transfer of wealth from the industrialized capitalist world to OPEC's members triggered by the Oil Embargo and the Oil Shock created a vast pool of liquid capital. Oil prices inflation as a result of Embargo and Shock also triggered a balance of payments crisis that created unprecedented global demand for credit. Processing this capital and mitigating the inflationary pressures which followed the 1973 Shock encouraged the development of more liquid internationally mobile instruments that made financialization possible and ushered in the effective privatization of money creation. This transformation of the creation of money, the rise of a new global debt cycle and petrocapital fuelled changes to financial practices laid the foundations of modern finance and the neoliberal world order as we know them. Law and policy in international business, 1987. The Journal of Commercial Bank Lending, 1986. Journal of the American Society of CLU & ChFC, 1997.
