People Yearbook 2003:

Yearbook 2003 People People Books, Quest for World-Class Teacher Education? Jun Li, 2016-07-25 Utilizing a case study method and a Multiperspectival Approach this volume presents a pioneering in depth study about China's teacher education policy since the 1990s. It critically investigates the rational dynamic and complex implementation process taking place at the micro institutional level for the transformations of teacher education institutions. The book first introduces the sociopolitical and cultural background of China's teacher education system and its challenges under the condition of globalization and illustrates major national initiatives for nurturing highly qualified teachers. It then explores new teachers' identities in an era of enhanced professionalism, uncovers the ways they reflect China's teacher education reform, and distills the rationales behind these policy actions. This is followed by an analytic presentation of the findings of the case study of a provincial normal university with a particular focus on such core pieces of the implementation jigsaw as policy flow, the dynamism of implementation, sociopolitical and cultural confluence, and institutional barriers in the complex process. Lastly, the book unravels key recommendations and implications for policy implementation studies from the China policy case and constructs a Chinese Zhong Yong Model of policy implementation and sheds new light on policy studies of teacher education reform in particular and public policy in general, which may be transferable to other sociopolitical contexts seeking to nurture world class teachers and achieve educational excellence in a global age. China's Education Aid to Africa Wei

Ye, 2023-05-31 China's rise as an aid provider in Africa has caught global attention, with China's activity being viewed as the projection of soft power of a neo colonialist kind in an international relations context. This book, which focuses on China's education aid, government scholarships, training, Confucius Institutes, dispatched teachers, etc., reveals a much more complicated picture. It outlines how the divide between the Chinese Ministry of Commerce and the Ministry of Education hinders China's soft power projection, how much of China's aid is bound up with an education for economic growth outlook mirroring China's own recent experiences of economic development, and how China's aid prioritized to reflect the commercial sector's interests is out of step with most international development aid, which is dominated by education agendas and the campaigns of international organizations and traditional donors. This leaves China easily exposed to the charge of neo colonialism. This situation also reveals insufficient knowledge production of China and in South-South Cooperation. Substantial production of Southern knowledge should recognize the international development cooperation architecture as an open system by which both traditional donors and Southern countries transform. Early Childhood Education

Policies in Asia Pacific Hui Li, Eunhye Park, Jennifer J. Chen, 2016-09-28 This book evaluates recent early childhood education policies on the basis of a 3A2S framework, which refers to accessibility, affordability, accountability, sustainability, and social justice. It systematically and empirically reviews early childhood education policies in specific countries and areas in the Asia Pacific Region, such as Australia, Mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau, Taiwan, Korea, Japan, Singapore, Vietnam, New Zealand Pacific Islands and so on As the first English language collection of large scale reviews of early childhood education policies in Asia Pacific this book will be of great value to early childhood educators policymakers researchers and postgraduate students in the Region and beyond Monthly Labor Review ,2005 Publishes in depth articles on labor subjects current labor statistics information about current labor contracts and book reviews Health Policy and Disease in Colonial and Post-Colonial Hong Kong, 1841-2003 Ka-che Yip,Yuen Sang Leung,Man Kong Timothy Wong,2016-07-15 Besides looking at major outbreaks of diseases and how they were coped with diseases such as malaria smallpox tuberculosis plague venereal disease avian flu and SARS this book also examines how the successive government regimes in Hong Kong took action to prevent diseases and control potential threats to health It shows how policies impacted the various Chinese and non Chinese groups and how policies were often formulated as a result of negotiations between these different groups By considering developments over a long historical period the book contrasts the different approaches in the periods of colonial rule Japanese occupation post war reconstruction transition to decolonization and Hong Kong as Special Administrative Region within the People s Republic of China Building on a Common Foundation Brian R. Talbot,2021-04-12 In the second half of the nineteenth century Scottish Baptists like other Evangelical Protestant denominations were focusing more on things they had in common such as a commitment to home evangelization and church planting providing a common fund to assist small and struggling congregations the provision of theological education for the training of prospective pastors together with the need to disseminate information between the churches concerning their progress in the work of the gospel From the start of this Baptist Union in 1869 the numbers of churches and members grew steadily until 1935 It was a remarkable story of dedicated Christian service Scottish Baptists came through two world wars the social revolution of the 1960s and the materialistic emphases of the 1980s with a significant degree of success in adapting their evangelistic activities to relate to their social context There is little doubt that from the late 1980s the growing secularization in this country ensured that mission strategies adopted by these Scottish Christians were less successful than in previous decades However a revitalization of its work in the early years of the twenty first century has given renewed grounds for hope for its work and witness in the coming years Institutions in Transition Peter Ho,2005-07-21 China s urban sprawl has led to serious social cleavages Unclear land and property rights have resulted in an uneasy alliance between real estate companies and local authorities with most willing to strike illegal deals over land The results have been devastating Farmers live in fear that the land they till today will be gone tomorrow while urban citizens are regularly evicted from their homes to make way for new skyscrapers and highways These shocking incidents underscore the urgency of the land question in China The recent conviction of the Chinese Minister for Land Resources and the forced evictions that have led to the injury and death of ordinary Chinese citizens highlight the case for land reform Against this backdrop many scholars criticize China s lack of privatization and titling of property This monograph however demonstrates that these critically depend on timing and place

Land titling is imperative for the wealthier regions yet may prove detrimental in areas with high poverty The book argues that China's land reform can only succeed if the clarification of property rights is done with caution and ample regard for regional variations

Work Safety Regulation in China Jie Gao, 2022-03-31 Fatality quotas implemented in China's industrial sector and local governments are being used to promote work safety and therefore reducing the number of work related deaths Given the controversial nature of this policy Gao analyzes how the fatality quotas are functioning to aid the country in balancing economic growth and social stability The book also examines significant implications caused by this policy's implementation in the local regions and reveals how local officials attempt to handle these problems This is the first book to systematically examine the role of death indicators in work safety improvement in contemporary China revealing insight into Beijing's quota oriented approach to policy making

Dragons with Clay Feet Max Spoor, Nico Heerink, Futian Qu, 2007-01-01 Dragons with Clay Feet presents state of the art research on the impact of ongoing and anticipated economic policy and institutional reforms on agricultural development and sustainable rural resource in two East Asian transition and developing economies China and Vietnam The contributions to this volume focus on the regional and sectoral impact of transformational policies farm household decision making under a changing economic and institutional environment and potential trade offs between agricultural growth and sustainable land management in the two countries The analysis of household responses to economic policies and changing institution and their implications for agricultural production and sustainable resource use in East Asian transition economies is a relatively new research field This collection by a group of Chinese Vietnamese and international researchers reflect the rapid progress that is being made in this important research field

China: Minority Exclusion, Marginalization and Rising Tensions, 2007-04-17 China's rapid economic transformation has exposed the intrinsic and historical problems of the government's policies towards ethnic minorities The report focuses on three groups the Mongols of the Inner Mongolia Autonomous Region IMAR the Tibetans of the Tibet Autonomous Region TAR and the Uyghurs of the Xinjiang Uyghur Autonomous Region XUAR With areas minority groups inhabit under autonomous control within the People's Republic of China PRC outsiders might expect that such a governance system would allow these groups to be able to shape their own lives However ethnic minority individuals continue to be excluded from real political participation they have little say in the governance of their communities and minority women fare even worse than minority men The human rights situation remains serious for all those living within China's borders but ethnic minorities such as the Mongols Tibetans and Uyghurs face challenges on multiple fronts Despite the autonomy system minorities are bearing the disproportionate costs of development and are facing attacks on their cultural identities Their lands are being exploited for gas and oil and under the guise of the USA led war on terror increasingly militarized by the PRC government as part of its response against perceived insurgency threats Minority languages are largely being phased out of education in these autonomous regions and minority individuals are often blatantly discriminated against in the job market This report is part of MRG's conflict prevention campaign The PRC government is not fulfilling its obligations under international law and domestic law Its current methods of addressing the issues raised in this report will only heighten tensions and accumulate grievances rather than building a peaceful society

Women in Asian Management Vimolwan Yukongdi, John

Benson, 2013-10-18 According to a recent study by the ILO 2001 women's share of the labour force is increasing worldwide Today women's participation rate in the labour force is over 40 per cent of the global workforce Higher educational levels and falling fertility rates have contributed to this increased participation There is also some evidence that women in some Asian countries may be less marginalised in their advancement into top managerial positions than their counterparts elsewhere As women become more educated and qualified for managerial positions the number of Asian women managers and executives is predicted to rise over the next decade This book examines the opportunities and barriers for women managers in Asia and presents an update on their progress in management This book was previously published as a special issue of the Asian Pacific Business Review

The Chinese State's Retreat from Health Jane Duckett, 2012-08-21

Over the post Mao period the Chinese state has radically cut back its role in funding health services and insuring its citizens against the costs of ill health Using an analytical framework drawn from studies of state retrenchment in industrialized democracies and in post communist Eastern Europe Jane Duckett argues that the state's retreat from health in China was not a simple consequence of economic policies and market reform Just as important were the influences of health policies reform era political institutions communist party ideology and bureaucratic stakeholders Through her analysis Duckett maintains that by studying retrenchment in China the world's most populous nation and now a major global economic power we can better understand international transformations in the role of the state and the politics that shape that role The Chinese State's Retreat from Health both extends research on retrenchment politics to a major authoritarian state and contributes to piecing together understanding of the Chinese state's changing role across the economy and other social policies including housing and education It will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese politics social policy and the Chinese health care system as well as to those with a comparative interest in health welfare states and the politics of retrenchment Jane Duckett is Professor of Chinese and Comparative Politics at the University of Glasgow UK

World Hunger Series 2006 World Food Programme, 2006 This report planned to be released annually is about working through the real life choices and practical constraints that make it difficult to address hunger effectively It is aimed at policy makers in developing and developed countries and attempts to fill an important gap in existing reports on hunger While other reports monitor trends towards international goals or serve primarily as advocacy tools the World Hunger Series WHS focuses on practical strategies to achieve an end to hunger It examines themes related to three types of risks social and health markets and trade and political and environmental that perpetuate hunger and stymie development Each report in the new series will present state of the art thinking on that year's theme combined with an analysis of the practical challenges to implementing solutions Based on this context the reports will identify realistic steps to address hunger This edition of the report examines the relationship between hunger and learning It takes a long term perspective what happens at one stage of life affects later stages and what happens in one generation affects the next The Series has four parts Part one the Global Hunger Situation surveys the current state of hunger in the world Part two Hunger and Learning explores the two way relationship between hunger and learning through the life cycle Part three is an Agenda for Action identifying concrete interventions to promote hunger reduction and learning Finally part four a Resource Compendium contains technical annexes and supporting data

The Political Economy of the SARS Epidemic Grace Lee, Malcolm Warner, 2007-10-02 Pt 1 Background pt 2 Impact on East Asia pt 3 Broader implications for human resources The Turning Point in China's Economic Development Ross Garnaut, Ligang Song, 2006-08-01 Focuses on China's long term pattern of growth and employment demographic shifts and rural urban migration its agricultural trade and local elections China's banking sector reform and its fiscal sustainability its environmental concerns and much more Globalization and the Chinese City Fulong Wu, 2006-05-09 Introducing readers to the far reaching global orientation that is now taking place in urban China an international team of contributors describe overarching globalization through a detailed examination of the transformation of the built environment A range of urban development processes are analyzed including urbanization real estate development changing landscapes the industrial restructuring of the second tier city and the formation of the city region in the context of global and local interactions In examining city development and local practices as part of globalization processes the global city is treated as a collection of microcosms and concrete places overcoming the analytical tension of the dichotomy of the perceived East versus West divide
