Land Arts of the American West Chris Taylor, Bill Gilbert, 2009-04 A wide ranging exploration of human interactions with the land over thousands of years as well as a model for teaching art and design in the field Hope's Horizon Chip Ward, 2013-04-10 At a time of widespread environmental pessimism Hope's Horizon goes on an inspirational offensive In this entertaining and thought provoking book author Chip Ward tells of his travels among a new generation of activists who are moving beyond defensive environmental struggles and advocating pioneering proactive strategies for healing the land Chip

Ward's three year odyssey took him behind the scenes of efforts to reconnect fragmented habitats and rewild the North American continent the campaign to drain Lake Powell and restore Glen Canyon to its natural state and the struggle to keep nuclear waste off Western Shoshone ancestral lands and ultimately to abolish all nuclear power and weapons These movements and the practical visionaries leading them challenge readers with a new paradigm in which land is used in a spirit of collaboration with natural systems rather than domination of them Broad in its sweep Hope's Horizon uses its topical subjects as springboards for exploring how we can redefine our place in the world while restoring damaged habitats replenishing lost diversity and abandoning harmful technologies Lively literate and free of the grimness that characterizes so much environmental writing Hope's Horizon will change the way readers see the world It makes complicated concepts and issues accessible and wild ideas compelling And while the book's starting point is a hard nosed indictment of humanity's failed stewardship of the earth the stories that follow tell of catalytic optimism and ecological wisdom in the face of self destructive habit and blind pride

Justice and the Meritocratic State Thomas Mulligan, 2017-12-12 Like American politics the academic debate over justice is polarized with almost all theories of justice falling within one of two traditions egalitarianism and libertarianism This book provides an alternative to the partisan standoff by focusing not on equality or liberty but on the idea that we should give people the things that they deserve Mulligan sets forth a theory of economic justice meritocracy which rests upon a desert principle and is distinctive from existing work in two ways First meritocracy is grounded in empirical research on how human beings think intuitively about justice Research in social psychology and experimental economics reveals that people simply don't think that social goods should be distributed equally nor do they dismiss the idea of social justice Across ideological and cultural lines people believe that rewards should reflect merit Second the book discusses hot button political issues and makes concrete policy recommendations These issues include anti meritocratic bias against women and racial minorities and the United States widening economic inequality Justice and the Meritocratic State offers a new theory of justice and provides solutions to our most vexing social and economic problems It will be of keen interest to philosophers economists and political theorists
