Perceiving Time Thomas J. Cottle, 1976 Perceiving Time Thomas J. Cottle, Masculinities and the Adult Male Prison Experience Jennifer Anne Sloan, 2016-05-18 This book critically analyses how men in prison act out their masculine identities It considers how men negotiate their time in prison which can involve being placed into a feminine position relative to other men and particularly looks at the subversion of heteronormative gender positionings through bodies spaces time and relationships Vulnerability is also taken as a key consideration and men are shown to act out their masculinities for the benefit of an audience that matters to them However that audience is shown to be subject to change at any point in time Using extensive ethnographic data drawn from adult male prisoners the book adopts the viewpoint of the individual prisoner as a frame to consider masculinity It also advances ethnographic research in criminology by reflecting upon the identity of researchers in prisons particularly the female researcher's gendered identity in such environments It will be of great interest to scholars of penology gender and ethnography Engaging Paulo Freire's Pedagogy of Possibility César Augusto Rossatto, 2004-12-01 Engaging Paulo Freire's Pedagogy of Possibility is a cross cultural case study of how people experience schooling in relation to their sense of time and optimism C sar Augusto Rossatto examines how real life situations and social structures influence people s construction of notions of possibilities Positionality or perceptions about life and projections of the future has great impact on students success in school These perceptions how they interpret the past live in the present and foresee the future are in turn greatly influenced by their intellectual locality By the same token how educators see their position in the world and their classroom roles determines their operandum beliefs The findings of this study suggest that a curriculum based on Freirean critical pedagogy and time theories can be used to enhance time consciousness values in Proceedings of the 1993 World Marketing Congress M.
