Automation 4.0: Object-oriented Development Of Modular Machines For Digital Production Thomas Schmertosh, Markus Krabbes, Christian Zinke-wehlmann, 2025-02-25
The fourth industrial revolution places a number of additional demands on the design and automation of processing machines
Digitalization and automation are making products and their manufacturing processes not only more sophisticated but also more individual
Growing demands on availability logistics quality and extreme price sensitivity are not leaving the production environment unscathed
This book analyses the challenges and provides meaningful examples of solution scenarios for effective production in the age of Industry 4.0
Automation 4.0 shows readers how the requirements of Industry 4.0 may be projected onto known design principles
The resulting functions are illustrated using real life examples from industry to create a roadmap for drawing up a specification sheet for the design of a versatile processing machine
Numerous practical examples illustrate the modular function and object oriented design of individual machines and systems as a solution for increasing efficiency throughout their entire life cycle
To this end a procedure for the design of versatile machines based on object and function oriented modularization is presented and illustrated and elaborated step by step on the basis of the requirements
This book presents solution strategies that address the additional demands of modularization on the structure and component selection of automation systems flexibly sustainably and with minimal engineering effort
These include aspects of real time capability as well as machine safety and the selection of a suitable fieldbus human machine communication and the ability to interact in digital production
Finally the topics of AI supported quality assurance simulation and digital twins are also addressed and the current state of research on the interaction of Industry 4.0 components is conveyed
The book offers a comprehensive overview of the development of sustainable machines particularly in terms of cost effectiveness for very small batch sizes
It is not only for students of automation technology and mechatronics but also for industrial development and design engineers
