Best Books for Children, Preschool Through the Middle Grades, 1978 The Experiences of Ghanaian Live-in Caregivers in the United States Martha Donkor, 2017-11-15 Using the convergence of the impact of globalization and political turmoil in Ghana on Ghanaian women as a backdrop this book examines the migration of the women to the US and their decisions to care for upper middle class white seniors who elected to stay in their homes to be cared for by private caregivers The book explores the attraction of domestic care work the women's perceptions of their job their relationships with their clients and the dynamics of their relationships with their immediate families and families left behind in Ghana It also analyzes the women's interactions with the immigrant community from their remote work sites The book examines widely held beliefs about domestic work as undervalued under remunerated and relegated to marginalized immigrant women of color While admitting that these problems exist the women whose stories are told in the book did not believe that their brand of care work which they called private practice was undervalued or underpaid They also did not think that racism played a role in the concentration of immigrant women of color in domestic care work as widely believed although again the women admitted that there was racism in American society By doing so the women symbolically placed themselves beyond the institutional barriers that constrain the lives of women of color in American society And while it addresses common themes like exploitation abuse restriction of movement etc that other studies of immigrant live in caregiving address this book stands out in two major ways First is its truly transnational character It links the women's background in Ghana to their immigration history and how these two influenced their choice as well as perceptions of care work and then loops their experience of care work back to expectations in Ghana Second the book validates the women's voices as a product of their cultural background thus making the case that the women's choices and experiences were informed by conditions in the US and the cultural baggage the women brought with them The book argues that private care work satisfied women's financial expectations and with that leverage in their families America's Working Women Rosalyn Baxandall, Rosalyn Fraad Baxandall, Linda Gordon, Susan M. Reverby, 1995 Uses selections from diaries popular magazines historical works oral histories letters and fiction to trace the evolution of women's work in America Encouraging American Craftsmen Charles Counts, 1972

World in a Cold War context of American anxiety about communism spreading throughout Southeast Asia Way focuses in particular on the part played by the renowned American designer Russel Wright contracted by the US International Cooperation Administration's aid programs for South Vietnam to survey the craft industry in South Vietnam and manage its production distribution and consumption abroad and at home Way shows how Wright and his staff brought American ideas about Vietnamese history and culture to bear in managing the making of Vietnamese craft
