Emergency and Transitional Shelter Population, 2000 Annetta C. Smith, Denise I. Smith, 2001 Applied Multiregional Demography: Migration and Population Redistribution Andrei Rogers, 2015-09-04 This book shows the effectiveness of multiregional demography for studying the spatial dynamics of migration and population redistribution It examines important questions in demographic analysis and shows how the techniques of multiregional analysis can lead to answers that sometimes contradict conventional wisdom The book reconsiders conclusions reached in the literature regarding several fundamental common sense demographic questions in migration and population redistribution including Is it mostly migration or aging in place that has been driving Florida's elderly population growth Do the elderly return home after retirement more than the non elderly do Does longer life lead to longer ill health Do simple population projection models outperform complex ones For each demographic question it reconsiders the book begins with a simple empirical numerical example and with it illustrates how a uniregional specification can bias findings to favor a particular and possibly incorrect conclusion It then goes on to show how a multiregional analysis can better illuminate the dynamics that underlie the observed population totals and lead to a more informed conclusion Offering insights into the effectiveness of multiregional demography this book serves as a valuable resource for students and researchers searching for a better way to answer questions in demographic analysis and population dynamics Aboriginal Peoples and Forest Lands in Canada D.B. Tindall, Ronald Trosper, Pamela Perreault, 2013-02-11 Aboriginal people in Canada have long struggled to regain control over their traditional forest lands Aboriginal Peoples and Forest Lands in Canada brings together the diverse perspectives of Aboriginals and non Aboriginals to address the political cultural environmental and economic implications of forest use This book discusses the need for professionals working in forestry and conservation to understand the context of Aboriginal participation in resource management It also addresses the importance of researching traditional knowledge and traditional land use and examines the development of co management initiatives and joint ventures between government forestry companies and Aboriginal communities The Asian Population, 2000 Jessica S. Barnes, Claudette E. Bennett, 2002 This report part of a series that analyzes population and housing data collected from Census 2000 provides a portrait of the Asian population in the United States and discusses its distribution at both the national and subnational levels THE URBAN ELDERLY POPULATION: A Socio-Economic and Demographic Study in Upper Assam Anita Baruwa, 2024-06-06 About the Book No man is an island entire of itself every man is a piece of the continent a part of the main The same applies to the elderly persons However society tends to keep them aside from active life either due to genuine concern or out of prevailing norms and typify them into a distinct category What is needed is a perspective shift from viewing the elderly as a burden to acknowledging their contributions to society There is no denying the inevitability of an age quake Preparedness is half the

Dynamics in Ecology and Conservation Russell Lande,Steinar Engen,Bernt-Erik Sæther,2003 All populations fluctuate stochastically creating a risk of extinction that does not exist in deterministic models with fundamental consequences for both pure and applied ecology This book provides the most comprehensive introduction to stochastic population dynamics combining classical background material with a variety of modern approaches including new and previously unpublished results by the authors illustrated with examples from bird and mammal populations and insect communities Demographic and environmental stochasticity are introduced with statistical methods for estimating them from field data The long run growth rate of a population is explained and extended to include age structure with both deomgraphic and environmental stochasticity Diffusion approximations facilitate the analysis of extinction dynamics and the duration of the final decline Methods are developed for estimating delayed density dependence from population time series using life history data Metapopulation viability and the spatial scale of population fluctuations and extinction risk are analyzed Stochastic dynamics and statistical uncertainty in population parameters are incorporated in Population Viability Analysis and strategies for sustainable harvesting Statistics of species diversity measures and species abundance distributions are described with implications for rapid assessments of biodiversity and methods are developed for partitioning species diversity into additive components Analysis of the stochastic dynamics of a tropical butterfly community in space and time indicates that most of the variance in the species abundance distribution is due to ecological heterogeneity among species so that real communities are far from neutral Sustainable Development and Planning X G. Passerini,N. Marchettini,2018-12-17 This volume contains research from the 10th International Conference on Sustainable Development and Planning The papers included in this volume form a collection of research from academics policy makers practitioners and other stakeholders from across the globe who discuss the latest advances in the field Problems related to development and planning which affect rural and urban areas are present in all regions of the world Accelerated urbanisation has resulted in deterioration of the environment and loss of quality of life Urban development can also aggravate problems faced by rural areas such as forests mountain regions and coastal areas amongst many others Taking into consideration the interaction between different regions and developing new methodologies for monitoring planning and implementation of novel strategies can offer solutions for mitigating environmental pollution and non sustainable use of available resources Energy saving and eco friendly building approaches have become an important part of modern development which places special emphasis on resource optimisation Planning has a key role to play in ensuring that these solutions as well as new materials and processes are incorporated in the most efficient manner The application of new academic findings to planning and development strategies assessment tools and decision making processes are all covered in this book
