this kind
